GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

DEPARTMENT OF LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT AND PANCHAYATS

RESOLUTION

No. 4257/M.1M-44/57.—28th June 1957.—Attention of Government has been drawn to the situation that has arisen in regard to the administration of the Burdwan Municipality for some time past. The present Commissioners of the Municipality were elected in February 1955. In June 1956 the Chairman of the Municipality resigned. But the Commissioners failed to elect any Chairman within the period prescribed by section 45 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, and Government had to appoint one of the Commissioners as Chairman under section 46 of the said Act. But due to acute party faction among the Commissioners the administration of the Municipality has been brought almost to a state of deadlock. Party faction has resulted in gross indiscipline among the staff which has rendered proper administration impossible. Even in the meetings of the Commissioners disorder prevails.

2. The Commissioners of the Municipality by a resolution withdrew all powers from the Vice-Chairman thereby making it practically impossible for the Chairman to carry on the administration of this important Municipality single-handed. This action of the Commissioners was not only contrary to law but against public interest as well and amounted to a gross abuse of power.

3. The Commissioners failed to sanction the Budget Estimate for the current financial year within the time prescribed by section 113A of the Bengal Municipal Act. As this amounted to a default in the performance of a very important statutory duty, a direction was given by Government under section 549 of the Act to sanction the Budget within a fortnight from the date of the order. But even this direction was not complied with within the prescribed period. The Municipal Commissioners have thus been guilty of persistent default in the performance of a duty imposed on them by law. Not only the Commissioners failed to pass the Budget, but, at their meeting held on the 10th April 1957, they even sought to create a deadlock in the Municipal administration by refusing to confirm the resolution adopted at their special emergent meeting of the 28th March 1957, authorising the Chairman to incur urgent, unavoidable and necessary expenditure from the 1st April 1957 till the Budget for the year 1957-58 was finally sanctioned. This created a serious situation and the District Magistrate had to intervene under section 548(2) of the Bengal Municipal Act to prevent a complete deadlock.

4. The Commissioners have been particularly remiss in the matter of submission of their annual Administration Reports within the time prescribed by statutory rules in spite of warning from Government. According to the said rules, this Report is required to be submitted to Government and the District Magistrate by the 31st of May of the year following that to which it relates. But the Administration Report for the year 1954-55 was submitted to Government in December 1955, while that for the year 1955-56 was submitted in January 1957. The Report for the year 1956-57 which was due to be submitted by the 31st May last has not been received by Government yet.

5. After a careful consideration of the present state of affairs of the Burdwan Municipality Government have come to the conclusion that the Commissioners of the said Municipality have shown their incompetency to perform and have persistently made default in the performance of the duties imposed on them by the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, and the rules made thereunder and have also abused their powers.

6. Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 553 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), the Governor is pleased to declare the said Commissioners to be incompetent and in default and to have abused their powers and to supersede them for the period from the date of publication of this resolution in the Calcutta Gazette till the 30th April 1958.

Ordered that this resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor,

N. M. BARDHAN,

Joint Secretary to the Government of West Bengal.

Subject: Scrutiny of applications for house-building advances from Central Government Servants.

No. TM/622.—24th June 1957.—A reference is invited to rule 9 of the "Rule to regulate the grant of advances to Central Government servants for building, etc., of houses" prescribing the procedure for dealing with applications for house-building advances to Central Government servants. It has been observed by the Ministry of Works, Housing and Supply, that while forwarding these applications the Heads of the Departments under Central Central Government normally do not indicate as to whether the required scrutiny as required in rule 9(b) has been made with the result that the Ministry cannot proceed with the consideration of the applications in question. It is, therefore, requested that in future, the Heads of the Departments under Central Government while forwarding these applications to the above Ministry should clearly indicate as to whether necessary scrutiny of the documents has been effected as required in terms of rule 9(b) of the Rules.

No. TM/621.—20th June 1957.—In continuation of this office notification No. TM/604, dated 28th March 1957, on the subject noted above, a copy of the Central Board of Revenue Office memorandum No. 48(6)I.T/57, dated 25th May 1957, is circulated herewith for the information of all Drawing and Disbursing Officers under the audit control of this office and all Treasury and Sub-Treasury Officers in West Bengal.

Copy of the Office Memorandum referred to above.

"Subject:—New Finance Bill (No. 2) of 1957—Income-tax deductions from salaries during 1957-58.

The undersigned is directed to invite a reference to Office Memorandum No. 48(6)I.T/57, dated 21st March 1957, and to state that the Finance Bill (No. 2) of 1957 which was introduced in the legislature on 15th May 1957 seeks to lay down new rates of income-tax and super-tax which would supersede the rates prescribed in the above memorandum. However, as the final rates to be followed will not be known till the new Bill becomes law, deductions will continue to be made in accordance with the rates mentioned in the Ministry of Finance (Revenue Division) Office Memorandum No. 48(3)I.T./56, dated 9th March 1956, until a further intimation is sent by this office."

Braithwaite & Co. (India), Ltd., Hide Road, Kidderpore, Calcutta-23, and their workmen represented by Braithwaite Sramik Union, 129A Circular Garden Reach Road, Kidderpore, Calcutta, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Second Industrial Tribunal;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the employees: Shri Nihar Mukherjee, General Secretary.

For the Company: Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Labour Adviser, Indian Engineering Association.

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by its order No. 99-I.R./D/10L-22/56, dated 8th January 1957, referred the above dispute to this Tribunal for adjudication regarding the quantum of bonus which the workers are entitled to get for the year 1955.

AWARD

The parties entered appearance and filed written statements. After several adjournments, the case was made ready for hearing. But instead of proceeding with the case, both parties have filed a joint petition of compromise stating that the dispute has been amicably settled outside the Tribunal. It is not necessary, therefore, for this Tribunal either to state the facts leading to the dispute or to enter into merits.

I have perused the joint petition of compromise, and also the terms of settlement incorporated in Annexure A to the same. The terms appear to be fair and reasonable, and in my estimation they should be given effect to. Accordingly, a "no-dispute" award is passed in terms of the settlement arrived at between the parties. The joint petition of compromise and the memorandum of settlement containing the terms marked Annexure A will form part of the award.

Representing the employers: Shri S. K. Sen, Assistant Labour Adviser, Indian Engineering Association.

Representing the workmen: Shri Nihar Mukherjee, General Secretary of the Union.

Short recital of the case

The Union demanded that bonus equivalent to five months' basic wages of an individual should be paid to the workmen in the usual way from the available surplus arising out of the accounts of the Company for the year

1955. Although the issue is at the moment pending before the Second Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, for adjudication, both the parties have come to an amicable settlement of the issue out of Court. The following are the terms of settlement:—

Terms of settlement

(1) It is agreed by both parties that the industrial dispute on the question of bonus for the year 1955 payable in 1956 pending before the Second Industrial Tribunal, is finally settled out of Court and a "no-dispute" petition (Annexure A) will be submitted before the said Tribunal.

(2) It is also agreed that the workmen will in accordance with the procedure in past years be paid bonus equivalent to 7/24th of their respective basic wages earned during the year ending 31st August 1956 less the advance of 1/12th of their basic wages earned during the year in question paid as per Company's Works Notice No. 10168, dated 19th September 1956.

(3) It is also agreed that payment of the above bonus is in full and final settlement of all claims for bonus made by the workmen for the year in question.

ANNEXURE

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the employee: None.

For the Company: None.

This reference made under Government order No. 4085Dis./D/11L-278/56, dated 11th September 1956, relates to the dismissal of Shri Bhupal Purkayit, one of the workers employed under Messrs. Gupta Bros., 212/B Harrison Road, Calcutta-7.

AWARD

This reference was received by this Tribunal on 4th October 1956. Notices were issued on both parties fixing 30th October 1956 for appearance and for filing written statement by the Union. On that date, there was no appearance by either party, nor did the Union file any written statement. But the Tribunal waited till 19th November 1956. Thereafter, the Tribunal waited till 18th December 1956, although the notice for appearance was duly served on the Union. On 21st December 1956 the Tribunal wrote a letter to the Union directing it to appear and file written statement by 15th January 1957 positively. The Union duly received that letter, but it took no steps for appearance or for filing of the written statement. Notwithstanding this, the Tribunal waited again till 28th February 1957. Finding that the Union did not file any written statement in spite of several opportunities given in this respect, the Tribunal at last addressed another letter to the Union directing it to file written statement by 21st March 1957 positively. It also made it clear in that letter that if the Union failed to comply with the above order, the case would proceed ex parte. This letter was duly received on 12th March 1957 by the Union, but it had no effect. It may be stated in this connection that the Company too did neither enter appearance nor file written statement.

In view of what has been stated above, it may be presumed that the worker concerned, has no longer any grievance to press for redress, and that the dispute submitted to the Tribunal has ceased to exist. There being no dispute for adjudication, a "no-dispute" award is passed, and the present reference is thus disposed of.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Fatechand Joharimal, Manot Garden, Lillooah, Howrah, and their workmen, represented by Calcutta Rangkal Mazdur Congress, 35B Wellington Street, Calcutta (case No. VIII—256 of 1956).

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances.

For the Company: Shri Madan Mohan Saha, Advocate.

For the Rangkal Mazdur Congress: None.

By Government order No. 4070Dis./D/11L-293/56, dated Calcutta, the 10th September, 1956, a dispute between Messrs. Fatechand Joharimal and their workmen in regard to the termination of service of four employees was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

The point for determination was formulated in the order of reference in the following terms:—

> Whether termination of employment of the four workmen, mentioned below, was justified. Are they entitled to reinstatement and/or compensation?—
> (1) Buleswar Singh,
>
> (2) Nageswar Singh,
>
> (3) Ramdahin,
> (4) Kolahal.

Written statement filed by the Union is in a skeleton form and does not throw any light upon the circumstances under which the four employees mentioned in the order of reference were dismissed. There is no allegation that these workmen were falsely charged or that there was no enquiry held by the management.

The Company submitted written statement that Baleswar Singh and Nageswar Singh were temporary workers whose services were requisitioned from time to time as occasion arose for performance of temporary jobs. These two workers had agreed to accept appointment on temporary basis for the duration of the work. As their services were not required on completion of the job the employment was terminated on 11th February 1956. On 13th February 1956 they tried to enter the workshop by force. They were obstructed by Shri Singhason Singh. Thereupon these two employees reenforced by Ramadhin and Kolahal attacked Singhason and assaulted him. They created a commotion and disturbance which attracted one of the partners to the spot. Trying to restore order he was rough handled by those four persons. Charge-sheet was issued on 17th February 1956 but no explanation was submitted within the period prescribed in the notice. The management held an enquiry and having found the charge-sheeted persons guilty ordered their dismissal.

On the date fixed for hearing of the case the company applied for adjournment but on the Tribunal intimating that the case would be taken up, got ready to conduct the case. Neither the workers nor the Vice-President of the Union who had been representing them turned up for the hearing. The Tribunal waited for them up to 12 noon. No intimation was sent and none of the persons concerned turned up. In this posture of things the Tribunal forms the conclusion that for some reasons or other the four persons have thought fit not to press their case before the Tribunal. They have given up the dispute and hence there is no dispute for adjudication. The reference is hence disposed of on the finding that the four persons concerned in the reference have no subsisting dispute.

AWARD

1. By order No. 2661Dis./D/13L-12/55, dated the 16th June 1956, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. W. Newman & Co., Ltd., 3 Old Court House Street, Calcutta, and their three employees, Shri Bijoy Ballav Sett, Shri Jyotish Chandra Mukherji and Shri Sitapada Bose represented by Newman's Employees' Union, 10/2 Malanga Lane, Calcutta, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 592Dis./D/12L-5/52, dated the 23rd February 1953, for adjudication.

2. After usual summons the parties put in appearance and filed their written statements. The pleadings were completed on 30th August 1956. The parties were thereafter directed to file lists of documents. Then after adjournments the dispute was heard.

3. The matter of dispute as stated in the schedule to the order of reference is as follows:—

(i) What pension are the three employees, Shri Bijay Ballav Sett, Shri Jyotish Chandra Mukherji and Sitapada Bose, entitled to receive from the Company for the period from January 1947 to December 1950 and from 1954 onwards?

DECISION

The facts leading to the reference which are not disputed are as follows:—

Messrs. W. Newman & Co., Ltd. (hereafter called the company) is a Public Limited Company incorporated and registered under the Indian Companies Act on 17th January 1947. It is one of the leading publishers, book-sellers and stationery dealers in this city. Before formation of the said Public Limited Company (W. Newman & Co., Ltd.), there had existed a Private Limited Company of the same name without the word "Limited". The said Private Limited Company had been under European management carrying on same business.

The three employees Shri Bijoy Ballav Sett, Shri Jyotish Chandra Mukherji and Shri Sitapada Bose had been employed in the said Private Limited Company and had on retirement been receiving pensions of Rs. 30, Rs. 40 and Rs. 45 per month respectively from the said Private Limited Company. They had received such pension up to December 1946 payable in January 1947 from the Private Limited Company.

On 17th January 1947 the present Public Limited Company under Indian management admittedly acquired and took over as a going concern the business of the aforesaid Private Limited Company in pursuance of the resolution of the shareholders and sanction from the Hon'ble Court (vide memorandum and Articles of Association, Ext, 1). The present Public Limited Company discontinued payment of pension as fell due on and from 1st February 1947.

There were about 40 employees of the categories of clerks, typists, shop assistants and about 20 peons and durwans at the time of transfer. On the Public Limited Company taking over the business as a going concern, they were retained in employment as before.

At the time when the present Public Limited Company was formed on 17th January 1947, the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, was not in operation. It came into force on 1st April 1947. Towards the end of 1947 the workmen of the Public Limited Company formed Newman's Employees' Union (hereafter called the union). The said union on behalf of the workmen presented a charter of demands claiming among others restoration of the pension of the aforesaid three employees. The dispute so raised was ultimately referred to Shri M. C. Banerji for adjudication. Issue No. 4 before him related to pension including claim for restoration of the pensions of the aforesaid three employees. By his award Shri Banerji held that these three persons should continue to receive pensions from the company as they were then getting. This, it appears, was done by the consent of the parties, inasmuch as the company and the union informed the Tribunal at the time of the hearing that the pensions of these three retired employees had been restored to them and therefore the union had no further grievance on this question [vide award under clause (b) of issue 4].

Shri M. C. Banerji made the award on 3rd December 1948 and the award was published in the Calcutta Gazette on 30th December 1948. By the order directing publication of the said award the Government made it operative for a period of one year with effect from the date of the award.

As the Public Limited Company, however, failed to implement the said award, the Government at the instance of the union prosecuted the Managing Director Shri A. P. Bhargav before Chief Presidency Magistrate under section 29 of the Industrial Disputes Act in Case No. C1362 of 1950. Shri Bhargav was convicted under section 29 of the Industrial Disputes Act on his plea of guilty and was fined Rs. 200 on 4th October 1953 (vide Ext. 3).

On 20th May 1950 the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, came into force. Then Union moved the Government for realisation of the arrear pensions of the aforesaid three retired employees under section 20 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, in terms of the award of Shri M. C. Banerji. After a series of correspondences between the union and the Government the three retired employees were directed by the Government to make fresh applications under section 20 of the Industrial Disputes Act to Shri M. C. Banerji for computation Accordingly the workmen applied to Shri M. C. Banerji on 14th January 1952 with a prayer to determine the amount of pensions under section 20(2) and to refer the matter to West Bengal Government under section 20(1) of the Act for recovery. Shri M. C. Banerji having gone on leave preparatory to retirement, Shri S. C. Mukherji who was appointed a Judge of Industrial Tribunal, was authorised by the Government to hear the said applications under section 20 and to compute the amount of the pension in terms of the original award as given by the ad hoc tribunal of Shri M. C. Banerji. Shri S. C. Mukherji eventually computed the amount of pension for the period from 1st January 1947 to 29th December 1949 on 16th October 1952 (vide Ext. 4).

Thereafter when the Government took steps under section 20(1) of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, for recovery of the computed amount by certificate proceedings from the defaulter company, the company moved the Hon'ble High Court under Article 226 of the Constitution to prevent the order of Shri Mukherji being given effect to. The Rule was made absolute and the order, dated 16th October 1952 of Shri Mukherji was quashed and a writ of mandamus was issued directing the Government and the pensioners to forbear from enforcing the same. The Hon'ble Court, however, in the concluding portion of the judgment held as follows: "I do not say anything as to whether it was possible in this case to proceed under sub-section (2) of section 20 of the Act or whether the respondents 3,4 and 5 can proceed under sub-section (1) without any further computation. The parties will be at liberty to take such steps as they may be advised. The right of the said respondents under the original award, if any, is not affected by this order." The judgment was delivered on 13th August 1953 (vide Ext. 5).

Then in January 1954 the three retired employees filed Suit No. 188 of 1954 for recovery of arrears of pension for the period from 1st January 1951 to 31st December 1953 (Ext. A).

The union also moved the Labour Commissioner and the Government of West Bengal to take steps for realisation of the arrear pensions of the three retired employees from January 1947 to December 1950. Then conciliation proceedings again started and as no settlement could be effected, the Government made a fresh reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, on 16th June 1956 to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Against this background the union on behalf of the three employees prayed that the Tribunal should hold that the employees concerned were entitled to receive pension from the company and award as arrears of pensions Rs. 1,740 at the rate of Rs. 30 per month to Shri Bijoy Ballav Seit, Rs. 2,320 at the rate of Rs. 40 per month to Shri Jyotish Chandra Mukherji, and Rs. 2,320 at the rate of Rs. 40 per month to Shri Sitapada Bose for 58 months from 1st January 1947 to 31st December 1950 and further direct the company to continue to pay them the pensions at those rates without interruption from 1954 onwards.

The company resisted the claims.

Regarding merits the company denied liability to pay any pension on the ground that there was no contract for payment of the same by the present management and denied rates of the pensions and having had any obligation to pay under the award of Shri M. C. Banerji which was said to have been passed without jurisdiction. Besides the company took various preliminary objections as to competency of the reference and adjudication proceedings.

Let me first deal with preliminary objections as these go at the root of the case. The company contends that the reference is bad as the dispute in question is not an industrial dispute within the meaning of section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act on the grounds that (i) the three employees about whom the dispute has been raised ceased to be workmen on retirement, long before the present company was formed on 17th January 1947, (ii) the company was never their employer and (iii) the arrears of pension and the declaration sought for do not come within the scope of the industrial dispute. Regarding ground (i) it is said that under section 2(k) of the Act a dispute can only be raised about a workman as defined in section 2(s) of the Act. In the present case as the three employees admittedly retired long before in 1945-46 it is said that they ceased to be workmen and consequently no industrial dispute could be raised about them. Reliance has been placed in this respect in the case of United Commercial Banking Ltd. vs. Kedar Nath reported in 1952 L.A.C. 198, wherein it has been held that the words "any person" appearing at the close of the definition does not cover any person other than a workman as defined in section 2(s) of the Act. On behalf of the union it has, however, been contended that as it has been held that a workman includes an employee who has been discharged or dismissed, the pensioners in question who had until retirement been clerks, would come under the category of workmen on the analogy of discharged or dismissed workmen. On giving careful consideration to the matter I am unable to sustain the contention of the union. A discharged or dismissed workman is a workman under the express terms of the definitnon of "workman" in section 2(s); while it is not so regarding the pensioners. A good deal of difference exists between a retired man and a discharged or dismissed workman. In the former case the retirement ordinarily comes to a workman as a matter of course, without any act on the part of the employer, while discharge or dismissal is an act of the employer against the will of the workmen. So, the cases of those discharged or dismissed, it appears, have been expressly included in the definition of workman. Thus, on the analogy of the reason of discharged or dismissed workman it cannot be said that a pensioner comes under the category of workman as defined in section 2(s). With due respect I must differ from the view expressed by my erstwhile colleague Shri M. L. Chakravarti in his award as reported in 1955(I) L.L.J. 192 relied on by the union. It is, therefore, obvious that the contention of the company that no industrial dispute can be raised about the three pensioners is sound. Regarding ground (ii) the company urged that as the three employees had been employed by the Private Limited Company and their services had ceased on retirement in 1945-46 long before the formation of the present Public Limited Company on 17th January 1947, it is obvious that the present company was never their employer and thus no industrial dispute can arise with them. I agree that the present company can by no stretch of imagination be held to have ever employed the three pensioners. The definition of the word "employer" in section 2(g) has been held by the Federal Court in the case of Western India Automobile Association vs. the Industrial Tribunal and others reported in 1949 (1) L.L.J. 249 not to be exhaustive or inclusive. The Federal Court did not define the term generally in relation to other concerns. So, with respect to other concerns like the present company involved in this reference the word "employer" can have only the generally accepted meaning, namely, "one who employs workmen, servants, etc., for wages". The three employees before the Tribunal were never employed by the present company nor did they receive wages from it. The word "wages" has been defined in clause (rr) of section 2 excluding pension. Receipt of pension would not, therefore, make one an employee. Relation of employer and employee cannot, therefore, be said to have ever been established between the parties. Though the present company as a successor company may have liability to pay pension having purchased the business of the Private Limited Company as a going concern, succeeding to the assets and liabilities, but from this it cannot be said in relation to the employees of the Private Limited Company who had retired before formation of the present company that it has become the employer of these persons. The relation of employer and employee comes into being not with reference to the employees who ceased to be so during the time of the predecessor-in-interest but with reference to the employees whose services passed on from the predecessor company to the successor. Likewise a successor company may no doubt be liable for the bonus for the past period but it is not the same thing as to say that thereby relation of employer and employee came to be established. A Limited Company taking over the business of a partnership firm becomes so liable for bonus for the past period having taken over the business as a going concern, out of which obligation in respect of the past arises. As the present company has never been the employer of the pensioners in question, I agree that no industrial dispute can be raised with them. The relation of master and servant must subsist on the date when right to create dispute accrues. Even at the time when the pension due from January 1947 was discontinued, there was no such relation of master and servant between the parties. So, the reference, I agree, is incompetent. Regarding ground (iii) it is said that arrears of pension or direction for continuance of pension as claimed by the three employees are not covered by the subject matter of industrial dispute as defined. The present dispute cannot be said to be connected with "employment or non-employment or with the conditions of labour". The question is; whether these can be said to be connected with "the terms of employment". The terms of employment, it is contended on behalf of the company, would cover only dispute regarding general questions of pensions of those who are in employment and not arrears of pension of individual pensioner as claimed. The union, on the other hand, contends that the said words are wide enough to include dispute as to arrears of pension of individual pensioner. It seems that the questions regarding pensions of workmen in employment that is whether they are eligible to get pension and at what rate would come within the scope of the section, and not dispute as raised before this Tribunal. Just as a claim for recovery of arrears of wages only while in service or discharged cannot be an industrial dispute, so also claim for recovery of arrears of pension. Such a claim can be made if it be connected with a dispute and covered by the language of section 2(k). As the present claim in effect is one for recovery of arrears of pension, this would not come within the scope of section 2(k). In this view of the matter I agree with the company that the dispute raised and referred to is not an industrial dispute within the meaning of section 2(k) and the reference, in consequence, is bad.

Secondly it has been urged on behalf of the company that in asmuch as the issue of pension was the subject-matter of adjudication before Tribunal of Shri M. C. Banerji and was directly and substantially in issue between the parties and over which an award was passed and published in the Calcutta Gazette on 30th December 1948, the present reference on the same issue is not maintainable in law and the Tribunal has got no jurisdiction to adjudicate thereon as being barred by res judicata. The union, on the other hand, contended that as the operation of the award of Shri M. C. Banerji lapsed on 3rd December 1949 and as there was no provision in the Act of 1947 (as stood before amendment by Act XLVIII of 1950) about recovery of the money due under the award and as the company since repudiated the award of Shri M. C. Banerji and denied liability as also the rates of pension giving rise to a fresh dispute and as there has been fresh reference by the Government as a result thereof, the tribunal is competent to go into the question de novo. On giving careful consideration to the matter it seems that the contention of the company should prevail. In the case of Burn & Co., Ltd., vs. their employees reported in 1957(I) L.L.J. 226

the Supreme Court has held that the principles of res judicata apply equally to the awards of the Industrial Tribunals and that repudiation of the award under section 19(6) would not by itself reopen the whole controversy. That being the position it is obvious that the union cannot re-agitate the matter as no apparent mistakes, anomalies or alteration of circumstances are alleged or proved, The grounds stated above by the union cannot be accepted as change of circumstances enabling the union to reopen the matter. The fact that there was no provision at the time in the Act of 1947 for recovery of the money due under the award would be no ground for seeking a fresh reference. In the absence of such provision for recovery of money due under the award in the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 the union was not without remedy. An award created a monetary liability which could be enforced by a suit [vide Bharat Bank case reported in A.I.R. (1950) Supreme Court 188]. Before section 20 of the Appellate Act came to be enacted the remedy for getting the money under the award was by a suit. So if the pensioners so minded they could have sought recovery of the money due under the award by a suit. Likewise the fact that since the award of Shri M C. Banerji was made on 3rd December 1948, section 20 of the Appellate Act providing for recovery of the money due under the award came to be enacted on and from 20th May 1950 would be no ground for seeking a fresh reference. By section 20 of the Appellate Act an additional remedy was provided for and money due could be recovered as a public demand. The remedy so provided was an additional remedy and not exclusive barring jurisdiction of the Civil Court. It will not be out of place to mention here that as the award of Shri M. C. Banerji lapsed on 3rd December 1949 before said section 20 came into force on and from 20th May 1950 it was doubtful whether there could be recovery of the money under the award under the provisions of section 20 as sought for by the three employees concerned. Be that as it may, the enactment of section 20 of the Appellate Act was no ground for invoking a fresh reference. Similarly the fact of subsequent repudiation of the award of Shri M. C. Banerji and as a matter of that denial of liability to pay pension or rates thereof would not give rise to a fresh cause of action in respect of an identical matter previously adjudicated upon by the Tribunal.

Lastly the company contended, and I think rightly, that the three employees having already availed themselves of the penal and only provision of the Industrial Disputes Act for non-implementation of the award (namely, section 29 of the Industrial Disputes Act) were left only with the remedies under the Civil Law for enforcement and recovery of their alleged dues and having already adopted the remedy in the Civil Court, they cannot approbate and reprobate at the same time and in view thereof no further adjudication is maintainable. Merely because the claim in respect of the period under adjudication could no more be enforced in the Civil Court on account of the same having been barred by Law of Limitation, I think this would be no justification to come before the Tribunal by way of fresh reference to avoid the said bar of limitation. If the employees failed to recover their dues in due course of law by a suit, they are to thank their own lot. They cannot be permitted to resort to a Tribunal to cover their laches and avoid the bar of limitation indirectly.

In this view of the matter I agree that the reference cannot be sustained. It is awarded accordingly.

Had, however, a decision on merits been necessary, I would have found on the basis of the memorandum and Articles of Association of the company (Ext. 1) as also on the basis of the offer by the present company to restore the pension to the three employees concerned and acceptance of the same by the union on their behalf before the Tribunal of Shri M. C. Banerji, that the present company as a successor company having taken over the business of the Private Limited Company as a going concern and succeeding to the assets and liabilities of the Private Limited Company was liable to continue and pay the pension to the three employees concerned. By Ext. 1 the company in clause (29) of paragraph 3 undertook among others, to support institutions, pensions, trust and conveniences calculated to benefit employees or ex-employees of the company or its predecessors-in-business and to grant pensions and allowances, etc. Having done so, it is too late in the day to deny liability to pay the pension. A successor company has been found liable for gratuity for the period served under the previous company (vide the case of Laloo Bhai Ameen Chand Ltd. 1953 L.A.C. 388). Similarly a Limited Company taking over the business of a partnership firm is liable for bonus for the past period [vide Artisan Press Ltd. 1954(II) L.L.J. 24]. Then the offer by the present company to restore the pension and acceptance of the same by the union on behalf of the three employees before Shri M. C. Banerji must be held to have created a valid right in favour of the employees concerned. It is, however, a matter of great regret that notwithstanding undertaking to restore and pay the pension to the three employees concerned, the management failed to redeem its pledge so far. The plea of financial stringency should not have stood on the way when the company was apparently meeting other obligations. As the liabiltiy to prosecution under section 29 of the Act as stood before amendment in 1956 did not end with the expiry of the period of the award, the management was fortunate that it was not so prosecuted again. I would only hope that the management will redeem its pledge.

AWARD

Decision

The case of the Union in short is as follows: The Company, namely, Messrs. Anjan Cinema were very. irregular in payment of wages to their workmen and did not accord just treatment and other amenities to them; so there was an agitation afoot against the Company under the leadership of Bengal Motion Pictures Employees' Union. There was also a complaint to the Chief Inspector, Shops and Establishments, which enraged the Management against their workmen. On 26th July 1955 the Company summarily dismissed two of their operators, namely, Shri Sudhir Nandi and Shri Saila Chakraborty for not renewing their operator's licence within time. The licence of Shri Sudhir was valid up to 2nd December 1954 and the licence of Shri Saila Chakraborty up to 14th January 1955.

The gate-keeper Shri Bhabasindhu and Shri Kanai De, the pointer, were charge-sheeted on 22nd May 1956 on vague, baseless materials. Both of them showed cause on 23rd May 1956 but to no effect. The dismissals of these workmen were unjust and against the principles of natural and social justice.

The Union, therefore, seeks their reinstatement together with full back wages for these wrongful dismissals.

The Company in their written statement generally traverses the allegations as baseless and their case is that Shri Saila Chakraborty and Shri Sudhir Nandi were employed as operators on 11th September 1953 and continued operating the cinematograph machines for about 8 months even after the expiry of their licences by fraudulently suppressing the expiry of their licences. The Management therefore terminated their services on 25th July 1955.

As regards Shri Bhabasindhu and Shri Kanai De, the Company states that they were appointed on 11th September 1953 as a gate-keeper and pointer, respectively. They were guilty of gross misconduct and insubordination and they were charge-sheeted on 22nd May 1956 and a due enquiry was held into the charges and their services were dispensed with on 30th May 1956. It is further urged that Shri Sudhir Nandi and Shri Saila Chakraborty and Kanai De accepted their dues from the Company in full and final settlement of their claims including reinstatement and so they cannot be allowed to reopen this matter in this Court. Shri Ghose and Dey were further guilty of insubordination and disobedience. In short, the Company contends that the dismissal of these workmen is just.

This case as conducted before me legitimately gives rise to another additional issue No. 1. The issues are therefore renumbered and seriatim as 1, 2 and 3.

(1) Did Saila Chakraborty, Sudhir Nandi and Kanai De relinquish their entire claim on accepting their dues in full and final settlement of the dispute?

(2) Whether the Management was justified in terminating the services of the 4 workmen, viz., (1) Sudhir Nandi, (2) Saila Chakraborty, (3) Kanai De and (4) Bhabasindhu Ghose?

(3) What relief including reinstatement are they entitled to?

I take up issue No. 1 first.

The evidence, as it stands, goes to substantiate the Company's case that these three workmen, namely, Shri Sudhir Nandi, Shri Saila Chakraborty and Shri Kanai De accepted their dues as per receipts Ext. A, Ext. A(1), Ext. A(2) and Ext. A(3) in full and final settlement of their claims against the Company. Ext. A and Ext. A(1) relate to Kanai and Ext. A(2) relates to Saila and Ext. A(3) relates to Sudhir. Exts. A, A(1) and A(3) expressly state that Kanai and Sudhir accepted their dues in full and final settlement of their claims. Strangely enough, P.W. (1) Sudhir, P.W. (2) Saila and P.W. (5) Kanai did not deny the factum of this final settlement in their statements before me. That being so, I have no alternative but to give effect to the Company's plea that those three workmen relinquished their claims against the Company in full and final settlement. These three workmen are therefore non-suited and render this dispute non-maintainable at their instance. This issue is found in favour of the Company.

Issue No. 2

Sudhir and Saila were employed as operators in the Anjan Cinema House on 11th September 1953. Admittedly they had no valid licences to operate the machine on the date of dismissal (25th July 1955). Sudhir's licence expired on 22nd December 1954 and Saila's licence expired on 14th January 1955. After this, they did not renew their licences. Strangely enough, these two operators still continued operating the machine up to the date of their dismissal on the midnight of 25th July 1955. Neither these two operators who held dead licences cared to have their licences renewed in time, nor did the licensee of the Cinema House care to inspect that their licences had already expired. The rule as laid down in paragraph 45 of Form I (Form of a Permanent Licence) is that the licence shall be renewed regularly at the end of the year on payment of Rs. 10. Fifteen days' time is allowed as the grace period for renewing the licence and after 15 days, a fine of Rs. 5 is leviable at the time of renewal. The licensee of the Cinema House is also responsible under the provision of the West Bengal Cinemas (Regulation) Act, 1954 (West Bengal Act XXXIX of 1954), that no operators who have no valid certificates should get admission into the operating room and under section 7 of the Act the licensee renders himself liable to a criminal action punishable with fine extending up to Rs. 1,000, etc. So the operators did criminal offences by operating the machine in the absence of a valid licence and also rendered the Company liable to criminal action.

As already said, the services of Shri Saila and Sudhir, the two operators, were dispensed with with effect from 26th July 1955, but the letters of dismissal were served on them undisputedly at 12 o'clock (midnight) on 25th July 1955. Their expired licences were also handed over to them along with the letters of dismissal. The evidence is that their licences were collected at about 2-30 p.m. on 25th July 1955 and these licences were not returned till 12 in the midnight, because if the licences were returned in the course of the show, the show might have been disturbed. It is seriously contended on behalf of these two workmen that if these licences were returned during the day on 25th July 1955 these two workmen might have had their licences renewed in the course of that day and by not returning their licences in the course of the day they were denied the opportunity in this behalf. The conduct of the Company in returning their licences so late in the night has been seriously stigmatised before me but the conduct of these two workmen who suppressed the fact of the expiry of their licences for so long a time since December 1954 and January 1955 and continued to work as operators without any valid licences, is all the more reprehensible. By omitting to renew their licences in time and by suppressing this fact from the knowledge of the Company they induced the Company to pay them their wages from month to month and drag the Company in doing something illegal which the Company would not have done if the factum of expiry of their licences were brought to the knowledge of the Company in time. In the circumstances, I cannot take a lenient view of the omission of these two workmen to renew their licences in time. On behalf of the Union, it has again been contended that these two operators were not charge-sheeted, nor was any enquiry held before they were dismissed, but, I think, in view of the illegal actions committed by these two workmen, the action of the Company in dismissing them summarily in the circumstances, cannot be condemned. The Management could not possibly trust the two operators who had systematically duped the Company so long and thus got rid of them. The Company is responsible for maintenance of discipline amongst their staff and I do not think I will be justified in sitting in judgment upon the action of the Company. I do not find any mala fides in the action of th Company, nor was there any unfair labour practice, nor was there any case of victimisation. Therefore, with due regard to the evidence on record, I find that these two operators were justly dismissed and their dismissals were justified. So my finding on issue No. 1 apart, the case of Sudhir and Saila fails on merits too as discussed above.

Next, I take up the case of Bhabasindhu Ghose and Kanai De. Bhabasindhu was the gate-keeper of the Cinema House. He was charge-sheeted as per Exts. B, B(1) on 22nd May 1956 and on 12th January 1955. The charge-sheet, Ext. B, recites the following charges:—

(1) Absence from duty on 11th January 1955;

(2) Refusal to return the identity card;

(3) Inciting other members of the staff to disobey the Management;

(4) Occupying a seat in the auditorium; and

(5) Refusal to sign a circular on 25th May 1956.

Exhibit B(1) adds another further charge that he refused to see and sign the complaint book. Exhibit B(2) and Ext. B(3) relate to Kanai De. Exhibit B(2) recites the charges as follows:—

(1) Leaving his duties on 22nd February 1956 and 29th April 1956 without leave;

(2) Refusal to sign a circular on 1st May 1956;

(3) Tampering with the signatures of Benoy Bhattacharya and L. N. Chatterjee;

(4) Refusal to sign a circular on 20th May 1956 and using filthy language towards Waddadar; and

(5) Indulging in gossiping in places other than their assignment and smoking in and outside the auditorium or in the lobby.

Exhibit BC adds another charge that he left office before interval but falsely recorded the time of departure at 11-30 p.m. in the attendance register on 29th February 1956. These two operators showed cause against these charges, vide letters Exts. 3, 3(a), 3(b) and 3(c). Exhibit 3 states that as on 11th January 1955 he was required to be present at a joint meeting at the office of the Labour Department he had to attend that meeting. That being so, the first charge of his leaving office on 11th January 1955 cannot stand. As regards the other charges against Bhabasindhu, Ext. 3A, need be referred to. As regards the identity card, his explanation is that it was lost. There is no sufficient explanation excepting his denial. There is ample evidence on the side of the Company to prove that Bhabasindhu refused to sign the circular when presented to him for signature. The evidence of S. N. Waddadar, O.P.W. (2), goes to prove that Bhabasindhu refused to sign the circulars presented to him. The explanation of Bhabasindhu is that every time a circular was presented to him, he asked for a copy which was supplied to him and hence he did not sign the circular but non-supply of copy cannot be accepted as a sufficient explanation for his refusal to sign the circular. This amounted to an act of insubordination which justifies immediate dismissal even (Bhagya Lakshmi Insurance Co., 1952 L.A.C. 365) on the part of Bhabasindhu. The evidence of O.P.W. (4), the Supervisor, supports that complaints were made against Kanai De and Bhabasindhu to the Managing Proprietor and the Managing Partner. This witness made three written reports against Bhabasindhu and Kanai De, Exts. F, F(1) and F(2). Exhibit F states that Bhabasindhu was not found at his place during the run of the matinee show for about 2 hours on 11th January 1955. On this date, however, Bhabasindhu attended the Labour Officer's office and for this no blame can be laid at his door. Exhibit F(1) and Ext. F(2) are directed against Kanai and speak of his absence from his place of duty at 10 p.m. on 30th April 1956 and also at the matinee show on 8th March 1955. If we refer to the evidence of O.P.W. (5), the Managing Partner, we find that he has generally testified to the charges made against these two workmen. He has testified to the insubordination of Bhabasindhu and also to complaints from the audience against him for flashing torches on them and also that Kanai did similar indecent acts inside the Cinema Hall and has also spoken about his smoking habit standing at the gate. Flashing torches on ladies' faces is no doubt a misconduct. So barring one or two charges as already dealt with, the other charges have been proved against them. In the circumstances their dismissal as per letters, Exts. C and C(1), served on Bhabasindhu and Kanai, respectively, with effect from 1st June 1956 are found to be justified on grounds of insubordination and misconduct. It appears that these two workmen were duly charge-sheeted and were given opportunity to explain their charges and their explanation not having been found satisfactory, they were dismissed. In the circumstance, I think, I shall not be justified in interfering with the internal administration of the Company. The Management is held responsible for maintenance of discipline amongst the staff and this Court, as a supervisory body, is not inclined to interfere with the orders of dismissal passed by the Company. Their dismissal is therefore found to be justified. No back wages, etc., are claimed. Therefore these dismissed workmen can neither claim reinstatement nor any other relief. The Company has also adduced evidence to show that Bhabasindhu is now employed in the Calcutta Corporation, Sudhir Nandi in the Titaghar Rukmini Cinema, Saila Chakraborty in the Prachi Cinema and Kanai works at the Fancy Stores. There is no evidence to disprove the statement of the Managing Proprietor [O.P.W. (5)] to the above effect.

In the circumstances, these workmen are found entitled to no relief. This is my award.

Typed to my dictation and corrected by me.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order Nos. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(a)/53, 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54 and 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 7th April 1954, 6th May 1954, 12th July 1954, 21st July 1954 and 26th August 1954, respectively, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial disputes between 101 specified Jute Mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

Idris, a workman of Lawrence Jute Mills, applied on 5th November 1956 under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, complaining against his dismissal on various grounds. It is prayed that he may be reinstated with other consequential reliefs. The Company opposed the claims on various grounds.

The case was fixed for hearing on 31st May 1957, on which date the workman, Idris, did not appear. Miss P. Mitra, Labour Officer of the I.J.M.A., was, however, present for the employers. I may mention in this connection that this case was previously fixed for hearing on 8th September 1956, 2nd November 1956, 10th December 1956, 16th February 1957, 6th March 1957 and 10th April 1957, on which dates the workman petitioner did not appear. It, however, appears from Ext. A that the Company applied for permission to dismiss the workman under section 33 during the pendency of the main proceeding and it further appears from Ext. B that the Tribunal struck off the application on the ground that it had lost jurisdiction to adjudicate on it, as the pendency of the main case had terminated.

The case is dismissed for default of the applicant, and the petition under section 33A is dismissed, as there is no outstanding dispute between the parties. The case is also not maintainable (vide 1955 L.A.C., 221), and it is awarded accordingly.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order Nos. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(a)/53, 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54 and 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 7th April 1954, 6th May 1954, 12th July 1954, 21st July 1954 and 26th August 1954, respectively, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial disputes between 101 specified Jute Mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

Kesta and 22 other workmen of Khardah Jute Mills Ltd. applied on 22nd September 1955 under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, complaining against their dismissal on various grounds. It is prayed that they may be reinstated with suitable compensation. The Company opposed the claims on various grounds.

The case was fixed for hearing on 31st May 1957, on which date none of the applicants appeared. Miss P. Mitra, Labour Officer of the I.J.M.A., however, appeared for the employers. It appears from the record of this case that it was previously fixed for hearing on 13th August 1956, 28th September 1956, 21st November 1956, 21st December 1956, 24th January 1957, 25th February 1957, 15th March 1957, 22nd April 1957, 23rd May 1957 and 27th May 1957, but strangely enough, the applicants did not appear on any of these dates although the representative of the employers was regularly present. On the date of hearing on 31st May 1957, the representative of the Company filed Exts. A to T, which are certified copies of application under section 33 for permission to dismiss Kristo, Krishto, Rusi, Ananda, Kulomani, Samsul Huq, Nilia, Sofi Mohammad, Radhamon, Kartick, Kshetra, Parikshit, Lakshmi Prosad, Brojobashi, Udai, Haribandhu, Trinath, Bowria, Hari and Munir, respectively, and Exts. A(1) to T(1) are the certified copies of the Tribunal's order striking off the applications under section 33 on the ground that it had lost jurisdiction to adjudicate on them, as the pendency of the proceedings in the main adjudication had terminated. The present application is dismissed for default of the applicants and the petition under section 33A is dismissed, as there is no outstanding dispute between the parties. The present case is also not maintainable in law (vide L.A.C., 221), and it is awarded accordingly.

AWARD

DECISIONS

Issue No. 1.—Messrs. Avery & Co., Ltd. of 28/2 Waterloo Street, Calcutta, are manufacturers of weighing, counting, measuring and testing machines. They have several factories in different parts of the world, and one such factory is situated at Hide Road, Calcutta-13. In this factory, the Company carries on the work of manufacturing as well as repairing and servicing of machines sold to customers. Shri Ram Ojar Bari was on unskilled workman engaged in this factory with about 12 years' service to his credit. The Union's case is that on 13th March 1954 Shri Ram Ojar Bari fell sick while on duty. On 15th March 1954 Ram Ojar Bari went to the factory with the intention of praying for leave, as he continued to be ill. The Foreman asked him to go home and told him that he need not formally apply for leave and could resume his duties when he was completely recovered. Some officers of high rank, who were present at the time, also saw the pitiable plight of the workman. Shri Ram Ojar Bari went away to his native place in the district of Sultanpur in Uttar Pradesh, as his ailment took a serious turn, and as he was assured of leave. On 30th April 1954 the workman sent a petition from his native place addressed to the Company, with a medical certificate praying for extension of leave up to 31st May 1954. On that very day, he received a letter, dated 22nd April 1954, from the Company intimating him that his services would be terminated if he did not resume his duties on or before 7th May 1954. Shri Ram Ojah Bari's letter, dated 30th April 1954, reached the Company on 4th May 1954, i.e., 3 days before the date of expiry of the notice period. The Company did not send any reply to this letter. The workman presumed that his prayer for extension of leave had been granted by the Company, and he, therefore, did not make any effort to return and resume his duties by 7th May 1954, as he was still suffering from disease. In the meanwhile, the Company gave effect to their letter, dated 22nd April 1954, and terminated the services of Ram Ojar Bari and sent an intimation to that effect to him by letter, dated 8th May 1954, which was received by the workman on 15th May 1954. On 19th May 1954 the workman managed to post a letter to the Company describing his helpless condition and requesting to revise its earlier decision. The Company by its letter, dated 24th May 1954, informed Ram Ojar Bari of their action of having dismissed him. On 31st May 1954, Shri Ram Ojar Bari reported to the factory at Hide Road, but was not allowed admission. After this, the Union espoused his cause and endeavoured to bring about an amicable settlement of the dispute by negotiation with the Company, which failed. The matter was then referred to the Labour Commissioner for conciliation. After conciliation failed, the dispute was referred to the Tribunal. In its written statement, amongst other pleas, the Union emphasised that when Ram Ojar Bari's application for leave, dated 30th April 1954, had reached the Company on 4th May 1954, that is to say, 3 days before the expiry of the notice period, the Company as a responsible employer, ought to have replied to it, either accepting or rejecting Shri Ram Ojar Bari's prayer as it had reached them in sufficient time to be replied to. In the circumstances, Ram Ojar Bari was free to presume that his leave had been granted when he did not receive any reply. The Company's decision to terminate Ram Ojar Bari's services was inconsiderate and extremely harsh. The Union, therefore, prays that the Tribunal should direct the Company to reinstate Shri Ram Ojar Bari with full compensation for his idle period from 8th May 1954.

The Company, in its written statement, states that pursuant to his verbal representation that Shri Bari was sick, he was granted one day's leave on the 13th March 1954 and the necessary gate pass was issued to him. The Company denies that on the 15th March 1954 Shri Bari went to its factory at Hide Road with a view to obtaining leave, or that the Foreman asked him to go home immediately or told him that he need not formally apply for leave or that he could resume his duty when he was completely recovered, or that the statement by the Foreman was made in the presence of any officer of high rank. The Foreman had no authority to sanction leave to the employees and there was no justification for the workmen approaching the Foreman for leave. Shri Bari failed to report for duty since the 13th March 1954, without obtaining leave of absence and the Company, therefore, wrote the letter, dated 22nd April 1954, to him. After receipt of that letter, Shri Bari should have reported for duty within the time mentioned, or at any rate, written to the Company informing that he had been waiting for reply to his application, dated 30th April 1954, which the Company cannot trace. According to Shri Bari's own statement, any letter that the Company might have written in reply to his application for leave on the 30th April 1954 would not reach him until the 11th or 12th May. All representations made by Shri Bari personally or by the Union on his behalf were duly considered and dealt with by the Company. Shri Narayan Das Gupta, the Union Secretary, discussed the case with the Managing Director of the Company, who, having considered the whole records of the case, expressed his view that the Company was justified in terminating the services of Shri Bari, who was discharged once in the past on account of overstaying leave but was subsequently reinstated as a result of the Union's representation in the matter. The services of Shri Bari were terminated on the 8th May 1954, that is to say, more than two years from now. He must or should have been employed elsewhere. The Company cannot be expected to keep the vacancy open for him for a period of two years. In the circumstances, the question of his reinstatement or payments to him cannot arise in any event. The claim should be rejected.

Evidence was adduced by both parties. P.W. 1 Ram Ojar Bari deposed for the Union and O.P.W. 1 Shri Santokh Singh, Shop Foreman of the Company, deposed for the Company. Documents, Exts. 1 to 1(i) and 2, were proved for the Union, and documents, Exts. A to C(2), were proved for the Company.

Ram Ojar Bari states in his evidence that on 13th March 1954, he went to the factory to do his routine duty, and while he was on duty, he was attacked with fever. After half day's work, he fell ill and went home. After coming home, he continued to suffer from temperature, and for two days he did not go to his duties. On 15th March 1954, he went to the factory for obtaining leave. He saw Mr. Quince, Mr. Whitaker and Shri Santokh Singh, Foreman. Santokh Singh went to the office and had talks regarding the leave of P.W. 1 and on coming back, he told the witness that he had been granted leave and asked him to return to duty as soon as he was restored to normal health. He went to his quarters and with the help of a friend, he went to his native place in the district of Sultanpur in Uttar Pradesh. At his native place, his condition became worse. On 30th April 1954, he received a letter from the Company and before receiving that letter, he sent in the morning of that date a medical certificate to the Company. Ten or 12 days after, he got a letter from the Company to say that his name had been struck off the register. In reply to that letter, the witness requested the Company to revise their decision. The Company replied that that was not possible. The witness then came to Calcutta and visited the factory on 31st May 1954. He was refused work. He then approached the Union Secretary, who also made representation to the Company on his behalf. On 30th April 1954, he sent a medical certificate for being granted one month's leave. In cross-examination, he says that he submitted a medical certificate to the Company on the morning of 30th April 1954, and another certificate to the Company when he went to join his duties on 31st May 1954. He admits that in 1951 he was once discharged. This was for overstaying leave and he was reinstated at the instance of the Union. He says he is out of employment since the date of his discharge in May 1954. O.P.W. 1 Shri Santokh Singh says that on 13th March 1954 Ram Ojar Bari came to him at about 10 o'clock and told him that he was ill. He then took Ram Ojar Bari to the Works Manager and informed him of the illness of the workman. The Works Manager gave him permission to go home. The Works Manager is now in England on leave. The workman was given a gate pass and he left at about 12-30 p.m. He did not submit any application for grant of leave on the 13th March 1954. The witness says that Ram Ojar Bari did not call on him on the 15th March 1954. Neither did he apply to him on that date. He had no power to grant leave. The Company did not receive any medical certificate from the workman at any time in support of his illness. The witness states that it is the Time Clerk who keeps the sick leave applications and medical certificates, and he could not say if the medical certificates were in the leave application file. Exhibits B(1), B(2) and B(3) are the time cards of the workman. They show that Ram Ojar Bari left the factory at 12-33 on 12th March 1954. He was marked as sick from 13th March to the end of that month and was marked as absent from 1st April to 7th May 1954 and on 8th May, he was marked as "discharged". On referring to Ext. C, which is the record of leave of the workman, O.P.W. 1 states that Ram Ojar Bari took leave in 1950, 1951 and 1952, and those leave applications are in the leave application file in the office. He also states that Ext. C shows that the workman took sick leave in 1951 and 1953, and he must have produced medical certificates for being granted leave. He could not say if the medical certificates are in the leave application file, and he had no direct knowledge about these matters, as they were dealt with by the Time Clerk. He also was not sure if all the papers in connection with this case had been made over to him.

Exhibit C shows that Ram Ojar Bari had 30 days' sick leave due to him in the beginning of 1954. Exhibit B is the service history of the workman. Exhibits B(1), B(2) and B(3) are the time cards for March, April and May 1954. Exhibits B(1), B(2) and B(3) show that the workman was sick from 13th March to 31st March 1954 and was absent from 1st April to 7th May 1954 and was discharged on 8th May 1954. Exhibit 1(i) is a copy of a letter, dated 22nd April 1954, by which the workman was asked to report for duty on 7th May 1954, with the warning that on failure to do so, his name would be struck off the register. Exhibit 1(g) is the copy of the letter of the Company, dated 8th May 1954, which informed the workman that as he had not reported for duty on the 7th May 1954, his name had been struck off the register. It appears that on receipt of the letter, Ext. 1(g), the workman submitted to the Company the letter, Ext. C, which was received by the Company on 22nd May 1954. Exhibit 1(f) is the reply by the Company to this letter. It was dated 24th May 1954. The letter, Ext. 1(f), reiterates the fact of the dismissal of the workman and instructs him to collect all his dues. The evidence on record shows that Ram Ojar Bari thereupon came to Calcutta from his native home and presented himself before the factory on 31st May 1954, but was not allowed to join. Exhibit 1(e) is another representation by the employee, dated 4th June 1954. The reply to this representation is Ext. 1(d), dated 7th June 1954. Exhibit 1(h) is the letter by the Union Secretary Shri Narayan Das Gupta to the Works Manager, dated 16th June 1954, representing the case of the workman and requesting the Company to reconsider his case. Exhibit 1(e) is the reply of the Company to this letter to the Union Secretary, regretting inability to reinstate the workman. Exhibit 1(b) is the letter by the Union Secretary to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, representing the case of the workman and Ext. 1(a) is the letter of the Company to the Labour Officer, representing the case of the Company. Exhibit A filed by the Company is the same as Ext. 1(c) of the Union, being the representation which the employee made to the Company on 4th June 1954 after he was refused admission to his duties on 31st May 1954. Exhibit 2 is the postal acknowledgment receipt for a letter sent by Ram Ojar Bari to the Works Manager of the Company and it appears that the letter was received by the Company on 4th May 1954. It is the case of the Union that this was the letter for extension of leave, which was submitted by Ram Ojar Bari on 30th April 1954, asking for extension of leave till the end of May 1954. It, therefore, appears that this letter was received by the Company on 4th May 1954. The Company, in its written statement, states that it could not trace this letter.

The evidence on record shows that Ram Ojar Bari was ill on 12th March 1954 and not really on 13th March 1954, as stated by both the parties. The time card, Ext. B(1), shows that Ram Ojar Bari was gate passed at 12-33 p.m. on 12th March 1954, and he was absent from the 13th of March. Exhibit B(1) shows that Ram Ojar Bari was marked as "sick" from the 13th to the 31st March 1954, and he was marked as "absent" for the whole of April and up to the date of his discharge on 8th May 1954. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 Santokh Singh that Ram Ojar Bari did not call on him on the 15th March appears to be mistaken. The letter, Ext. A, addressed by the Company to the Labour Officer, Government of West Bengal, shows that enquiry revealed that Ram Ojar Bari reported to the Foreman on 15th March 1954 and stated that he was not fit to work and was, therefore, granted permission to go home. The Union's case is that the application for extension of leave by Ram Ojar Bari was received by the Company on 4th May 1954, i.e., 3 days prior to the date of joining of the employee, as ordered by the Company, and the Company should have replied to the employee intimating its order on the application for extension of leave and in the absence of such an intimation, the workman could presume that the extension of leave as prayed for, had been allowed. The Company's case, as shown in Ext. 1(d), is that the employee obtained permission for one day's absence on 13th March 1954, that as the Company received no intimation for continuing absence without permission, it forwarded a registered letter on 22nd April 1954 informing the employee that it was debiting the employee's privilege leave against absenteeism from 15th March 1954 to 28th March 1954 inclusive and that, if the employee did not return to duty by 7th May 1954, his name would be struck off. This letter, Ext. 1(d), further states that no intimation was received from the employee and the letter, dated 8th May 1954, was sent to the employee informing him that his name had been struck off the register. The Company subsequently received a letter, dated nil (Ext. G), acknowledging receipt of the letter, dated 8th May 1954, stating that the employee intended to report for duty on the 1st June 1954. This story shows that the Company did not receive any intimation from Ram Ojar Bari till it received the letter, Ext. G, acknowledging receipt of the dismissal letter, dated 8th May 1954 and intimating that the empolyee intended to report for duty on 1st June 1954. This letter was received by the Company on 22nd May 1954. It appears that the Company was not aware of the letter alleged to have been sent by Ram Ojar Bari on 30th April 1954 and received by the Company on 4th May 1954 in which Ram Ojar Bari prayed for an extension of leave up to 31st May 1954. The written statement of the Union shows that a medical certificate was also sent along with this letter. The written statement of the Company shows that it could not trace this letter. I have no doubt that this letter was written by Ram Ojar Bari on 30th April 1954, and was received by the Company on 4th May 1954. The statement of the Company in Ext. 1(d) shows that this letter of Ram Ojar Bari was not placed before the Company's authorities and was not considered in dealing with the present case. The Company treated the employee quite generously, as it purportd to debit 14 days' absence in March as against his due privilege leave. Time cards, Exts. B(1), B(2) and B(3), however, show that 14 days' privilege leave was adjusted against the employee's absence in the month of April and not March and the whole of the period of absence in March was shown as "sick" as against the marking as "absent" for the whole of April. The learned spokesman for the Union suggested that for the whole month of March, marking of the absence as "sick" shows a permitted absence and this was as a result of the oral application of Ram Ojar Bari on 15th March 1954. It appears that the employee had 30 days' sick leave and 14 days' privilege leave to his credit. The marking of "sick" in the month of March on Ext. B(1) shows that the employee was really sick to the knowledge of the authorities of the Company. In view of the fact, however, that the employee made an application for extension of leave by a letter which reached the Company on 4th May 1954, but which was not traced in the Company's files and was not put up before the Company's authorities and was not considered at the time of dealing with the employee's case when he was dismissed, it appears to me that the punishment of dismissal has been awarded without a proper consideration of the facts of the case and has been so unjust that a remedy is called for in the interest of justice. I have little doubt that if this application of Ram Ojar Bari, dated 30th April 1954, had been placed before the authorities of the Company, he would not have been summarily dismissed and would have been given another chance of joining his duty in proper time.

Considering all circumstances of the case, I am of the opinion that the employee Ram Ojar Bari should be reinstated to his job in the interest of justice. In view of the fact that Ram Ojar Bari was guilty of latches, as he did not apply for leave in accordance with the Standing Orders of the Company, and the latches in not properly applying for leave contributed to the confusion regarding his case, I consider that he should not be allowed any substantial compensation for the period of his non-employment from May 1954 till today. The evidence on record shows that 30 days' sick leave on half pay plus dearness allowance was due to Ram Ojar Bari in March 1954. It is, therefore, awarded that Ram Ojar Bari be reinstated to his old job. He shall be paid two months' basic pay and dearness allowance as compensation for the period of his non-employment; he shall also get half pay plus dearness allowance for 30 days as against sick leave that was due to him in March 1954. Ram Ojar Bari shall be reinstated to his old job within 7 days from the date of the commencement of the operation of this award and the payments as mentioned above shall be made to him within 15 days from such date. The period of non-employment of Ram Ojar Bari shall be considered as special leave on payments as allowed in this award.

This issue is accordingly answered.

For Central Cotton Mills, Ltd: Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, instructed by Messrs. Charu Chandra Basu, Solicitors.

For the Radhakrishna Cotton Mills Labour Union: Shri Kalidas Chakraborty, President.

Disputes between Shree Radhakrishna Cotton Mills, Ltd. and its workmen had reached such proportions that efforts at conciliation failed to achieve even a modicum of success. In the long run Government by its order No. 4Dis./D/8L-32/55, dated Calcutta, the 3rd January 1956, referred for adjudication the following points as per schedule of the order of reference:—

SCHEDULE

(1) Whether the dismissal of the following 8 persons is justified? To what relief are they entitled?—

(i) Shri Savan Lall—T. No. 151.

(ii) Shri Nanji Gowala—T. No. 51.

(iii) Shri Jhallow—T. No. 933.

(iv) Shri Hawaldar—T. No. 5.

(v) Shri Bipin Chowdhury—T. No. 47.

(vi) Shri Gopal—T. No. 196A.

(vii) Shri Jaga (Roving Department).

(viii) Shri Lalta (Oiler).

(2) Whether the lock-out from the 23rd August 1955 and the continuance of the same is justified? To what relief are the workers entitled?

Written statements were filed by the Union on behalf of the workmen and also by the Radhakrishna Cotton Mills, Ltd. It appeared that all the lands, plants and machineries of the Radhakrishna Cotton Mills had been transferred by sale to the Central Cotton Mills. On application made in that behalf by the Union representing the workmen, notice was issued to the Central Cotton Mills to show cause why it should not be impleaded as a party. Central Cotton Mills appeared and put in a demurrer that it had purchased the lands and machineries but not the goodwill of the business. It was not a successor of the Radhakrishna Cotton Mills, Ltd. by transfer of the business itself. The Tribunal was not therefore competent to add the Central Cotton Mills as a party in this reference.

Whether the Central Cotton Mills had actually stepped into the shoes of the Radhakrishna Cotton Mills, Ltd. and may be saddled with liabilities which the Radhakrishna Cotton Mills had vis-a-vis the workers are matters for consideration. The workers may be entitled to relief against Central Cotton Mills if it is found that the mantle of the Radhakrishna Cotton Mills, Ltd. has fallen upon it. Moreover, by express stipulation in the deed of conveyance, the Central Cotton Mills undertook to absorb in its own establishment those workers of the Radhakrishna Cotton Mills, whose name appeared in the Attedance Register on the 23rd day of August 1955, on the same terms and conditions on which they were employed by the Vendor. The Tribunal has got to determine if in giving employment, this undertaking has been fully honoured. Those workers who were dismissed by the Radhikrishna Cotton Mills may press that since their dismissal was wrongful, they must be considered to be on the rolls of the Company and as such they were also entitled to get employment in the Central Cotton Mills. On these grounds the Tribunal feels that the Central Cotton Mills was not improperly joined as party.

The Union's written statement shorn of florid details makes out the case that the authorities of the mill were dead set against the Union which had taken up the cudgels on behalf of the workers and extorted various kinds of relief from the unwilling hands of the Company. The Labour Officer Shrijut Sett had started a vigorous offensive against the leaders with the object of crushing the Union. As all efforts to disintegrate the Union came to nought, the Company bent upon steel framing the administrative apparatus placed in the centre, a new Spinning Master, who was supposed to be a hard-grained task-master, who might by his ruthlessness and strong-arm methods terrorise the workers and break their militant spirit. A period of frightfulness commenced on the advent of Shrijut Sukla. The Manager of the Company, Shrijut Wadia, who took great pains to keep production on a fairly high level was thrown out of employment to make room for Shrijut Sukla. The immediate result was that production declined appreciably. On 18th August 1955 at about 8 a.m., when the oilman, Shri Lalta, Vice-President of the Union, was oiling a Roving Machine, Shrijut Sukla suddenly set it in motion without warning the oilman. It was a miracle that Lalta escaped sustaining serious injuries. As he withdrew his hands quickly there was only a slight injury. This incident created a great stir amongst the workers. The situation grew tense inasmuch as Shrijut Sukla on the top of the misdeed committed by him made the situation worse by abusing the workers when tackled for the sudden starting of the machine. The Union leaders escorted Shrijut Sukla to the mill office and thus averted untoward incident. The Company instead of taking Shrijut Sukla to task served charge-sheets upon eight workers most of whom were the big shots of the Union and placed them under suspension on 20th August 1955, which was a Saturday. As soon as it was known to the workers that the Company had charge-sheeted the leaders and passed order of suspension, the workers remained within the factory during tiffin hours and insisted on the withdrawal of the suspension order. The President of the Union was sent for and at his instance the Company revoked the order of suspension and work proceeded smoothly for the second shift from 12-30 p.m. On 22nd August 1955, which was a Monday, the charge-sheeted workers were not allowed to enter the factory. All the others struck work by way of protest. On the very next day the Company declared a lock-out. The lock-out continued. Later the mills started working under the name of Central Cotton Mills. The Company had given notice that an enquiry would be held. The charge-sheeted persons attended on the date fixed. Sobha Lall was called in and was asked to put down his signature on a blank sheet of paper. He refused to comply with this unreasonable demand and came away with the other workers as he found that it was not the intention of the Company to hold a proper enquiry. Order of dismissal was thereafter served. The workers contended that the dismissal is unjustified and they are all entitled to reinstatement with full wages for the period they were kept idle. The lock-out was also without justification. The workers are entitled to relief for the period of lock-out as well.

The Company stated in the written defence that the workers were on the warpath. They had deliberately allowed down production and were thus causing injury to the industry. Notice after notice was issued appealing to them to give up this intransigent attitude and to work to their fullest ability. These appeals fell on deaf ears. On 18th August 1955, Shrijut Sukla was on his rounds when he was surrounded by the eight persons mentioned in the order of reference and was abused and assaulted by them. Explanations being submitted an enquiry was scheduled to be held on 16th September 1955. The charge-sheeted persons appeared at the enquiry. Sobha Lall was examined and he made a statement but when he was asked to sign it he refused to do so and staged a walk-out along with the rest. The enquiry continued after their departure and witnesses were examined. On the evidence collected the gentleman holding the enquiry came to the conclusion that these workers had been guilty of serious misconduct and deserved the extreme punishment of dismissal. They were accordingly dismissed and no interference by the Tribunal is warranted. So far as the lock-out is concerned the Company's case is that the strike on 20th August 1955 was illegal. On the persuasion of the President of the Union the workers restarted work in the afternoon shift but on 22nd August 1955 there was strike once again. The Company was forced to declare lock-out on 23rd August 1955 having regard to the attitude of the workers. No relief is therefore due to the workers for the lock-out period. The Company raised also a legal objection that this reference is invalid and is not cognizable by the Tribunal as the business was closed down. The dispute could not be deemed an industrial dispute since there was closure.

An additional issue is accordingly framed in the following form:—

Issue No. 3.—Is the reference invalid on account of closure of the business?

DECISION

Issue No. 3

The Company declared lock-out on 23rd August 1955. The workers entered the factory day after day up to the end of the month but did not do a single stroke of work. At the end of the month the factory was cleared of the workers. The mill however did not start functioning again. The Company's case is that the business was closed on 19th November 1955 (vide statement in paragraph 12 of the written statement of the Company). According to Shrijut Sen, who appeared for the Radhakrishna Cotton Mills, the reference made on 3rd January 1956 was ultra vires since the business having been closed on 19th November 1955, there could be no industrial dispute. In support of his contention the learned Advocate referred to two decisions of the Madras High Court reported in 1952, 1, L.L.J., page 364 and 1954, 1, L.L.J., page 469 and two decisions of the Supreme Court, reported in 1957, 1, L.L.J., page 235 and page 253. The first mentioned case laid down that the Industrial Disputes Act assumes the continued existence of an industry and as such the closure temporary or permanent of an industry cannot be the subject-matter of a reference to a Tribunal. This case has no direct bearing upon the matters in dispute since the reference is not in regard to closure. I need not therefore dwell upon the actual decision in this case. The other Madras High Court case was in respect of a referene subsequent to the closure of a business. It was held that a reference of various items of dispute including justification of closure was without jurisdiction as there could be no industrial dispute with regard to a business that was not in existence. Their Lordships of the Supreme Court had to deal, in the case reported in 1957, 1, L.L.J., page 253, with an application under section 23 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, presented by workmen who were discharged in consequence of closure of business with effect from 15th August 1952, on the ground that permission of the Appellate Tribunal before whom an appeal was pending had not been taken. Their Lordships held that clause (a) of section 22 applies to a running or existing industry. Objectives which section 22 was designed to fulfil were capable of fulfilment in a running or continuing industry only and not a dead industry. These decisions affirm the proposition that there can be no reference concerning a bona fide closure or disputes arising after closure. What will be the position if the dispute arose before closure did not arise for decision in these two cases. But a solution is found in the other decision of the Supreme Court relied on by Shrijut Sen which is reported in 1, L.L.J., 1957, page 235. In that case the business was closed and the workmen discharged on 21st March 1951. Reference was in regard to the question whether termination of services of the workers was improper and what relief might be due. Their Lordships pointed out that the entire scheme of the Act assumes that there is an existing industry and then proceeds to provide for various steps being taken, when a dispute arises in that industry. The dispute to which the provisions of the Act apply is one which arises out of an existing industry. Their Lordships proceeded to consider the facts. They pointed that if the contention of the workers was well founded the dispute related to a claim which arose while the industry was in existence and between persons who stood in the relationship of employer and employees that would clearly be an industrial dispute as defined in the Act. It was argued that the notification, dated 16th November 1951, making the reference would be incompetent as the industry had been closed before that date and there was no relationship of employer and employee at that point of time. The substance of the matter was, according to the argument for the Company, that the power of the state to make a reference would depend not only on the dispute having arisen in an existing industry but further on the continued existence of that industry on the date of the notification. Their Lordships repelled this contention and observed that the section only requires that there should be an industrial dispute before there can be a reference, and it would be an industrial dispute if it arises out of an existing industry. If that condition is satisfied, the competence of the State for taking action under that section is complete, and the fact that the industry has since been closed can have no effect on it. Their Lordships pointed out that any other construction would, result in serious anomalies and grave injustice. If a workman improperly dismissed raises an industrial dispute, and before action is taken by the Government the industry is closed, the aggrieved person would be deprived of the relief which the Act gives him if the Act vanishes into thin air as soon as the industry is closed. Their Lordships pronounced final decision that on a true construction of the power of the State to make a reference under that section must be determined with reference not to the date on which it is made but to the date on which the right which is the subject matter of the dispute arises and that the machinery provided under the Act would be available for working out the rights which had accrued prior to the dissolution of the business. The position is made crystal clear by these observations of their Lordships. The dispute in the present case had arisen before the date of the closure, and as such they are industrial dispute which the Government was fully competent to refer for adjudication. I answer this issue accordingly in the negative. The reference is valid and the Tribunal has jurisdiction to deal with it.

The Company alleged in the written statement that the workers were perversely creating difficulties by slowing down and reducing production. The Union's written statement is that on the termination of the service of the Manager, Shri Wadia, production had declined. Shrijut Sukla admitted in his evidence that workers had informed the Directors through the Union that low production was due to his own inefficiency in so far as he had failed to maintain the machineries in tip-top condition. It will appear from his evidence that the machineries were tested by a Tactometer and they were found to be in perfectly good condition. According to P.W. 3 Shri Gopal Majumder production had declined because of bad mixing of materials. Whatever the reason may be the fact admits of no controversy that production was affected. The Company issued notices, Exts. D, D(1) and D(2), urging the workers to co-operate with the Management to improve production. On the 18th of August 1955, Shrijut Sukla had come to the machine room in the early morning. The Union's case is that a machine which was being oiled by Lalta was suddenly put in motion by Shrijut Sukla. Lalta received a slight injury, miraculously escaping serious hurt. The workers got excited and the Spinning Master was asked why he had started the machine without warning.Thereupon he caught hold of Jagannath alias Jaga, the Line Mistry, by the throat. He also abused the workers. As an ugly situation was about to develop some of the Union leaders including Sobha Lall came to the Spinning Master's rescue and escorted him to the office for safety. On this version the Spinning Master Shrijut Sukla had not only acted recklessly in starting the machine but had also added insult to injury by laying hands on Jagannath and using abusive language. The Company, on the other hand, put forward the case that the eight persons who were later dismissed had surrounded Shrijut Sukla, abused and assaulted him. No further details are supplied in paragraph 4 of the written statement of the Company. Evidence has, however, been led that on arrival Shrijut Sukla found that the machines were running on slow speed. He increased the speed. No one was injured but for having accelerated the speed of the machine he incurred the displeasure of the workers who surrounded and rough-handled him. The Tribunal has to find out which of the two versions is true.

The incident took place in the morning. Information was lodged in the police-station by Shrijut Sukla at 10-15 a.m. In the information lodged in the police-station (Ext. C), it was stated that Shrijut Sukla found that the workers had slowed down the speed of the machines. He questioned Jagannath, line mistry, as well as other workers. Thereupon the workers flared up, became rude and these eight persons surrounded, abused and assaulted him. In the Union's written statement we find it mentioned in paragraph 10 that the incident had been reported in the police-station. Exhibit C1 is a copy of the entry in the General Diary concerning the information lodged at 11-15 a.m. by Jagannath Das. Curiously enough Jagannath denied having gone to the police-station and given information. He admitted that Sashi Bhusan Das was his father. Father's name of the informant as recorded in Ext. C(1) is Sashi Bhusan Das. It is stated that the Spinning Master had started a machine causing slight injury to Lalta Prosad. No explanation is offered why the information was given so late. Lalta has not been examined. The person who was directly concerned was not produced before the Tribunal. From the testimony of P.W. 5 Etwar Shah, we find that after receiving the injury Lalta Prosad had gone to the Company's dispensary. No witness was called from the dispensary to prove that the injury was shown there and what statement Lalta had made at that time. Since the occurrence took place in the early morning the information given at 11-15 a.m. fails to inspire confidence since it was made after reflection and probably after consultation.

The Union has drawn Shrijut Sukla to the likeness of a slave-driver cordially hated by the workers. His appearance in any department was therefore bound to attract notice. Workers he had to approach or pass by in his usual rounds would be acutely conscious of his presence. In fact P.W. 3 Gopal Majumder admitted that the workers were very alert when the Spinning Master came into the department. He was speaking with reference to the incident of the day in question. Lalta must have noticed Shrijut Sukla. His movments were not likely to have escaped notice. I am not prepared to believe that Shrijut Sukla could start a machine, which was not running, without attracting the attention of the persons engaged in working on the same. It is also unthinkable that Shrijut Sukla could have been so reckless as to start a machine all on a sudden thereby running the risk of causing serious injury to a worker. Even assuming that Lalta had received some slight injury, I cannot believe that Shrijut Sukla had caused the injury intentionally. This injury cannot be considered sufficient provocation to the workers to molest the Spinning Master. From the evidence of Sobha Lall, it is clear that there would have been an ugly situation and Marpit, if the Spinning Master were not removed from the place of occurrence. There was a Hallah and a crowd of people had gathered. This will appear from the evidence of Sobha Lall. That Shrijut Sukla was in danger and the workers were in an excited mood has been amply proved.

Charge-sheets were served upon the eight persons on 20th August 1955. Exhibit G is a copy of the charge-sheets which were all similar.

Exhibit I (series) and Ext. 3 (series) are the explanations. The Secretary of the Company had received written statements, Exts. F, F(1) and F(2), from Shrijut Sukla, the Assistant Spinning Master Shri L. M. Sarma and a worker Shri Satyanarayan Singh on 19th August 1955. Notice was given to the charge-sheeted persons that an enquiry would be held on the 16th of September 1955. Sobha Lall and the other charge-sheeted workers appeared in the enquiry. The evidence of the workers is that Sobha Lall was called in and was asked to sign a blank sheet of paper. He refused to comply and walked out with the others as he was convinced that a sham enquiry was on foot. The Company put forward the rival version that Sobha Lall made the statement, Ext. F(3). When he was asked to sign he refused and left the place of enquiry in a fit of temper. Going through the English version of the statement, I am doubtful if this could be Sobha Lall's statement. It is admitted in the statement that Jagannath, Lalta and others had surrounded the Spinning Master who was being abused by the workers. that a crowd of workers collected in the office and abuses continued to be shouted. Regarding production, Sobha Lall stated that the workers did not attend full duty. They used to come out many times during working hours. Sobha Lall is the Secretary of the Union and is supposed to be one of its leading lights. I wonder how he could make such a damaging statement admitting that the workers were neglecting their duty. Be that as it may, the fact remains that according to the Company's written statement in paragraph 6, Sobha Lall was examined and he made a statement. He refused to sign it and walked out. After the departure the Enquiring Officer examined the Spinning Master and others and took down their statements in writing. It has, however, been proved that the statements of the Spinning Master, Assistant Spinning Master and one Satyanarayan Singh were taken on 19th May 1955, in the absence of the charge-sheeted persons. It does not appear that these witnesses were tendered for cross-examination by Sobha Lall. In the fitness of things the statements should have been read out and explained and an opportunity should have been given to the charge-sheeted persons to put them to the test of cross-examination. It is no doubt stated by Shri Sarma, the Secretary, who held the enquiry that the statements recorded previously were read out to Sobha Lall, but that is not the case in the written statement nor is it supported by the evidence of the Assistant Spinning Master. Shrijut Sukla stated that Sobha Lall's statement was first taken. Sobha Lall was within his sight but out of hearing. He stated next that his statement previously recorded was read out to Sobha Lall. As he was not within earshot, no weight can be attached to this testimony that his statements had been read out. The enquiry was not accordingly held in consonance with the principles of natural justice. In the case reported in 60 C.W.N., page 933, his Lordship Sinha J. pointed out at page 942:

> "that it is not permissible to examine witnesses in the absence of the delinquent or take ex parte statements and then ask the delinquent to cross-examine".

Apart from the fact that the enquiry was not conducted with due regard to the principles of natural justice, the fact remains that L. N. Sarma was appointed as Assistant Spinning Master in the month of August 1955. The incident took pace on the 18th of that month. It was not likely that within this short period Shri Sarma could know all the workers by name. He had however no difficulty in naming all these eight persons in the statement, he submitted. When he was asked to identify Jhallu, who was sitting inside the Tribunal room he cut a sorry figure. He could not identify the man. The suspicion naturally arises that the statement he had submitted on the 19th was an inspired one. It is no explanation that he was not in service in the Company for the last 1½ years and hence his memory failed to serve him. If he knew the person and could spot him in course of the disturbance, he could have no difficulty in picking him out in the Tribunal room. This is the sort of evidence on which the Enquiring Officer rested his findings. On a consideration of these aspects of the matter, I hold that there was no proper enquiry and the order of dismissal based upon conclusions reached by the Enquiring Officer cannot be supported. It also appears that some of the charge-sheeted persons were not workers of the Roving Department. They were in the Carding Department which is located in another room. It is difficult to believe that these people got themselves mixed up with the workers of the Roving Department and were unerringly recognised at the time of the occurrence. In the result I hold that the dismissal was unjustified and these people are entitled to be reinstated.

The Central Cotton Mills having purchased all the machineries and lands have started working the mills. In the Conveyance, Ext. C, the Central Cotton Mills undertook at page 7, paragraph 4, to employ all the employees of the Vendor whose name appeared in the Attendance Register on the 23rd of August 1955. The dismissal order passed by the Radhakrishna Cotton Mills was to take effect on 17th of September 1955 (vide Ext. J). On the 23rd of August, all these workers were still in the employ of Radhakrishna Cotton Mills as their services were terminated with effect from 17th September 1955. It is not proved that the names of these eight workers had been struck off from the Attendance Register before September 1955. The Central Cotton Mills are therefore bound to employ these eight persons on the same terms and conditions on which they were employed by Radhakrishna Cotton Mills. They are to be taken in by the Central Cotton Mills within 15 days from the date of publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette.

As order of dismissal has been found to be untenable, the Radhakrishna Cotton Mills, Ltd. must pay the full wages of these eight workers up to the date of their employment by the Central Cotton Mills within 15 days from the date of publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette.

Issue No. 2

Charge-sheets were served on 20th August 1955. On the same day the charge-sheeted persons were placed under suspension. As soon as information leaked out, the other workers remained within the factory during the tiffin period. A strike was in sight and the President of the Union was sent for to throw oil over troubled water. His evidence is that at his instance the suspension order was cancelled. All the workers thereafter resumed their duty for the second shift. Work was smoothly performed on that day. On the 22nd (Monday), the charge-sheeted persons were not allowed to enter the factory. This was a signal for troubles breaking out once again. The workers who had entered the factory downed their tools. No work was done. The Company declared lock-out on the next day. The strike on the 22nd was admittedly illegal, because the industry was declared to be a Public Utility Service. The point was canvassed whether the strike was justified, because of the Company having reimposed suspension order which had been recinded on the 20th. On behalf of the Company it was stoutly denied that the suspension order was cancelled. Shri Kali Chakraborty, the President of the Union, was admittedly sent for when the workers showed fight on the 20th after the order of suspension came to be known. His evidence is that the suspension order was withdrawn and on his advice the workers returned to their posts and worked for the second shift. The eight charge-sheeted workers along with the other workers received duty cards for the next week. The duty cards, Ext. F (series), show that the charge-sheeted persons were also entitled to report for duty for the next week commencing from 22nd August 1955 to 27th August 1955. The explanation was offered by the Company that these cards had been issued in the morning of the 20th in the usual way. These were not taken back. The Union made a definite case in the written statement that in the duty cards for the current week, these persons were marked present for the second shift as well. So far as the cards for the next week are concerned it is difficult to believe that these are issued in the morning. Normally they should be issued in the second half of the day but on this point the evidence is such that no definite conclusion can be drawn. The Company produced its Attendance Register, Ext. A(1), to show that in the second shift, the charge-sheeted persons were not marked present. According to the Company the other workers entered the factory but did not work in the second shift of the day. Still they were all marked present in the Attendance Register. This is something which baffles comprehension. Relations between workers and the Management were such that neglect of duty or cessation of work would not have been so lightly passed over. The fact that the other workers were marked present does not harmonize with the Company's case that no work was done by them. I cannot in the circumstances rely on the entries in the Attendance Register. The duty cards for the current week might have clinched the issue. The Company's Advocate argued that the cards for the current week are with the workers. The Union, on the other hand, stated that these are with the Company. Scanning the evidence I find the procedure outlined by the Secretary, O.P.W. 6. He stated that the workers drop their cards for the week in the box which are collected by the time department for entering their attendance in the cards as well as in the Attendance Register. Cards for the week are returned to the workers at lunch time and again at closing hour for the evening shift. On Saturdays, however, the cards for the week once dropped in the box are not returned to them. According to this admission the duty cards for the current week were dropped by the workers in the box on the 20th (Saturday) and were not returned to them. So they must be with the Company. If these were produced, we could see whether these eight persons were marked present or not. As material evidence is in possession of the Company and has not been produced the presumption may be drawn that if they were produced they would have shown that these eight persons had also done their duty in the second shift. In paragraph 9 of the Company's written statement appears the admission that on 20th August 1955, the Union President Shri Kali Chakraborti came to the factory and persuaded the workers to start work at about 12-30 p.m. This shows that work was carried on for the second shift. The Company's version that no work was done though the other workers had entered the factory is disproved. If the Union President influenced the workers to go back to their duty it is quite in keeping with probability that his persuasion was effective because the charge-sheeted persons were also permitted to attend to their duty. The statement in paragraph 9 is unqualified. It is not stated that barring these eight persons the other workers were persuaded to do their duty. The sum and substance of the matter therefore is that the eight persons were also worked for the whole day on the 20th. This supports the Union case that the suspension order was withdrawn or held in abeyance. On the 22nd the Company did not allow them to enter the factory. There might have been disstatisfaction amongst the workers because of the Company going back upon its decision reached on the 20th not to give effect to the order of suspension but that cannot be pleaded in justification of the strike. I have already pointed out that the strike was illegal. It cannot be said to be justified though it must be conceded that the Company gave some provocation by reimposing the order of suspension. Suspension is no punishment. The persons suspended remained the employees of the Company but were not allowed any work to do. If on enquiry they were exonerated they would be entitled to their wages for the period of suspension. The position would no doubt be different if they were found guilty. In any event the Company had the right to place under suspension persons against whom an enquiry was proposed to be held. The workers went inside the factory and remained idle day after day till the end of the month. The frame of the worker's mind is clearly reflected in the evidence of P. W. 5 who stated that they were not perpared to work unless those eight persons were also allowed to join. The Company was in the circumstances within its right to declare lock-out in view of the illegal strike and the attitude taken up by the workers.

The Company had trouble with the workers even in 1949. The mills had to be kept closed up to 1952. The balance-sheet, Ext. N, shows that it had suffered tremendous loss. In paragraph 22 of the Union's written statement the fact is stated that during conciliation proceedings the Management expressed its inability to run the mills at all. In sub-paragraph 4 of paragraph 23 it was stated that non-resumption of work was due to financial stringency. The Company had decided to dispose of the mills and the lands on which the mills stood. The Central Cotton Mills purchased the same. During the whole period the lock-out contiuned. Since the workers were not prepared to resume work unless the persons against whom the Company had taken action were allowed to join, the Management had ample justification for continuing the lock-out. There is the additional ground that on account of financial stringency it could not start working the mills. In the circumstances the Tribunal holds that the lock-out from the 23rd August 1955 and its continuance are justified. Since the lock-out has been held to be justified the workers cannot claim any relief for the lock-out period. The cases reported in 1952, L.A.C., page 270, 1953, 2, L.L.J., page 684 and VI Ex. F.J.R. (1954-55), page 29, may be cited in support of the finding.

On behalf of the Union, reference was made to the case reported in 1954, 2, L.L.J., page 717. In that case the lock-out was found to be hasty and unjustified. Compensation at the rate of total emoluments was accordingly awarded. This case brings no consolation to the workers because the finding was that the lock-out was unjustified. As the finding in this case is just the reverse no point is scored by the Union on reference to this case.

The Union representative submitted that direction should be given by the Tribunal to the Central Cotton Mills to employ the other employees affected by lock-out who have not been given any appointment. Issue No. 2 has been framed only with regard to the question of lock-out and the relief that might be due if the lock-out was held to be unjustified. Question of employment after the termination of lock-out period does not fall for determination on the terms of the issue as framed. I cannot therefore accede to the submission made in this behalf by the Union representative.

This is my award.

Shri Jagadamba Prasad Pandey, a workman of Shamnagar North Jute Mills, applied on 4th November 1955 under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, complaining against his dismissal on various grounds. It is prayed that he may be reinstated with other consequential reliefs. The Company opposed the claims on various grounds.

Mitra, Labour Officer, for the employers. Shri Moitra urged that the Company's action in dismissing the complainant on 4th January 1954 took place prior to the constitution of the present Tribunal and, as such, no permission from the Tribunal was necessary under section 33. The case was previously fixed for hearing on 5th September 1956, 9th November 1956, 19th December 1956, 19th February 1957, 7th March 1957 and 15th April 1957, on which dates also, the petitioner did not appear. In these circumstances, the case is dismissed for default of the applicant, and the petition under section 33A of the Act is dismissed, as there is no outstanding dispute between the parties. The application under section 33A is misconceived and not maintainable in law, as pointed out by the learned representative of the mill.

I award accordingly.

M. C. BANERJI,
Chairman, Jute Textile Industry Tribunal.

The 6th June 1957.

(3) If no such undertaking as is mentioned in sub-section (2) is given, or if in a case where any such undertaking has been given any work of improvement to which the undertaking relates is not carried out within the specified period, or the building is at any time used in contravention of the terms of the undertaking, the competent authority shall forthwith make an order of demolition of the building requiring that the building shall be vacated within a period to be specified in the order not being less than thirty days from the date of the order, and that it shall be demolished within six weeks after the expiration of that period.

Provided that any building in the area which is not unfit for human habitation or dangerous or injurious to health may be excluded from the declaration if the authority considers it necessary.

order to be vacated or before the expiration of such longer period as in the circumstances of the case the competent authority may deem reasonable.

(5) If the buildings are not demolished before the expiration of the period mentioned in sub-section (4), the competent authority shall enter and demolish the buildings and sell the materials thereof.

(6) Any expenses incurred by the competent authority in demolishing any building shall, if not satisfied out of the proceeds of sale of materials thereof, be recoverable by the competent authority as arrears of land revenue.

Provided that an owner who is aggrieved by a restriction or condition so imposed on the user of his land or by a subsequent refusal of the competent authority to cancel or modify any such restriction or condition may at any time appeal to the Administrator and the Administrator shall make such order in the matter as he thinks proper and his decision shall be final.

(8) No person shall commence or cause to be commenced any work in contravention of a plan approved or a restriction or condition imposed under sub-section (7).

11. Where land has been cleared of buildings in accordance with a slum clearance order, the competent authority may, at any time after the expiration of twelve months from the date on which the order became operative, by order, determine to re-develop any land which on the date of the making of the order has not been, or is not in the process of being, re-developed by the owner thereof in accordance with plans approved by the authority and any restrictions and conditions imposed under sub-section (7) of section 10.

Provided that, before publishing such notice, the Central Government may call upon the owner of, or any other person who, in the opinion of the Central Government, may be interested in, such land to show cause why it should not be acquired; and after considering the cause, if any, shown by the owner or any other person interested in the land, the Central Government may pass such order as it deems fit.

(4) Any person who does not agree to the amount of the net average monthly income determined by the competent authority under sub-section (3) and claims a sum in excess of that amount may prefer an appeal to the Administrator within thirty days from the date specified in the notice referred to in that sub-section.

(5) On appeal the Administrator shall, after hearing the appellant, determine the net average monthly income and his determination shall be final and shall not be questioned in any court of law.

THE SCHEDULE

(See section 15)

PRINCIPLES FOR DETERMINATION OF THE NET AVERAGE MONTHLY INCOME

1. The competent authority shall first determine the gross rent actually derived by the owner of the land acquired including any building on such land during the period of five consecutive years referred to in sub-section (1) of section 15.

2. For such determination the competent authority may hold any local inquiry and obtain, if necessary, certified copies of extracts from the property tax assessment books of the municipal or other local authority concerned showing the rental value of such land.

3. The net average monthly income referred to in sub-section (1) of section 15 shall be sixty per cent. of the average monthly gross rent which shall be one-sixtieth of the gross rent during the five consecutive years as determined by the competent authority under paragraph 1.

4. Forty per cent. of the gross monthly rental referred to above shall not be taken into consideration in determining the net average monthly income but shall be deducted in lieu of the expenditure which the owner of the land would normally incur for payment of any property tax to the municipal or other local authority for collection charges, income-tax or bad debts as well as for works of repair and maintenance of the buildings, if any, on the land.

5. Where the land or any portion thereof has been unoccupied or the owner has not been in receipt of any rent for the occupation of the land during the whole or any part of the said period of five years the gross rent shall be taken to be the income which the owner would in fact have derived if the land had been leased out for rent during the said period and for this purpose the rent actually derived from the land during a period prior or subsequent to the period during which it remained vacant or from similar land in the vicinity shall be taken into account.

Champdany Jute Mills and their workmen. (Case Nos. 259, 260 and 261 of 1951, under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.),
Chairman, Jute Textile Industry Tribunal.

For the complainants: Shri Shib Nath Banerji.

For the employers: Shri R. L. Moitra, Deputy Labour Adviser of the I.J.M.A.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order Nos. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(a)/53, 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54 and 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 7th April 1954, 6th May 1954, 12th July 1954, 21st July 1954 and 26th August 1954, respectively, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between 101 specified Jute Mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

Gopebandhu Mahanty, Ticket No. 66, Finishing Drawing Feeder and Receiver in case No. 259, Brindaban Nayak, Ticket No. 69, Finishing Drawing Feeder and Receiver in case No. 260, and Bandhu Shaw, Finishing Drawing Feeder and Receiver, Ticket No. 52 in case No. 261, all workmen of Champdany Jute Mill, applied separately under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, complaining that the Company with a mala fide motive of illegal and unjustified gain changed and altered the conditions of service of the applicants to their prejudice during the pendency of the Third Omnibus Jute Textile Industry Tribunal. It is stated that these workmen applicants along with 117 Rovers worked in the Preparing Department in one shift before the commencement of the adjudication proceedings, but with the introduction of new machines during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings, the workload of the applicants has increased to a great extent, as the applicants have to do the work of Finishing Feeder and Receiver in the new machines without any corresponding increase in pay and this has been prejudicial to their interest. The petitioners pray that they should be granted adequate compensatory monetary relief for the additional labour involved for the period of increased workload and the company should put the petitioners back to their conditions of service including the designation, workload, wages and other related things as prevailing before the commencement of the adjudication proceedings. These three cases, being case Nos. 259, 260 and 261, were heard together as they involved the same questions of fact and law.

The Company, in its written statements, states that Gopi Mahanti was a Roving Shifter, Brindaban Nayak was also a Roving Shifter and Bandhu Shaw was a Rover in the employment of the Company before the introduction of the new machines. Consequent upon modernisation of the Mill and the introduction of labour saving devices, the roving machines were replaced by finishing drawing machines (automatic roll formers) and the services of the petitioners as Rovers or Roving Shifters became surplus to requirement of the Company. Instead of laying them off and applying to the Tribunal for permission to retrench them, the Company in pursuance of the spirit of the Industrial Disputes Act as laid down in section 25E(i), absorbed them in alternative employment as Finishing Drawing Feeder and Receiver without any reduction of wages or any material changes in their conditions of service. Reallocation of work to them without any reduction of wages or any material changes in their conditions of service does not constitute a violation of section 33. The petitions under section 33A should, therefore, be rejected.

The points that arise for decision of this case are as follows:—

Points

(1) Are the applications under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act maintainable?

(2) Are the petitioners entitled to any relief?

DECISIONS

Points Nos. 1 and 2: Bandhu Shaw, petitioner in case No. 261, deposed for the petitioners and Mr. John Bryson, Manager of Champdany Jute Mill, deposed for the Company. Bandhu Shaw was a Rover from 1949 to 1953 and the other two applicants, Brindaban Nayak and Gopebandhu Mahanty were Roving Shifters. It is in the evidence of the witness that roving frames were scrapped and new machines were installed in their place. The process of roving was altogether eliminated due to the introduction of silver spinning. The Rovers and the Roving Shifters, therefore, became redundant. The process of finishing drawing took the place of roving, and the job of Finishing Drawing Feeder and Receiver was offered to the redundant Rovers and Roving Shifters. The three applicants were engaged in this job. Bandhu Shaw states that he began to work in the new machines in 1955. He, however, states that he had to work in a new machine in place of four men in the old machine. He states that in the roving machine four men used to do a job. The same job is now done in the new machine by only one man. There is no doubt that on account of the scrapping of the old machines and the introduction of silver spinning machines and labour-saving devices of the new machines, the complement of workmen has been considerably reduced. It appears from the evidence of Bandhu Shaw that for a group of six roving machines, there were 6 Machinemen, 4 women, 9 Shifters and 3 Coolies and 1 Shifter Sirdar. In the present finishing drawing machine, there are 6 Machinemen only for a group of 6 machines. The feeding is done by the Machinemen himself. No bobbins have to be removed, but there are 16 boxes which the Machineman has to remove himself. Bandhu Shaw states that as a Rover, he was getting Rs. 15-8 per week. No he gets Rs. 16-8 per week, inclusive of the increase of as. 14 according to the last Tribunal award. He admits that in his new work he does not get lesser wage than what he used to get as a Rover. He admits that when roving was abolished, he became a surplus and he was given an alternative employment. He used to get the same wage in his new job as he used to get as a Rover, and this wage was fixed by the Tribunal. He also states that he used to get the Tribunal wage before the abolition of roving and as well as after the abolition of roving process. The evidence of Mr. Bryson shows that the new work of the Finishing Drawing Feeder and Receiver is not more strenuous than that of a Rover and that the claim that their conditions of service were altered to their prejudice during the pendency of the proceedings before the Tribunal is unjustified.

The First Major Jute Textile Tribunal Award in September 1948, as well as the award of the Third Major Jute Textile Tribunal in October 1955, fixed the basic wages of the operatives in a Jute Mill according to their workload and strain in work. The basic wage of the Rover as well as the Roving Shifter in the First Award was Rs. 30.33. The basic wage of the First Drawing Feeder and the Second Drawing Feeder Rolls was also the same. This is more than the basic wage of the First Drawing Receiver and the Second Drawing Feeder Ordinary, which was only Rs. 27.08. This basic wage was increased by the award of the Third Major Jute Textile Tribunal and these wages were increased to Rs. 39 per month. The dearness allowance was, however, reduced in part. The result was that the total wages of these categories of workmen before the award of the Third Jute Textile Tribunal was Rs. 15-8 per week, and after the Third Jute Textile Tribunal Award, it became Rs. 16-8 per week. The fact that the wages of these three categories were fixed at the same amount shows that the Tribunal considered the workload of all these three categories of work to be the same. The question of increase of workload in the case of Drawing Feeder Receiver was also raised at the time of the Third Jute Textile Tribunal proceeding and the Tribunal did not consider that there was any increase of workload in their case on account of the combined operation of receiving and feeding being done by the same person.

On a consideration of the matter and in view of the evidence on record, I do not consider that there has been any alteration in the conditions of service of the petitioners to their prejudice during the pendency of the proceedings before the Tribunal. The provisions of section 33 of the Act was not, therefore, violated and the applications under section 33A of the Act were not competent. The petitioners are not entitled to any relief and the petitions are rejected. This award shall govern all the three cases.

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.),

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order Nos. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(a)/53, 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54 and 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 7th April 1954, 6th May 1954, 12th July 1954, 21st July 1954 and 26th August 1954, respectively, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act,

On 2nd May 1955 Aminuddin Mollah and eight other workmen of Fort Gloster Jute Mill, applied under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, complaining that their services had been transferred from the Old Mill to the New Mill and that the condition of their service has been changed to their detriment. It is prayed that they may be allowed to work as per their previous condition of service and that they may be given suitable compensation. The Company opposed the claims on various grounds.

The case was fixed for hearing on 31st May 1957, on which date none of the applicants appeared. Miss P. Mitra, Labour Officer of the I.J.M.A., was, however, present for the employers. Prior to 31st May 1957, this case was fixed for hearing on 24th July 1956, 8th September 1956, 2nd November 1956, 10th December 1956, 16th February 1957, 6th March 1957 and 10th April 1957, and on each of these occasions not a single soul appeared for them. In these circumstances, the conclusion is irresistible that the petitioners' interest in this proceeding has waned. The case is, therefore, dismissed for default of the applicant, and the petition under section 33A is dismissed, as there is no outstanding dispute between the parties, and it is awarded accordingly.

The award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

On 9th August 1955 Shri Devendra Nath Singh, a workman of Union North Jute Mill, applied under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, complaining against his dismissal on various grounds. It is prayed that he may be reinstated with other consequential reliefs. The Company opposed the claims on various grounds.

This case was fixed for hearing on 31st May 1957, on which date the workman did not appear. Previous to 31st May 1957, this case was fixed for hearing on 7th August 1956, 22nd September 1956, 16th November 1956, 19th December, 1956, 18th January 1957, 2nd March 1957, 26th March 1957 and 17th April 1957, on which dates also the petitioner did not appear. It appears from Ext. A, being a certified copy of the Company's petition under section 33, that the Company applied for permission to dismiss the petitioner during the pendency of the main proceedings. It further appears from Ext. B, being a certified copy of the Tribunal's order, that the Tribunal struck off this application on the ground that it had lost jurisdiction to adjudicate on it, as the pendency of the proceedings had terminated.

The case is dismissed for default of the applicant, and the petition under section 33A is dismissed, as there is no outstanding dispute between the parties. The present case is also not maintainable (vide 1955 L.A.C., 221), and it is awarded accordingly.

For the complainants: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate and Shri Bibhas Ghosh.

For the employers: Shri R. L. Moitra, Deputy Labour Adviser of the I.J.M.A.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order Nos. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(a)/53, 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54 and 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 7th April 1954, 6th May 1954, 12th July 1954, 21st July 1954 and 26th August 1954, respectively, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between 101 specified Jute Mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 6th October 1955.

These are six applications under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by—

(1) Panchu Choudhury in case No. 255 of 55,

(2) Lalbehari Das in case No. 256 of 55,

(3) Shew Prosad in case No. 257 of 55,

(4) Sheonandan Kahar in case No. 404 of 55,

(5) Pir Mahammed in case No. 359 of 55, and

(6) Gopal Prosad in case No. 360 of 55.

The complaint of the workmen in each of these cases is the same and is based upon the same facts. All the six workmen were workers in the Spinning Department of the Chamdany Jute Mill and used to work as Shifters. There were 214 Shifters working in the Spinning Department before October 1954. The old spinning frames of the Mill which were in operation till October 1954, were scrapped and replaced by new automatic high speed sliver spinning frames. The machines were gradually installed in place of the old machines and the installation of the new high speed spinning frames was completed by March 1955. The applicants who were Spinning Shifters in the old machines were appointed as Spinning Doffing Cooly in the new machines. The petitioner's case is that with the introduction of the new machines by the Company during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings, the workload of the applicants has increased to a great extent, and this has been to the prejudice of the applicants. The applicants were time-rated workers before the commencement of the original proceedings, but now they have been made piece-rated workers without their consent. It is also stated that although the wage of the applicants has increased slightly, this has no relation to the increase of the workload that has resulted in the new job of the petitioners. It is further stated that the designation of the applicants as Shifters was changed to Spinning Doffing Cooly, and that has been prejudicial to their interest inasmuch as the former designation carries a higher rate of pay than the latter.

The petitioners, therefore, pray that the petitioners should be granted adequate monetary compensation, taking into consideration the additional workload allotted to them since the date of the introduction of the new machines.

The Company, in its written statement, states as follows: The applications under section 33A filed by the six workmen are misconceived and are not maintainable in law, as the Company did not alter to the prejudice of the workmen the condition of their service during the pendency of the Third Jute Textile Industry Tribunal. Prior to the introduction of the modern machineries the average number of Shifters who worked in a single shift on ordinary spinning frames was 133. Consequent upon the modernisation of the Spinning Department and the introduction of the high speed sliver spinning frames, the services of the Shifters became surplus to requirements. But instead of laying them off and applying to the Tribunal for permission to retrench them, the Company absorbed them including the petitioners in the alternative employment as Doffing Coolies without any reduction in their wages or any material increase in their workload. As a Shifter, each of the petitioners used to shift an average of 94 spindles on ordinary spinning frames, but as a Doffing Colly, he has only to doff 250 spindles. The nature of the work of a Doffing Colly is different from that of a Shifter. A Shifter's job entails various processes and is heavier than that of a Doffing Colly. The Doffing Coolies' wages were changed from time-rate to piece-rate, but the same change was not prejudicial to them. This change was not introduced without the consent of the Doffing Coolies. Instead of retrenching the surplus workmen consequent upon modernisation and rationalisation, reallocation of work without any reduction in wages of the workmen, or any material change in their condition of service does not constitute a violation of section 33 of the Act. Following representation of the Doffing Coolies to the Labour Directorate, the Assistant Labour Commissioner held enquiries and was of the opinion that there had been no fall in the Shifters' earnings since their absorption as Doffing Coolies. On the contrary, in some cases they were earning more. According to him also, the workload did not increase. A copy of the letter received in this connection is enclosed as Annexure B to the Company's written statement. The Company submits that the application submitted by the petitioners under section 33A should be rejected on the preliminary point of law and on merits.

The points that arise for decision in this case are as follows:—

Points

(1) Are the applications maintainable?

(2) Are the petitioners entitled to any relief?

DECISIONS

Points Nos. 1 and 2: P.W. 1 Sew Prosad, petitioner in case No. 257 and P.W. 2 Lal Behari, petitioner in case No. 256, deposed for the petitioners. O.P.W. 1, Mr. J. G. Bryson, Manager of Champdany Jute Mill, deposed for the Company. P.W. 1 states that he was a Shifter in the old machine and he is now a Doffing Cooly in the new machine. The work has increased four times than before. A Shifter who used to remove 72 bobbins in the old machine now removes 160 bobbins, and the men who used to remove 120 bobbins have to remove 250 bobbins in the new machines. Formerly he used to keep the bobbins in the basket near the machine. Formerly he used to work standing erect, but now he has to bend down and stoop to remove the bobbins. Previously he used to take 10 minutes for removing the bobbins and got rest for 10 minutes but he now requires 18 minutes for removing the bobbins and he does not get any rest. He has to arrange the bobbins in the boxes and push the boxes to the Beaming Department for weighing. In fixing the bobbins, he takes about 10 minutes' time. Each line of spinning frame has 100 bobbins. For one who was to remove 250 bobbins, he would remove 200 from 2 machines facing each other and has to go to a third machine for another 50. He wants that only 200 bobbins instead of 250 bobbins should be removed in yarns No. 1, 2 and 3, and 150 bobbins instead of 160 in yarn No. 4 and states that such a number of bobbins by way of workload is prevalent in Northbrook and Dalhousie Jute Mills. He further states that he wants to work two machines, i.e., remove only 200 bobbins and he wants also a Helper for every 6 men. He also wants an increase in his wage. He also gives the description of his work as a Shifter and that of his work as a Doffing Cooly. The details of the work as given by him in his deposition also appears in Annexure A to the Company's written statement, as also in P.W. 2 Lal Behari's evidence, and in the evidence of O.P.W. 1 Mr. Bryson. It is unnecessary to discuss the details of the work of a Spinning Shifter on the old spinning frames and that of the work of a Spinning Doffing Cooly in the new automatic silver spinning frames. It appears clearly from the details of the work as given in Annexure A and the evidence of the witnesses that the work of a Shifter of the Spinning Department in the old frames is more strenuous than that of the work of the Spinning Doffing Cooly in the new sliver spinning frames. This fact will also be corroborated by the comparative wages of these two categories of workers as fixed by the award of the Third Jute Textile Industry Tribunal, published on 6th October 1955. It will appear from page 116 of this award that the monthly wage of a Spinning Shifter is Rs. 36.84, i.e., at Rs. 8.50 per week, whereas the monthly wage of the Spinning Doffing Cooly is Rs. 35·75 or Rs. 8·25 per week. The petitioners also state in their written statement that the change of the designation of the workmen from Shifter to that of Spinning Doffing Cooly is prejudicial to their interest, as the former designation carries a higher rate of pay than the latter. It is, therefore, abundantly clear that the plea that as Spinning Doffing Cooly their workload has been increased from that they used to do as Shifter, is entirely unworthy of support. The Shifters' pay is higher than that of a Spinning Doffing Cooly, because the work of the former is more strenuous than that of the latter. The plea that the workload of the applicants has increased on account of their appointment as Spinning Doffing Coolies is rejected.

It is admitted that the old spinning frames have been scrapped and that new high speed sliver spinning frames have been installed and this installation has been completed by March 1955. In the result, the Shifters in the old spinning frames became surplus to the requirements of the Company. They were thereupon appointed as Spinning Doffing Coolies in the new frames without any reduction in their wages. This alternative employment, without any reduction in wage, is in keeping with the spirit of section 25E of the Industrial Disputes Act. The plea that the change of designation of the workmen from that of a Shifter to Spinning Doffing Cooly has been prejudicial to their interest, as the latter designation carries a smaller rate of pay than the former, is unsubstantial and is rejected. Both the Shifter and the Spinning Doffing Cooly are unskilled workmen doing similar type of work and the wage of the Shifter is Rs. 8·50 and that of the Spinning Doffing Cooly is Rs. 8·25. The slight difference in wage of the Shifter is only on account of the more strenuous character of his duties. The status of both the workers are the same. In view of the fact that the petitioners were appointed as Spinning Doffing Cooly without any reduction of their wage, the complaint for change of designation from that of a Shifter to that of a Spinning Doffing Cooly is of no substance. P.W. 1 states that he was getting more wage now than he was getting as a Shifter. P.W. 2 states that he was previously a Shifter in the old machines and was now a Doffing Cooly in the new machine, practically with the same nature of work as before. He says that he is agreeable to do the work that has been given to him and he wants wages accordingly to the Tribunal's award, but with lesser work.

The learned Advocate for the Union pressed that after the installation of the new machines, the production of the Spinning Department had been increased by 10 per cent., while the complement of the workers had been considerably reduced and that this should be considered as a proof positive of the fact of the increase of the workload of the petitioners. The increase of the production does not necessarily connote an increase of the workload on the part of the Spinning Doffing Coolies. The new high speed sliver spinning frames have been designed to give more production on account of their high working speed. The increase in production does not necessarily show increase of workload on the part of the operatives of the new spinning frames.

A complaint was made that the conversion of wage from time-rate to piece-rate has been to the prejudice of the worker. It appears from the evidence of the witnesses that they are getting more wage now on piece-rates than what they used to get according to the time-rates as awarded by the Tribunal. The Shifter's basic wage, as has been mentioned above, is Rs. 8.50 per week. Exhibits A and A(1), being the earnings for 4 weeks during April 1957 of the Doffing Coolies in the Champdany Mills, shows that almost all of them are earning more than Rs. 10 per week. This is what has been admitted by P.W. 1 Shew Prosad in his deposition. It is, therefore, clear that the change of time-rate wage to piece-rate wage has not been to the prejudice of the workmen. P.W. 1 states that where there is time-rate according to the Tribunal's award, they get less than what he and other workers got in this Mill. Neither P.W. 1 nor P.W. 2 prayed for a change of the piece-rate wage to time-rates. The workers in their evidence only want increase of wage and reduction of work. The prayers of the petitioners on their applications do not clearly show that the conversion of time-rate system to the piece-rate system has been to their prejudice, or that they were eager to revert to the time-rates, as awarded by the Tribunal.

Considering the facts and circumstances of the case, it appears that there is nothing on record to justify the plea that there has been any change in the conditions of service of the petitioners to their prejudice. There has, therefore, been no violation of section 33 of the Act and the present applications under section 33A are not competent. The petitioners are not entitled to any relief and all the applications under section 33A of the Act are rejected. This award shall govern all the six cases.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order Nos. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(a)/53, 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54 and 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated 7th April 1954, 6th May 1954, 12th July 1954, 21st July 1954 and 26th August 1954, respectively, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between 101 specified Jute Mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

Shri Jagannath, a workman of Bengal Jute Mill Co., Ltd., applied on 12th September 1955 under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, complaining against his dismissal on various grounds. It is prayed that he may be reinstated with other consequential reliefs. The Company opposed the claims on various grounds.

This case was fixed for hearing on 31st May 1957, on which date, the workman, Jagannath, did not appear. Miss P. Mitra, Labur Officer of the I.J.M.A., was, however, present for the employers. It may be remarked in passing that this case was previously fixed for hearing on 7th September 1956, 31st October 1956, 8th December 1956, 16th February 1957, 6th March 1957 and 11th April 1957, on none of which dates the petitioner appeared. In these circumstances, it is useless to drag this case any further. It appears from Ext. A that the Company applied under section 33 for permission to dismiss the petitioner during the pendency of the main proceedings and it further appears from Ext. B that the Tribunal struck off this application on the ground that it had lost jurisdiction to adjudicate on it, as the pendency of the proceeding in the main adjudication had terminated.

This case is dismissed for default of the applicant, and the petition under section 33A of the Act is dismissed, as there is no outstanding dispute between the parties, and it is awarded accordingly.

ORDER

No. 2141-I.R./IR/11L-234/57.—21st June 1957.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3149Dis./D/11L-234/56, dated the 18th July 1956, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Plastic & Moulding Co., 300 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, and their workmen represented by Indian Plastic & Moulding Company Workers' Union, 12/A Shibtola Lane, Calcutta-15, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Second Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Second Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Plastic & Moulding Co., 300 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, and their workmen represented by Indian Plastic & Moulding Company Workers' Union, 12/A Shibtola Lane, Calcutta-15.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the employees: None

For the Company: None.

The present dispute between Messrs. Indian Plastic & Moulding Co. 300 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, and their workmen represented by Indian Plastic & Moulding Company Workers' Union, 12/A Shibtola Lane, Calcutta-15, was referred to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal under order No. 3149Dis./D/11L-234/56, dated 18th July 1956, for adjudication regarding fixation of minimum wage and hours of work.

AWARD

This reference was received by this Tribunal on 7th August 1956. Notices on the parties concerned were given fixing 31st August 1956 for appearance and for filing written statement. As there was no appearance by either party on that date, another notice was issued to the Union fixing 7th December 1956 for filing written statement. This time too, the Union did neither enter appearance nor file written statement before the Tribunal. So, again on 2nd January 1957 a fresh notice was issued to the Union directing it to appear and file written statement by 20th January 1957. Still the Tribunal waited till 25th March 1957. On 26th March 1957, the Tribunal, in order to give last chance to the Union, wrote a letter to it to appear and file written statement on or before 30th April 1957, failing which the case would proceed ex parte. Although this letter was received on behalf of the Union on 13th April 1957, the Union did not even care to enter appearance or file written statement before the Tribunal. There was no appearance on behalf of the Company as well.

In view of what has been stated above, it is presumed that the workers have no longer any grievance to press for redress, and that the dispute between the parties has ceased to exist. There being no dispute for adjudication, a "No-dispute" award is passed, and the present reference is thus disposed of.

Dictated and corrected by me.

Judge.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between the Corporation of Calcutta, 1 Hogg Street, Calcutta, and their workers of the Palta Water Works, represented by the Palta Water Works Workers' Union, Barrackpore, 24-Parganas, and Water Workers' Union, Trade Union Congress Office, P.O. Talpukur, 24-Parganas.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal

Present for the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate, with Shri M. M. Saha, Advocate.

Present for Corporation: Shri A. K. Mookerji, Counsel, with Shri A. K. Bose, Solicitor.

1. By Government order No. 2872Dis./D/14L-4(C)/56, dated 2nd July 1956, and the corrigendum No. 4216Dis./D/14L-4(C)/56, dated 19th September 1956, the aforesaid dispute was referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal presided over by me for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947). The said Fifth Industrial Tribunal was constituted under Government notification No. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1951.

2. The reference was received here on 3rd July 1956. The Union filed written statement on 14th July 1956. Thereafter Government issued a corrigendum No. 4216Dis./D/14L-4(C)/56, dated 19th September 1956, adding the Palta Water Works Workers' Union as a party to the order of reference. The order of reference was amended accordingly, fresh notices were issued. This new Union filed its written statement on 5th November 1956. The Tribunal, by its order No. 14, dated 18th January 1957, stayed the written statement of the newly-added Workers' Union in view of the fact that there was a matter pending before the Hon'ble Calcutta High Court about the membership of this Union, viz., whether they were Corporation's direct employees. But, regarding the other Union, the case was allowed to proceed. The Corporation filed written objection on 11th August 1956. It was taken up for hearing on 18th March 1957 and continued till 20th March 1957 when the evidence was concluded. The argument was heard on 12th April 1957 and the award was reserved.

3. The issues contained in the schedule to the order of reference stand as follows:—

(1) Permanency of temporary hands.

(2) House rent allowance.

(3) Increase in dearness allowance.

(4) Increment in basic wages.

AWARD

Before I deal with the issues specifically, I would like to preface the matter with a reference to the written statements placed before the Tribunal by the respective sides. According to the Union, the workmen employed in the Palta Water Works, numbering about 573, play a very great part in the normal life of the citizens of Calcutta. But they are very poorly paid. Out of these people, 496 are manual labour of which 267 are temporary hands. The last award regarding the Calcutta Corporation was published in the Calcutta Gazette Extraordinary, dated 31st May 1950. The said award was greatly influenced by the financial unsound condition of the Corporation at that time. The workmen claim here the minimum wages as prevalent in the Calcutta Tramways Company Ltd., Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation Ltd., and such other public utility concerns. The Union in question was formed in July 1955 for collective bargaining. But, as neither the Calcutta Corporation nor the State Government could be prevailed on to accede to the demands of the Union, a strike notice was given. The strike was to take place on the 8th July 1956. But because in the meanwhile the matter was referred to the Tribunal, the proposed strike was dropped. The Union claims D. A. to be raised from Rs. 25 to Rs. 35 in case of pay range up to Rs. 50. It should be Rs. 45 up to the pay range of Rs. 100 and Rs. 50 up to the pay range of Rs. 150 per month. The Union claims a flat increase of Rs. 25 in the pay scale per month.

The Calcutta Corporation has given a brief resumé of different strike notices given by the Union, and how it acceded to the demends to the best of its capacity from time to time. There was a Tribunal set up on the 19th October 1949 in which the issues for adjudication were the same as they are here. Prior to that there was another Tribunal on 11th February 1948. By the Tribunal award of 1948 the establishment cost of the Corporation which stood at 91 lacs of rupees went up to Rs. 260 lacs of rupees per year. As a result of these awards, the establishment charges amounted to about 55 per cent. of the total annual revenue of the Corporation. Even after the award of 1950 the Union did not stop making demands. In 1953 they put up a long list of fresh demands. The Corporation appointed a Special Committee to go into those demands. But the recommendations of the said Committee did not satisfy the Union. So the Corporation set up a Consultative Special Committee. This Committee recommended grant of a house rent allowance on the usual Government scale to all drawing a basic pay up to Rs. 300 per month with effect from the 1st April 1954, provided it was within the financial resources of the Corporation. This involved a recurring annual expenditure of 8 lacs and 15 thousand. The Corporation set up a Standing Finance Committee, and this Committee passed a resolution on the 29th March 1954. It came to the decision that it was not possible to recommend acceptance of these demands involving an annual expenditure of 25 lacs of rupees. The Committee, however, recommended the acceptance of Rs. 8 lacs and odd for house rent allowance, and one lac for food concession. The Corporation accepted this recommendation of the Standing Finance Committee. It directed the said Committee to devise ways and means towards meeting the cost. The proposal regarding food concession has fizzled out because Government refused to bear their share in it. Regarding the increase in D. A., the Corporation's stand is that it is prepared to pay according to the scales prescribed by the Government of West Bengal by its Finance Department circular No. 714F/2A-D/48, dated the 10th April 1948. There is an arrangement between the Government of West Bengal and the Corporation under which Government undertakes to pay 80 per cent. of the expenditure on account of dearness allowance to the Corporation employees on the same scale as it pays to its own employees. So the Corporation is bound down, and it cannot increase the sacle of D. A. in excess of the Government scale.

Regarding the house rent allowance, the Corporation did not grant it before 1945 to its employees excepting those who were entitled to quarters but could not be provided with the same. On 26th November 1946, the Corporation first sanctioned the payment of house rent allowance of Rs. 1/8 per head per month in lieu of quarters for its employees in pumping stations, electricity generating stations and sub-stations. This was first confined to skilled staff, but later on it was extended to all labour staff with effect from 1st January 1947. On 7th May 1954 the Corporation took a resolution that house rent allowance on Government scales and subject to such rules and conditions in this behalf as obtained in Government of West Bengal would be payable to all Corporation employees including labour and menials drawing a pay up to Rs. 300 per month with effect from the 1st April 1954, barring those who are provided with quarters. On 26th August 1955 the Corporation gave effect to this resolution retrospectively from 1st April 1954. On 1st April 1955 Government of West Bengal revised their scales of pay for certain categories of employees. The Corporation cannot grant these revised scales because it cannot make any discrimination among its employees. The Corporation resists the demand of house rent allowance at 10 per cent. of the pay subject to the minimum of Rs. 10, as it will involve an extra cost of Rs. 69,000 for the Palta workers alone. And if it is granted to all the staff of the Corporation, it will involve an annual expenditure of Rs. 15 lacs.

Regarding the increase in the basic wage, the Corporation contends that this claim was turned down by the last two Tribunals. The resources of the Corporation are extremely limited in this respect. Besides, Government of West Bengal is shortly setting up an Advisory Committee under section 6 of the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, to revise the minimum wages existing in the Calcutta Corporation area. So there can be no point in adjudicating upon this matter.

Having before me the two versions of the parties regarding the demands of the Union and the objections thereto by the Calcutta Corporation, I take up the issues for consideration one after another. All these 4 issues have financial implications. So, to consider them, it will be necessary just to go into the financial solvency or otherwise of the resources of the Corporation of Calcutta. As I find, the resources of the Corporation are extremely limited. In the 1st Tribunal of 1948 Shri S. K. Sen noticed this. Shri Sen, the Judge of the said Tribunal, at page 622 of the Calcutta Gazette Extraordinary, dated 22nd July 1948, observed:

> "Our award, we are afraid, will increase the uncovered annual deficit in the budget of the Corporation. We cannot help this. The only remedy is that the Corporation must find some means of increasing its annual revenues. The consolidated rates of Corporation tax have duly been brought up to 21½ per cent. of the annual value of the holdings, and though the maximum statutory limit is 23 per cent. we do not think that a further increase in the rates of the tax could be justified..... It is hoped that the labours of the Corporation Investigation Commission will improve the position in this respect. But additional sources of revenue have to be found, and we would recommend strongly that the Government of West Bengal should favourably consider the suggestions made by the Corporation in Appendix XVI of its written statement for increasing its revenues, namely, that the Corporation should be allocated a share of (i) Amusement Tax, (ii) Electricity Duty Tax, (iii) Sales Tax, (iv) Betting and Totalisator Tax, and (v) a higher share of the Motor Vehicles Tax realised within the Calcutta Municipal area, and that it should be permitted to levy some additional taxes, namely, (i) Town Duty, (ii) Petroleum Tax, (iii) Passenger Tax, (iv) Tax on Fire Insurance Corporation. We may point out that if the Corporation should be unable to run its administration on its revenues, the Government will be ultimately forced to take over the administration of Calcutta as a district, and that in that case, the Government would have to meet the higher expenditure caused by bringing up the wages and salaries up to the level recommended by the Central Pay Commission, or at least up to the level at which wages of the Government servants of the similar working categories have been fixed."

As a result of this award as we have seen, the establishment charges of the Corporation increased from Rs. 91 lacs in 1940 to the stupendous figure of Rs. 260 lacs at the end of the award. It is well known that the Corporation of Calcutta was required to be superseded by the Government under the Supersession Act of 1948 and 1949. Later on the Corporation of Calcutta (Temporary Supersession) Amendment Act, I of 1950, was passed by the West Bengal Legislature. So we can know how disastrous the effect of the above award was on the Corporation. After that there was an award given by Shri S. N. Modok and others (published by the Government of West Bengal in its "Awards made by the Tribunals, 1950", at page 263). There also we see that the Corporation was running in deficit. Its finances had not improved. I refer to the note of dissent by Shri P. R. Mookherji, who had been a member of that Tribunal. At page 317 of the above publication he observed "Lastly, I would like to add that it is the primary duty of the Corporation of Calcutta to serve the rate-payers and to give them better amenities for the enhanced taxes. If the wages and pay structure be increased year after year, I am afraid, there will be little left out of the funds to provide for civic amenities to the citizens of Calcutta. Any further increase in the pay structure may prove to be the last straw on the camel's back and it is likely to break down the financial structure of the municipal administration of the premier metropolis in India". This was the state of affairs in 1950. If I refer to the budget estimate of the Calcutta Corporation for the years 1956-57, I get that the total receipt during 1956-57 stood at 14 crores and odd. The total expenditure during the same period stood at 16 crores and 45 lacs of rupees. Thus it is clear that the expenditure goes far ahead of the receipt. The opening balance on the 1st April 1956 stood at 2 crores and 74 lacs of rupees. It was with this opening balance of the previous year that the budget was somehow balanced. Again, it is noteworthy that out of receipts nearly two crores have been received from the proposed loan. This shows how dismal the financial prospect before the Corporation is. It is somehow carrying on its existence only with the subsidy given by the Government. It is practically on the breaking point. So any increase in expenditure must be granted only after extreme caution and care. Against this the Union has produced a cutting from the "Jugantar" publication, a local daily. But that is not very much dependable. Certainly it is not more dependable than the Corporation budget figures. This cutting of newspaper is hardly admissible in evidence. Against this financial background let me consider the issues one by one.

Issue No. 1

The Union makes a grievance of the facts that there are many temporary hands in permanent vacancies not having been made permanent, and that there are many permanent hands promoted to permanent vacancies not having been made permanent there, and also that there are many temporary hands in temporary departments who have not been made permanent. Their names have been given in the Appendices to the Union's written statement. Against this the Corporation has mentioned its practical difficulties. The Calcutta Municipal Act, 1951, in section 81(6) provides that appointments to posts, the maximum salary of which is below Rs. 250 per month shall be made by the Commissioner, subject to such regulations realting to such appointment as may be framed by the Municipal Service Commission and approved by the Corporation. The Municipal Service Commission was set up on 31st July 1953. Pending the framing of regulations by the said Service Commission, the Commissioner made appointments. But Government by their letter No. M.2A-19-52, dated 13th October 1952, permitted the Corporation to make appointments only on purely temporary basis until the regulations of the Commission were available. The Municipal Service Commission has since framed regulations in respect of some categories of staff whose monthly salaries are within Rs. 250. But these regulations could not be given effect to because the Corporation made certain amendments which again required ratification by the said Service Commission. This required time. So the employees who were appointed on temporary basis could not be made permanent, and there was some delay. But the said regulations, I am given to understand, have since been finalised. The matter of confirmation of temporary hands has been taken in hand. Some of them have already been made permanent. In this state of things, I do not think that the Tribunal would be justified in making a drastic order about confirmation of the employees in question. This matter may come up for consideration if any of those employees entitled to confirmation under the regulations, remains to be confirmed. I, however, agree with the learned Counsel of the Corporation that the temporary employees who are employed in temporary posts or are working in leave vacancies in permanent posts, cannot be confirmed as a matter of course. Fixing of any external time limit in such cases will merely complicate matters. That cannot conduce to industrial peace. I, accordingly, refrain from passing any such order.

So, in the circumstances, I do not give any direction other than calling upon the Corporation to speed up matters and make amends to the delay in the past which could not be helped in the circumstances.

Issue No. 2—House Rent Allowance

I have already pointed out that before 1945, the Corporation did not grant any house rent allowance except to those employees who were entitled to quarters but could not be so provided with. It was only on the 1st January 1946, that the Corporation granted house rent allowance for the first time at Rs. 1-8 per month per head, to skilled staff working in pumping stations, electricity generating stations and sub-stations. The benefit of this allowance was further liberalised on 1st January 1947 when it was extended also to the unskilled labour staff. A marked step in advance was made in this direction on 26th August 1955 when the Corporation sanctioned payment of house rent allowance on Government scales as it stood on 1st April 1954, and subject to rules and conditions in force in Government of West Bengal. This took effect from 1st April 1954. Thus it will appear that the benefit given was retrospective. On the 1st April 1955 the Government of West Bengal further revised their scales for certain categories of employees only. The Corporation is opposed to extend this benefit to all its employees. I do not see why the Corporation must go beyond the scope of Government revision of scales of house rent allowance. But so far as the scales go, there is hardly any reason why the Corporation should not apply them to its employees. But here I am not concerned with the claim of house rent for the employees of the Corporation in general. I am concerned with the workers before me, viz., the workers of the Palta Water Works. If any of these employees does answer the requirements of the revised Government order about house rent, issued on 1st April 1955, I find that he must get it. But I cannot grant extension of the said benefit to all and sundry. It is contended by the Corporation that Government servants posted at Palta do not get house rent allowance. So the workers at Palta cannot claim this allowance. They have been granted it ex gratia. Whether this benefit has been granted ex gratia or not, it does not very much matter. They were getting it very much on the lines Government employees in West Bengal were getting. So they should get the revised rate of house rent allowance as given by the Government of West Bengal on 1st April 1955, provided they answer the requirements of those categories for which the above revision was meant. In this respect evidence has not been placed before me as to which of the employees are so entitled to revised rate of house rent and which not. So I leave the matter to the Management to work out and to give the benefit of this revised house rent allowance to one who is so entitled to it in the Palta Water Works within two months of the award becoming operative.

Regarding the claim of the Union for house rent allowance at 10 per cent. of the basic pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 10 it cannot be granted for obvious reasons. This will cost nearly Rs. 70,000 extra expenditure at Palta alone, and Rs. 15 lacs for the whole of the Corporation establishments. Such claim was rejected by the two previous Tribunals. I find no reason why I should grant such a claim. So, subject to above observations about the revised scales of house rent allowance, I reject the claim.

Issue No. 3—Increase in Dearness Alowance

The Corporation has so long been paying dearness allowance on the scales prescribed by the Government of West Bengal for its own employees.

The scales adopted by the West Bengal Government were set forth in the Finance Department circular No. 714F/2A-2/48, dated 10th April 1948. The annual cost for payment of dearness allowance to the entire staff of the Corporation was nearly 90 lacs of rupees. This was more than what the Corporation was able to pay. So there was an arrangement between the Government of West Bengal and the Calcutta Corporation under which the said Government undertook to pay 80 per cent. of the burden on the score of dearness allowance. The condition was that the Corporation must pay its employees on the scales as given by the Government to its employees. So the Corporation is not in a position to increase the dearness allowance beyond that limit. The Union claims dearness allowance on the scales as given by the Calcutta Electricity Supply Company Ltd. and the Calcutta Tramways Company Ltd. because the above concerns are said to be public utility concerns very much like the Calcutta Corporation. But I should say that the difference is perhaps more than the similarity. Both the aforesaid concerns, although they are undoubtedly public utility concerns, are essentially profit-making concerns. They make profits. But the Calcutta Corporation is not a profit-making concern. Its finances are extremely limited under the statutory limit. It is running practically at the mercy of the State Government. Its primary function is to secure civic amenities to the citizens of Calcutta. Its finances, as I have already shown, are practically on the breaking point. So the quantum of dearness allowance admissible in the above two concerns named by the Union, cannot be granted by the Calcutta Corporation. The Union then tried to link dearness allowance to the cost of living index figures. But the cost of living index figures are out of place here. Such claim in the past was discarded by the two successive Tribunals, and for good reasons. Dearness allowance, after all, must depend as much on the cost of living index figure as on the capacity of the particular concern to pay. But here that capacity is badly wanting. So, this contention of the Union is liable to be rejected. The claim of the Union would entail an extra expenditure to the tune of Rs. 31 lacs. But there is one point in this connection which requires consideration. The Government of West Bengal, by the Finance Department memo. No. 3558F/F/-2A-110/56, dated 25th August 1956, granted an increase of Rs. 2 in the dearness allowance to its employees. Next, it was further revised by the Finance Department memo. No. 934F/2A-60/57, dated 30th March 1957, which provided that Government servants drawing pay not exceeding Rs. 250 per month should draw an additional dearness allowance of Rs. 5 per month. So, ultimately, dearness allowance has been increased by the Government of West Bengal on the 30th March 1957 to Rs. 5 per month (vide Government memos. in the Appendix). Now, whether the Corporation should grant this increased dearness allowance will be the question. As the Corporation employees have been practically put on par with Government employees drawing salary up to Rs. 250 per month, so far as dearness allowance is concerned, I really see no reason why the Corporation employees should be denied the benefit of this increased dearness allowance. I am, of course, concerned with the workers of the Palta Water Works. Besides, when Government would bear 80 per cent. of the burden, the Corporation would be required to pay only 20 per cent. of it. The employees of the Palta Water Works would not get dearness allowance beyond the Government scales. Now, when there has been a revision for increase of dearness allowance done by the Government of West Bengal, the Palta workers ought to get that benefit very much like Government employees of similar categories. So I allow the employees of the Palta Water Works an increase of Rs. 5 in their dearness allowance with effect from the 1st April 1957. I do not pass similar order with reference to the increment of dearness allowance as provided in the memorandum aforesaid, dated 25th August 1956, because that order has been eventually superseded by the Government by its memorandum No. 934F/2A-60/57, dated 30th March 1957, aforesaid. I grant no interim back dearness allowance for the intervening period.

Issue No. 4—Increment in Basic Wages

This claim for increase in the basic wages was strenuously fought before the two Tribunals, viz., Tribunals presided over by Shri S. K. Sen in 1948 and Shri S. M. Modak in 1950. Both the Judges turned down this claim of increase in basic wages. I need not reiterate the reasons given in those two awards. The Corporation does not dispute that the Palta Water Works plays an important part in the day-to-day life of the citizens of Calcutta. What it disputes is that the work here is not so hazardous as the Union would like to suggest. I have gone through the oral evidence on this point. I am not very much impressed by the evidence, so far as the question of the work here being in any way risky or perilous. Besides, it is contended by the learned Counsel of the Corporation that Government proposed to set up a Committee to revise the minimum wages in the Calcutta Corporation area and also in the Howrah Municipal area in no time. Pending that revision by the Minimum Wages Committee, it is contended, the Tribunal should not adjudicate upon it. There is a good deal of force in this contention. But as I find that no increment in basic wages is payable in the present state of the Corporation's finances, I disallow the claim. The Corporation runs itself with Government subvention of Rs. 80 lacs per annum. Undertaking for adequate supply of water to the rate-payers is the crying need today. The estimated expenditure in this respect comes nearly to about 2½ crores of rupees. The establishment charges also swallow up about 50 per cent. of the total annual revenue. To make the establishment charges still higher would be to precipitate the financial crisis of the Calcutta Corporation. I am not prepared to do that. So I reject this prayer made under this issue.

Before I part with the records of the case, I think I should advert to the legal objection raised by the Corporation that the award of 1950 remains to be terminated, as is required under section 19(6) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The contention of the Union is that since the award of 1950, lots of changes have been effected in modification of the said award. So it does not require to be specifically annulled by the notices of the parties. It is true enough that the award has been considerably modified by action of the parties. But that is only by mutual consent. Where there is a difference or dispute, it is up to any party to invoke the operative character of the award. But on the points on which the award was varied or derogated from, I think it is up to the parties to set up new contentions and it is up to the Tribunal to adjudicate upon. The award of 1950, for all practical purposes, is dead. Only it remains to be buried ceremoniously by a notice. Anyway, this cannot take away from the effect of the present award, so far as it went.

Israel, represented by the Calcutta Bidi Mazdoor Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order being matters specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the First Labour Court;

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Sk. Khaliluddin Abdul Sattar, 30 Upper Circular Road, Calcutta, and their workman Shri Md. Israel represented by the Calcutta Bidi Mazdoor Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, referred under Government order No. 1213-I.R./IR/11L-232/56, dated the 17th April 1957. (Case No. VIII-C—22/57.)

BEFORE THE FIRST LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:
SHRI N. C. CHATTERJEE, Judge.

Appearances.

For the Union: Shri Rabin Chakraborty.

For the Company: None.

The Government of West Bengal in the Department of Labour by order No. 1213-I.R./IR/11L-232/56, dated 17th April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Sk. Khaliluddin Abdul Sattar, 30 Upper Circular Road, Calcutta, and their workman Shri Md. Israel represented by the Calcutta Bidi Mazdoor Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act to this Court for adjudication:—

Schedule

(1) Whether the termination of services of Shri Md. Israel was justified? What relief is he entitled to?

AWARD

DECISION

The case of the Union is as follows:—

This workman Shri Md. Israel who was employed as a maker of Biris under Messrs. Sk. Khaliluddin Abdul Sattar, a biri manufacturing concern, was discharged on 28th September 1956 without any charge-sheet or notice or any formal enquiry. This workman who is the Secretary of the Unit Committee of this Union approached the Conciliation Officer but to no effect. The workman therefore seeks reinstatement as his dismissal is unjustified and arbitrary.

Notices were sent to the Company per registered post but each time the notices were returned with the endorsement "refused". Therefore the case is taken up ex parte.

The only point for determination in this case is:

Whether the termination of services of Shri Md. Israel was justified? What relief is he entitled to?

The evidence in the case has been adduced by the dismissed workman alone. In short, his evidence is that he reported for duty on 28th September 1956 when the Manager refused to give him any biri leaves to make biri with. Then he approached the Proprietor where also he did not get redress. The Head Manager Zahoor referred him to the Union of which he is the Secretary. Besides this it is evident that no charge-sheet was given to the workman, nor was any notice served on him, nor was any enquiry held. Thus he was summarily dismissed and it appears that the dismissal came upon him as a measure of vengeance for his Union activity. This seems to be an unfair labour practice and a case of victimisation. In this circumstance, his dismissal is unjustified and he is entitled to normal relief, i.e., reinstatement to his former post in the Company.

As regards his prayer for compensation, the evidence is that he worked at a piece-work rate and his daily income is Rs. 2 to Rs. 2-10, etc., in the average and his monthly income is stated to be varying from Rs. 50 to 70. In the circumstance, I think he may fairly be granted wages at the rate of Rs. 60 per mensem. Since the date of his discharge on 28th September 1956 more than 8 months have elapsed and I think he may be granted 2 months' wages (i.e., Rs. 60+60=Rs. 120) for the entire period of his unemployment. To sum up, this workman is entitled to be reinstated by the Company which must pay Rs. 120 to the workman within a month of the publication of this award.

This is my award.

Typed to my dictation and corrected by me.

AWARD

According to the Union, this Company is engaged in transmitting, converting and distributing electrical energy for mills and domestic consumption. It is said to be a highly profitable concern. There was a collective agreement between the parties in 1947 based on the French Laws which governed the matter at that time. Several terms of agreement were since modified, and some were added from time to time. On 30th September 1955 the Union sent a charter of demands to the Company. Then there took place a conciliation proceeding, but it yielded no tangible results. So the dispute has been sent to the Tribunal for adjudication.

The Company denies that it is a profitable business. Rather, it states that the concern was a losing one. The Company admits the collective agreement referred to. But it contends that the said agreement became inoperative in law consequent on the merger of Chandernagore in West Bengal with effect from 2nd October 1954. The Company further alleges that the workmen were guilty of "slow down" with the ostensible motive of landing the Company into financial distress. It is under such circumstances that the Company conceded the interim advance comprising one month's basic salary. The stand taken up by the Company regarding different issues will come up as those issues are considered.

Issue No. 1: Hours of work

The Union contends that this issue was raised not by it, but by the Company. The Union is satisfied with the existing state of things. The existing conditions of work have been set forth by the Union in the Ext. 1(a). From that I get that the total hours of work per week are 39½ hours for the office staff, and 46 hours for the technical staff. If I refer to the proceedings of the meeting of the Mixed Commission held on the 3rd June 1953 at 9 Mangoe Lane, Calcutta, between the Electric Supply Employees' and Workers' Union and the management to consider their demands as per their letter, dated the 30th September 1952, relating to the revision of the collective convention, I get this: "That the office only will be allowed to be closed at 2-30 p.m. on each Saturday, and that the working hours for the outdoor and technical staff will be 46 hours in a week instead of 48 hours, as prevalent now". So 46 hours seem to have been fixed as working hours for the technical staff as a result of this agreement, in modification of the collective convention. But the Company wants that the hours of work should be 48 for the technical staff, and 42 for the office staff. To decide this point I have to consider whether the collective agreement, as per the Ext. 1, is still operative after the merger of Chandernagore in West Bengal or has it become void. I refer to the Chandernagore Merger Act of 1954, Ext. 7, in this case. This is dated the 29th September 1954. Under Article 18 I get the heading "Repeal of corresponding laws and savings". It states that any law in force in Chandernagore immediately before the appointed day corresponding to the relevant law in West Bengal will stand repealed in Chandernagore. But the clause 2 of the said Article provides that the repeal by the above sub-section (1) of any corresponding law shall not affect any right, privilege, obligation or liability acquired, accrued or incurred under any such law. So this section in its total implication seems to keep the existing condition practically unaffected by this Merger Act. So I am not in a position to find that the Merger has made the collective agreement as per the Ext. 1, totally void. That being so, the modification effected as a result of the meeting of Mixed Commission on the 3rd June 1953, referred to above, makes 46 hours as the total working hours of the technical staff per week. So this ought to prevail in place of 48 hours, as per the Ext. 1. For the sake of argument, if I assume that the collective agreement as per the Ext. 1 has become void consequent on the merger of Chandernagore in West Bengal, then what is the position? The Union stands by the existing conditions of work as per the Ext. 1(a). That these are the existing conditions of work could not be disputed. Then what is the reason that compels alteration of the existing conditions of work. The Company could not assign any satisfactory reason that would lead the Tribunal to disturb the existing conditions of work arrived at as a result of a mutual agreement. So in that view of the matter also, I am not prepared to alter the total hours of work as given in the Ext. 1(a). In this issue I have not been invited to specify the actual hours of attendance and departure. So I do not decide that. I have omitted to mention how it came up to be 39½ hours per week for the office staff. For this if I refer to the Ext. 1, the collective agreement, Article 5, I got that for the office staff the total legal working period per week would be 42 hours. Next, if I refer to the proceeding of the Mixed Commission on 3rd June 1953, already referred to, I get in clause II that the office only will be allowed to be closed at 2-30 p.m. on each Saturday. So the result is that for the office staff the total working period is reduced by 2½ hours. Before the report of the Mixed Commission, the closing hour for the office staff even on Saturday was at 5 p.m. So, if we deduct 2½ hours on Saturday from 42 hours in a week, as per the collective agreement, we get 39½ hours per week. So I maintain the total working hours as are current now in the concern.

Issue No. 2: Salaries and remuneration including dearness allowance

This was the issue raised by the Union. If I look to the Annexure A to the Union's written statement, I find that the Union wanted the yearly increment to be raised for increase of total wages. It did not want to disturb the starting basic salary. This matter should be considered under the head of "basic salary and dearness allowance" separately. Now, if I look to the Ext. 1(a) which represents the existing salary, with yearly increment, I get that for the mazdoors the starting salary is Rs. 30 and the yearly increment is Rs. 2; for the Linesmen it is Rs. 40 with Rs. 2-8 as yearly increment; for the Mistries and the Bill collectors the starting salary is Rs. 50 and the yearly increment is Rs. 3; for the Supervisors and the office clerks the starting salary is Rs. 60 and the yearly increment is Rs. 3, etc. The Union has referred to the Calcutta Electric Supply Company, Limited, to show that the minimum salary and increment given here are much less in comparison to those prevalent in that concern. But the thing is that there cannot be any comparison between these two concerns. The present Company will be looked upon as a pigmy considered against the Calcutta Electric Supply Company, Ltd. If I compare the salaries and increments given by the present Company with those prevalent in other small concerns, I find them quite adequate. If I turn to the Appeal No. Calcutta 287, 1954 (Naihati Elec. Supply Co.) decided by the Labour Appellate Tribunal, and published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 26th April 1956, I get that the coolies used to get Rs. 30-½-35, the S.B. Operators used to get Rs. 40-1-50-2-60, and the skilled mistries used to get Rs. 35-1-50-2-60. The lower Tribunal interfered with the said wages and granted Rs. 3 as yearly increment in respect of the coolies, and Rs. 2 as yearly increment in respect of the other catogories mentioned above. The Labour Appellate Tribunal modified the above decision. It reduced the yearly increment to Rs. 2. This makes it abundantly clear that the yearly increment more than Rs. 2 did not find favour with the Labour Appellate Tribunal. The said Naihati Electric Supply Company, Ltd., is a comparable one with the present Company. If I refer to the award of Shri M. C. Banerji in respect of the Maldah Electric Supply Company reported in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 24th May 1956, at page 1917, I get that the total wages received by the employees there ranged between Rs. 30 and Rs. 50 per month. The learned Tribunal granted dearness allowance on a flat rate of Rs. 10 per month. Thus it is clear that there has been no case made out for increasing the yearly increment from what is current in this concern.

Regarding dearness allowance, I get from the Ext. 1(a) that Rs. 34 per month is being given here. This is sought to be increased to Rs. 40 per month. Why this should be so increased could not be satisfactorily explained by the Union, The rise in the cost of living index would not justify this. If I refer to the case of the Maldah Electric Supply Company, I find that the present D. A. in this concern is quite handsome. Besides, Rs. 34 as dearness allowance has been arrived at as a result of several agreements. In the Ext. 1 which is the Collective Agreement, I get that in 1947 dearness allowance was Rs. 15 per month. On the 19th April 1948 this dearness allowance was enhanced to Rs. 28 per month. It was promised to be raised to Rs. 30 per month later on. This being the position I find no reason why D.A. should be further raised from Rs. 34 per month. The total renumeration seems to me to be quite adequate. Besides, the pecuniary condition of the Company does not appear to be very sound and prosperous. I do not think that it can bear any further burden on the head of dearness allowance. So I reject the claim of the Union under this issue.

Issue No. 3. Bonus

The claim relates to the year 1955. The Union demands one month's usual customary bonus as per the collective convention, and in addition one month's basic salary as bonus based on profits of the year.

The Company contends that the claim of bonus is for the year 1954 which was a year of loss. So no bonus can be granted for that year. This was the position also in respect of the year 1955. It was further held by the Appellate Tribunal in Bombay in connection with bonus issue, involving about 20 electricity undertakings, that bonus in such case is based on surplus profits. While dealing with this question I, first of all, clarify the legal stand taken up by the respective sides. I refer to the case of the Naihati Electric Supply Co., Ltd., vs. their workmen, in appeal, reported in the Calcutta Gazette of April 26, 1956, where at page 169 the Hon'ble Judges observed "The law on the vexed question of payment of bonus in an Electrical undertaking has now been settled by a Full Bench of this Tribunal in the case of U.P. Electric Supply Co. reported in 1955 L.A.C., page 659. This question does not, in our opinion, now admit of any further doubt or dispute. A bonus can now be lawfully paid out of true profits of an Electric Supply Co. under the Electric (Supply) Act of 1948". From this decision we may, of course, hold that an electric company is as much liable as a manufacturing company or an engineering company to pay bonus out of available surplus. But that does not dispose of the matter in the issue before me. If I turn to the claim of the Union, I find that it is a two-pronged one. Out of the total claim of bonus, one month's pay is claimed as a customary bonus and another month's pay as bonus based on profits. Regarding the customary bonus, the Union has based its claim on the collective agreement, as per the Ext. 1. But the very agreement shows that the bonus that was given was anything but customary. The Article 7 of the agreement, marked as Ext. 1, bears on bonus, and it runs thus: "As the financial position of the Company will permit, a bonus given by the management, working on the basic salary, not including the dearness allowance, will be paid to the whole permanent staff having at credit, at least 90 days of effective work in the preceding year, and to the whole temporary staff having at credit at least 70 days of effective work in the preceding year. It is understood that this provision is only temporary and should be replaced by a more rational system, taking essentially into consideration the Company's profits, when a realizable scheme may be set afoot". So it appears that the bonus was given not on strict calculation of profits, but only with an eye to the general financial position of the Company. So, on its face, it was a temporary one. It was to be replaced by a permanent one based entirely on profits. This makes it clear that the whole thing was tentative. At all events, it was never contemplated that this would be a condition of service. Of course, as I get in evidence, bonus remained the same though profits from 1947 downwards became double or triple. Of course, this by itself does not make bonus a customary one. This disposes of the first branch of the Union's claim.

Regarding the second branch, I find from the Company's statement, as per the Ext. A, that there was loss to the tune of Rs. 35,000 and odd in 1954, and in 1955 the loss was to the tune of Rs. 33,000 and odd. It was, however, noted by the auditors that accounts for those particular years were drawn up in accordance with the provisions of the Indian Electricity (Supply) Act, 1948. The witness of the Company confessed that he could not account for the loss in those two years, nor could he explain properly the balance sheets of those two years which were treated as confidential. I have scrutinised the said balance sheets. As they are confidential, I cannot mention the figures here. Short of that, I may mention that a clear loss was shown in its statement X relating to the clause XVII-2. But that table, XVII-2, has been withheld from the Tribunal. So practically we are left guessing on which the Auditors inserted clear loss in those two years. Except this solitary insertion of clear loss in the balance sheets, there is nothing which indicates that the said loss was, in fact, caused. Every other factor which has been elicited in the evidence points to the fact that the condition of the concern was progressing steadily. For instance, if I look to the Ext. 1(b) I see how the total number of domestic consumers and industrial consumers have increased. The installed capacity of the transformer, the total purchase of energy, the number of staff have all increased steadily. The Ext. 4 shows how under all these heads there has been a steady and solid progress. These factors are not disputed. So, barring the confidential balance sheets, every other factor contra—indicates loss. I have reason to think that profits would have been what is shown as in previous years if the old method of accounting which was followed since 1947 up to 1954 was kept on. So, it is a question of the method of accounting only under the Electricity Act of 1948 that makes all these differences about profits. I have already shown how the balance sheets are not complete in themselves. The Union has commented in writing upon the shortcomings of the said balance sheets. So merely on the strength of these balance sheets, and in disregard of every other factor in evidence which points to progress, I am unable to conclude that the Company has really sustained loss in the years 1954 and 1955. In this view of the matter, I grant bonus for the year 1954 at one month's basic salary. If the year 1955 is also within the scope of this dispute, then I grant the same bonus for that year also. But I am doubtful if 1955 is so included. The Union made this claim for bonus before the year 1955 was out. The financial year of the Company ends in December. So the demand, if any, made by the Union for the year 1955, was premature. The Union in its statement has also not specified the year. The Company says that it relates to the year 1954. So I grant the above quantum of bonus for the year 1954. If the advance made by way of interim bonus is equivalent to full one month's basic salary of each employee, then the award of bonus made hereby will be adjusted thereto, and no further payment will be made in this respect. If there is any balance left, that is made payable when the award becomes operative. The issue is thus disposed of. The rules which govern the granting of bonus on the score of attendance are left intact.

Issue No. 4: Gratuity and Provident Fund

The claim of the Union under this head is that there should be a gratuity fund for payment of gratuity to the employees. The Company contends, at page 7 of its written statement, that the gratuity should be according to the provisions of the West Bengal Engineering Tribunal's award in 1948. I may point out here that the said award did not make any provision for gratuity. While providing for Provident Fund, it granted gratuity only in respect of the period uncovered by the Provident Fund, in the interest of old employees. That is not exactly a provision for gratuity. Besides, I find no reason why this reasonable demand of the Union should be resisted by the Company. The Union has not asked for any interference with the provisions of gratuity as they prevail in this concern. It merely wants that the said payment may be secured by having a fund earmarked for it. This is quite reasonable. I call upon the Company to provide for such a fund so that cases of gratuity in future may always be under safeguard. I do not think I am invited to frame a scheme for the purpose. So I leave the matter to the management.

Regarding the amount of gratuity, I have looked into the provisions. I find the provisions quite adequate and answering the purpose. If it is not out of place, I may mention that this system of gratuity may be continued. There is no dispute about the Provident Fund. I find no reason to discontinue the Provident Fund system as has been asked for by the Company.

Issue No. 5: Other allowances

There is no dispute about this issue. The Company in its written statement at page 8, says that because the Union has not made any demand on this issue, it is unable to make any comment on it. The Union does not place any demand on this head. Apparently, it is satisfied with the existing conditions. So I give no direction here.

Issue No. 6: Supplementary hours of work and payment for such work

This issue is said to have been raised by the Company. The Company contends that for supplementary hours of work the normal rate plus 1/8th of a day's pay for each hour should be given. Apparently, the Company has in mind 8 hours' work in a day. That makes it put the rate at normal rate plus 1/8th of the day's pay. This is quite all right. Under this head overtime pay comes for consideration. Under the Factories Act, the normal rate should be up to 48 hours in a week, but beyond that it is at double rate. This is also the existing system here, as per the Ext. 1(a). This is with regard to the technical staff. Regarding clerks, it should be the normal rate, i.e., 1/8th of the day's pay up to 42 hours per week, and then it should be 1½ times the normal rate in excess of that. The issue is accordingly decided as above.

Issue No. 7: Rest and holidays

Under the existing conditions, as per the Ext. 1(a), 30 days' festival leave is granted in a year. Privilege and casual leave are together granted for 30 days per year, and medical leave is for 15 days in a year. If I look to the collective agreement, Ext. 1, under its Article II, I get that all employees would have 30 days' paid leave on festivals, and all the staff would get leave known as consolidated leave, comprising privilege leave, medical leave, etc., up to the limit of 30 days in a year. This would be cumulative for two years. The Company contends that rest and holidays must be allowed according to the Factories Act, or according to the award of the Engineering Tribunal of West Bengal in 1948. I think that the leave system requires to be clarified in this Company. To say that festival leave will extend to 30 days in a year would be absurd in itself. Again, to amalgamate the privilege leave, the casual leave and the medical leave together will inevitably give rise to confusion. The Factories Act cannot be avoided by this Company for any reason. So, leave that will be granted must commensurate with the existing law in West Bengal. Accordingly, I prescribe the leave system to be followed in future as follows: For the operatives, by which I include technical hands as well as coolies, there will be eight festival holidays in a year. Their privilege leave will be governed by the Factories Act. This will work up to 10 or 20 days in a year. As sick leave is granted in this Company on full pay, I allow medical leave, on production of proper medical certificate or certificate from the Company's doctor, at 15 days on full pay in a year. There will be five days' casual leave on full pay in a year, the granting of which will be at the discretion of the management, and not claimable as a matter of right. The privilege leave will accumulate for two years.

Regarding the clerical staff, I grant festival leave for eight days in a year as before. Their privilege leave will amount to 21 days on full pay and cumulative for three years. They will also get one week's casual leave on full pay. The granting of this casual leave will be at the discretion of the management, and this will not be claimable as a matter of right. Medical leave on full pay for 15 days in a year on proper medical certificate is allowed them. It may be that under this system the total number of holidays hitherto enjoyed by the employees may be curtailed to a certain extent. But I do this in the interest of industrial peace. The present system of leave and holidays is not at all systematic. To make it systematic, there may occur a little curtailments here and there. Besides, this being a public utility concern, the number of holidays must be on scientific basis. But, I think, the Company and the employees, on the whole, will be benefited by it.

Issue No. 8: Introduction of Service Book

The Company does not object to the claim of introduction of service book and pay slips for its employees. So this should be introduced. Regarding the introduction of pay slips, if the management desires any clarification in this respect from the Union, as suggested in its written statement, it may do so for doing the needful in the matter.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Sakhawat Ali Thander, Bus Owners, Podderhati (Thanderpara), Calcutta-24, and one of their employees Shri Rafique, a conductor, represented by the Bus Workers' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12 (Case No. VIII—283 of 1956).

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

Appearances

For the employee: Shri M. A. Latif, Bar-at-Law.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

This reference made by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, under order No. 4329Dis./D/4L-35/56, dated 27th September 1956, relates to what amount Shri Rafique is entitled as retiral benefit from Messrs. Sakhawat Ali Thander.

AWARD

The case of Shri Rafique was taken up by the Bus Workers' Union, which filed written statement on his behalf. The Union's case in short is that Shri Rafique joined the service of Messrs. Sakhawat Ali Thander as a conductor in February 1926, and since then he had been working there satisfactorily. But on 13th May 1956 his services were terminated all on a sudden. No notice was given to him, nor was any reason assigned for such abrupt termination of his service. He was getting Rs. 87 as his monthly emoluments at the material time. On 22nd May 1956 the Union took up Shri Rafique's case and sent a letter to Messrs. Sakhawat Ali Thander claiming the dues, to which Shri Rafique was entitled. But the Company refused to pay the just dues claimed on behalf of Shri Rafique. Thereafter, the Union brought the matter to the notice of the Labour Commissioner. Conciliation proceedings followed, but without any result. Ultimately, the matter was referred to the Tribunal for adjudication.

Messrs. Sakhawat Ali Thander (hereinafter to be called the Company) in its written statement repudiated that it terminated the services of Shri Rafique on 13th May 1956. Its version is that Shri Rafique was suspended for 5 days with effect from 13th May 1956 for shortage in sale-proceeds, and that thereafter he did not resume his duties and continued to remain absent. The Proprietor of the Company sent him a letter asking him to join his duties, but he did not. The Company thereafter wrote a letter to the General Secretary of the Union to direct Shri Rafique to join his duties, but Rafique did not report for duties. The Company has, however, admitted that Shri Rafique was getting Rs. 87 per month at the relevant time, and that he was an old employee who joined this Company very likely in 1926. But it wanted to say that Shri Rafique had break of service, as he was not in the employment of the Company for over 2 years during the war time when Government requisitioned its buses. It is finally contended that Shri Rafique is not entitled to any retrenchment benefit, as his services were not terminated.

In this case, Shri Rafique has deposed. But no witness has been examined on behalf of the Company. Shri Rafique has stated on oath that on 13th May 1956 his services were all on a sudden terminated by the Company, and that he was not given any notice or any reason for such abrupt termination of his service. In his cross-examination, he has categorically denied the suggestions put to him on behalf of the Company that he was suspended for 5 days with effect from 13th May 1956 for shortage in sale-proceeds, and that since then he did not resume his duties and continued to remain absent. He also emphatically denied that the Company sent him any letter asking him to join his duties. The Company, although contested the case, could not establish by any evidence whatsoever that Shri Rafique voluntarily gave up his job in the manner as stated in its written statement. In the circumstances, I have no reason to disbelieve the positive testimony of Shri Rafique. He has deposed before the Tribunal in a very straight-forward manner, and his evidence, in my opinion, bears the stamp of truth. It cannot be believed for a moment that an old worker like Shri Rafique would voluntarily give up his job under the Company, after having served it for a period extending over 25 years. In the face of these things, the version of the Company is unworthy of credit, and cannot be accepted. On a consideration of the matter, the Tribunal comes to the conclusion that the services of Shri Rafique were abruptly terminated by the Company on 13th May 1956. Such termination of service amounts to "retrenchment" within the meaning of section 2(00) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, because the termination of his services was for a reason otherwise than as a punishment inflicted by way of disciplinary action. That being so, Shri Rafique is entitled to get retrenchment benefit under section 25F of the Act. This leads me necessarily to determine the length of service that Shri Rafique had rendered under this Company. In the written statement of the Union it has been stated that Shri Rafique joined this Company as a conductor in February 1926. Shri Rafique has also deposed that he joined the service of this Company sometime in 1925 or 1926, and that he had no break in his service since he joined the Company. It is interesting to note that the Company in its written statement has also admitted that Shri Rafique was its old employee, and that very likely he joined the Company in 1926. In this state of things, there cannot be any manner of doubt that Shri Rafique served this Company without any break since February 1926. The Company has not succeeded in proving by any evidence worth the name that Shri Rafique had any break in service while employed under it. Therefore, I hold that Shri Rafique had put in 30 years of completed service under this Company at the time when his services were terminated. There is no dispute or controversy between the parties regarding the emoluments used to be drawn by Shri Rafique at the time of termination of his service. Both parties have agreed that the monthly emolument of Shri Rafique at the relevant time was Rs. 87. One month's notice as required under the law was not given to Shri Rafique before terminating his services. In the result, it is awarded that Shri Rafique shall get (i) compensation equivalent to 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service which is 30 years, the average pay being Rs. 87 per month and (ii) one month's pay at that rate in lieu of notice. This is all that Shri Rafique is entitled to get as retiral benefit from his employer. This issue is decided accordingly. The payment as directed above must be made within one month from the date of publication of this award in the Calcutta Gazette.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Grand Hotel, 15/2 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta, and their employees represented by Grand Hotel Employees' Union, 3 Ramhari Mistry Lane, Calcutta-13. (Case No. VIII-230 of 1956.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. N. GAN, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri J. Pandey.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Grand Hotel (hereinafter referred to as the Company), 15/2 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Grand Hotel Employees' Union, 3 Ramhari Mistry Lane, Calcutta-13, in respect of the following issues, was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 5199-I.R./D/11L-88/55, dated the 5th December 1956.

Issues

1. Whether the termination of service of Shri Shyamlal, Shri Hetaram and Shri Hazara Singh was justified? What relief are then entitled to?

2. Whether refusal of employment by the Management to Shri Jashir Ahmed for a considerable length of time was justified? What relief is he entitled to?

3. Whether the Management was justified in compelling Shri Brindaban Parida to remain idle for a considerable length of time? What relief is he entitled to?

4. Whether refusal of employment by the Management to Shri Md. Ali was justified? What relief is he entitled to?

5. Whether the Company should reimburse the deficit amounts if the direct tips fall short of what has been mentioned in the award published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 14th September 1950, under order No. 5116-Lab., dated the 7th September 1950?

6. Computation of the dues of the workers under the said award published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 14th September 1950, under order No. 5116Lab., dated the 7th July 1950, in respect of the basic wages, grade increments and bonus that still remain to be paid.

7. Whether the workmen are entitled to demand cash payment in lieu of food in accordance with the award published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 14th September 1950, under order No. 5116Lab., dated the 7th September 1950?

Both parties filed written statements in their respective cases.

AWARD

On the application of the Company, the question regarding the maintainability of the issue Nos. 5, 6 and 7 was heard in advance of the trial of other issues in the dispute. A preliminary award was given, in respect of the said issues on 24th April 1957. It was found that the reference of the issue Nos. 6 and 7 was invalid, whereas it was valid in respect of the issue No. 5.

Thereafter, the parties amicably settled the issue Nos. 1 to 4 and filed a joint petition of compromise. This petition of compromise will form a part of my award.

Now, the issue No. 5 remains to be adjudicated upon its merits. This refers to the payment of direct tips, and the liability of the Company to reimburse the workmen when such payment falls short of the amount mentioned in the award, dated the 7th September 1950 and published in the Calcutta Gazette on the 14th September 1950. The Union's case in short is, that the amount of direct tips mentioned in the award is imaginary, and that, in fact, the workmen suffered a loss in respect of direct tips ranging from Rs. 5 to Rs. 10 every month, which the Company is bound in law to reimburse. The Company denies this liability, and contends that the award, being binding on both parties, cannot be challenged, and that the alleged fall in the earning of tips is not true. P.W. 1, Shri Malteb, Butler, the President of the Employees' Union, and a discharged employee of the Company, deposes on the side of the Union in support of its case. He says that the amount of direct tips actually received by the employees was much less than what was stated in the award, and that the Management had taken steps, since the publication of the award, to see that the employees do not get any tips direct from the customers. As a result, the amount of direct tips earned by the employees became quite small, and in no case it exceeded Rs. 5 per month. It has been urged by the learned representative on behalf of the Union that since the minimum amount of direct tips forms a part of the regular pay packet under the award, the Company is bound to see that in no case it was reduced, and, in case of reduced earnings, it should make up the deficiency. The learned Advocate for the Company contends that the Company is under no obligation to ensure payment of direct tips mentioned in the award, and that in actual fact the employees received more tips than what was stated in the award. Whether the employees actually received less than the minimum stated in the award is a pure question of fact to be decided on evidence. P.W. 1 produces a typed copy of a statement of accounts showing the value of direct tips payable and the approximate amount received by the employees, during the period from September 1950 to April 1957. In cross-examination he admits that he got this information from the employees concerned numbering about 384, and that it is not obligatory on the part of the customers to tip the staff. He further says that the Company charges 10 per cent. of the bill for services and at the same time it has put up notices in every room and on every table informing the customers that it is not necessary to tip the staff. P.W. 1 says that, due to this restriction imposed by the Management on payment of direct tips, the amount of direct tips has been reduced to a trifling sum of Rs. 2 to Rs. 5 a month. The evidence of short payment on the side of the Union is, no doubt, hearsay, and, as such, loses much of its evidentiary value. Further, there is no corroboration on this point. The Company has challenged this alleged short payment of tips. It may be presumed that due to restrictions imposed on tipping, the amount of direct tips has been reduced. Further, it is difficult to accept this statement, Ext. 1, as wholly accurate. However, conceding, for argument's sake, that there has been some reduction in the payment of direct tips since the publication of the award, it remains to be seen how far the Company is under obligation to make up for the deficiency. This refers to the award of Shri P. R. Mukherjee, published in the Calcutta Gazette on the 14th September 1950. In adjudicating the issue Nos. 4 and 5, the learned Tribunal fixed scales of pay for different categories of workers whom he divided under three broad heads. The Tribunal also allowed a flat rate of dearness allowance of Rs. 30 to all workmen, and directed that the value of meals as also the amount of earned tips shown in the statement should be deducted from the amount of dearness allowance. The following extract from the said award is relevant:

> "After making this deduction surpluses if any shall be paid as cash dearness allowance. If it appears that the value of meals and tips exceed Rs. 30 then no dearness allowance should be paid, and the excess amount will be treated as extra allowance rather than basic pay. It is further awarded that in no case the total emolument as shown under the Annexure A shall be reduced by the Management."

The Tribunal assessed the value of each meal at Rs. 12-8 and of two meals at Rs. 25. In the annexure, the amount of direct tips was shown to vary between Rs. 20 to Rs. 60 per month. A large number of employees do not get direct tips at all. This takes us to the question whether direct tips is payable by the Management under the award in adjudicating the issue on minimum basic pay, scales of pay and dearness allowance for different categories of workers. The Tribunal made three separate scales of pay for unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled workers and dearness allowance was given at the flat rate of Rs. 30 per month for all categories of wokers. It is clear from the award that the employees are only entitled to pay and dearness allowance mentioned in it. In fact, dearness allowance was introduced as a substitute for free meals and tips hitherto enjoyed by the employees. An employee getting more than Rs. 30 on account of meals and tips would not be entitled to dearness allowance in cash. Any one receiving more than Rs. 30 on this count, would continue to receive it as extra allowance, and not as basic pay. Therefore, it stands to reason that this award has not imposed any obligation on the part of the Company to arrange for payment of any direct tips to its employees. Tips are of two kinds, viz., (i) that which the Company collects from the customers, and pays to its employees and (ii) that which the employees receive directly from the customers. The latter kind is known as direct tips. In the very nature of things, direct tips can never be payable by the Company. The award has not introduced any change in this direction. The employees are, no doubt, entitled to get not less than the total emolument mentioned in the statement annexed to the award. The total emolument includes minimum direct tips which, according to the Tribunal, each employee gets from the customers. It is not the Union's case that they are getting less than the total emoluments mentioned in the award. Their case is that the Management is bound to see that they get the minimum amount of direct tips mentioned in the statement annexed to the award. Direct tips are no more a part of the regular pay packet of an employee of this Company. The Company is, therefore, not under any obligation to pay any such tips to its employees. It is, no doubt, true that the employees are entitled to the total emolument mentioned in the statement annexed to the award, and in case of any short payment, the Company is under obligation to make up for the loss. But it is entirely a different matter to ask for reimbursement from the Company in case direct tips fall short of the amount mentioned in the award. Direct tips may even now be received by the employees from the customers, and the award does not stand in the way of the employees getting it. The Company is, however, under no obligation to ensure this payment of direct tips. It may be that in fixing the scales of pay and dearness allowance, the learned Tribunal was influenced to some extent by the existing system of payment of direct tips. That amount might have been taken into consideration by the Tribunal in assessing the proper scales of wages and dearness allowance. That is no reason why the Company should regard such tips even now as a part of the employees' regular pay packet. In my opinion, there is no liability, under the award in question, to pay for any deficiency in "direct tips" to the employees. The employees are, therefore, not entitled to any amount on this account, much less the amount mentioned in the statement of account, Ext. 1. No question of "reimbursement" arises in this case. I answer the issue against the Union.

This is my award.

Though at the conciliation stage parties could not come to terms, they revived negotiations for a friendly settlement. Certain terms were agreed upon by the Management and the President of the Union and a compromise petition was submitted to the Tribunal for an award in accordance therewith. The rank and file did not however warm to the terms and disowned and denounced the compromise immediately. As in the face of this dramatic term the Tribunal could not accord the seal of its approval to the compromise petition, parties mobilised their forces for a fight to a finish. Fortunately the Legal Advisers of both parties tendered them sound advice and the parties realised the wisdom of sinking their differences and joining hands for common endeavour in a spirit of responsive co-operation. They realised that they were component parts of the same organisation—cogs of the same machine. Their efforts to end the disputes by friendly treaty were crowned with success. A compromise petition has been put in bearing the agreed terms. It augurs well for the future well-being of the industry that the two wings—labour and capital—have come to the decision to make joint contribution to its prosperity. Thanks are due to the Legal Advisers of the parties in bringing about this happy consummation. The terms are fully acceptable and the Tribunal is satisfied that they are in the best interests of all parties. An award is accordingly made in terms of the compromise petition which will accompany the same as an Annexure.

Those workmen who have not covered 240 working days in continuity will be given ex-gratia payment just to encourage them in their work at the discretion of the Management but this shall not be taken as a precedent. The payment of bonus will be made by the end of July, 1957.

Strike taken recourse to on the point of bonus with effect from 15th October 1956: Although the strike is unjustified the Management has decided not to take any disciplinary action against the employees in order to upkeep good relations with the employees for taking recourse to the strike. But such action should not be repeated and in case of any deviation in future, the Management may not exonerate any further from necessary action as law permits.

This incident is accepted as unfortunate by the employees. The period of strike will be treated as leave without pay in respect of permanent and other workers.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, filed by Shri K. P. Sanyal, an employee of Messrs. McLeod & Co., Ltd., 3 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, represented by McLeod's Indian Employees' Association, 3 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1 (Case No. 12 of 1957, under section 33A).

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances.

For the Company: Shri R. B. Bose, Counsel, assisted by Shri M. K. Mukherjee and Shri R. Goswami, Officers of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

For the Union: Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate, assisted by Shri Jiten Banerjee, officer of the Union.

The original reference out of which this present complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act has arisen was made under Government order No. 4874-I.R./D/11L-238/56, dated Calcutta, the 13th November 1956.

This application presented under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act by an employee of Messrs. McLeod & Co., Ltd., whose services were terminated during the pendency of a reference proceeding, raises some questions of more than passing interest.

Shri K. P. Sanyal was employed by Messrs. McLeod & Co., Ltd., on amalgamation of Begg Dunlop & Co., with this concern in 1947. Since then he had been working for McLeod & Co. in the clerical grade. According to his written statement increments were granted to him thick and fast in recognition of his meritorious services. In 1954, he was given a lump-sum reward of Rs. 500 for exceptionally good service. In December 1954, a contract was submitted to him for acceptance for appointment as a Junior Grade Assistant with effect from 1st January 1955. Though the appointment was invested with a grandiose designation the nature of the work he had to perform remained unchanged. In other words, he had mainly clerical duties to discharge. In June 1955, he was suddenly served with an order of transfer to the Export Section of the Jute Mills Department. From the commencement of his service up to the date of receipt of this order he had been in the Jute Section and had acquired such experience that the work of the department was on the tips of his fingers. A letter was addressed by him to the Managing Director that transfer to a new zone would effect his efficiency as he had no training or experience of the work of the Export Section. He had prayed that he might be allowed to continue in the section where he had been so long or he might be apprised of the reasons for the transfer. Some correspondence followed this communication. Ultimately he was asked to report for duty in the Accounts Department on 27th June 1956. The order was duly complied with. While informing the management about compliance with the order Shrijut Sanyal refuted a statement made in the Director's letter that he had informed Shri C. L. Basoria about his inability to work in the Export

Section. This seems to have given offence to the authorities and an order of suspension was served on him. He was asked to submit an explanation why disciplinary action should not be taken against him. Shrijut Sanyal explained that he did not intend to give offence but he has simply intimated that in the interests of efficiency his transfer from the section where he had worked so long should be rescinded. The order of suspension was thereafter cancelled. Shrijut Sanyal was directed to report to Mr. Ure on 20th August 1956. In obedience to this order Shrijut Sanyal reported to Mr. Ure but on 20th December 1956 he was informed that in accordance with the terms of the contract by which he was elevated to the grade of Junior Assistant, his appointment was terminated. He was not required to attend office after the service of this order. This is the short history of the curious event which led to the discharge of this employee which according to him was in contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The company set up the defence that section 33 had not been contravened as Shrijut Sanyal was not a workman but a full-fledged officer who could not get the protective shelter of the Industrial Disputes Act. The company did not in its written statement traverse the complaint on merits.

The sheet anchor of the company's case is section 2(g)(iv) of the Industrial Disputes Act as amended by Act of 1956. Section 2(s) defines the term "workman". The learned Counsel for the company submitted that on his own showing Shrijut Sanyal was drawing Rs. 575 as his wages at the time of termination of his service. According to the amended definition of workman a person employed in supervisory capacity would be excluded if the wages drawn by him exceeded Rs. 500 per month. In relying upon this section the learned Counsel was actually begging the question. The primary condition is that the person concerned must be employed in a supervisory capacity. If he is not engaged in that capacity the amount of wages is no determining factor. The Tribunal has therefore to enquire about the precise nature of the duties that Shrijut Sanyal had been performing at the date of his discharge.

Admittedly Shrijut Sanyal entered service as a clerk, and rose to the highest rung of the ladder in the grade in rapid succession. On 7th December 1954, the company offered him the post of a Junior Grade Assistant. Exhibit 1 is the contract signed by Shrijut Sanyal in acceptance of the offer. The company has put in the documents Ext. A (series) to prove that in the capacity of a Junior Grade Assistant Shrijut Sanyal was in charge of the department and exercised supervisory authority over the clerks and typists of the section. On scrutiny of the documents Ext. A (series) it appears that the departmental head Mr. Robertson used to give directions to Shrijut Sanyal and he in his turn passed on particular jobs to different members of the clerical staff. The allocation of business to one or other of the clerks was, in my view, regulated by prescribed routine. Shrijut Sanyal passed on the matter to the particular employee in the departments whose duty it was to deal with it. From this no inference can be drawn that he had any superior authority for assigning business according to his own selection. It is true that Shrijut Sanyal was in charge of the Jute Section as admitted by him in his letter Ext. C and in a statement Ext. B made by him in course of a departmental enquiry against a clerk. Just as the Head Clerk of a department looks after the work of other clerks and is ultimately responsible for due performance of the work, Shrijut Sanyal as the Assistant, in charge of the Jute Department has to keep an eye upon the work of the clerks. This sort of supervision did not form the major part of his duty which was predominantly clerical. In the written statement paragraphs 11 and 12 Shrijut Sanyal has enumerated the different types of clerical work he had to do. The company in its written statement did not deny the correctness of the statements made in paragraphs 11 and 12. The Tribunal is therefore free to assume that as Junior Grade Assistant Shrijut Sanyal had to perform the duties catalogued in paragraphs 11 and 12. In his evidence Shrijut Sanyal had stated that he had to draft letters, prepare debit slips for local purchase of jute and returns for jute tax. These were to be submitted to the Superior Officer. It does not appear that he had any initiative. Though being the person in charge of the section he served as the channel through whom orders of the head of the department were transmitted to the office clerks and though he had to check up the work of the clerks his duty was mainly of a clerical nature and not supervisory. In deciding the point at issue the relevant question is not whether the employee was an officer but whether he performed clerical work so as to place him in the category of workman under the Act. The approach should be not from the angle of testing whether the employee is an officer but from that by examining the duties to be performed by him. It has been held in the case reported in 1956, 1, L.L.J. page 414 that for the purpose of administration a gradation between employees is unavoidable and the duties of a clerk are not inconsistent with a limited amount of supervision and control over the employees. In that case the emyloyee concerned was a Sub-agent in a Bank drawing the same scale of pay and allowances as the Agent. Their Lordships held that this would not be of any consequence. Shrijut Sanyal was given all the privileges which the officers serving under the company used to enjoy. The service conditions applicable to clerks ceased to be applicable to him and conditions applicable to officers were made to operate in his case.. To my mind even that would make no difference as the criterion is the nature of the work the employee had to do. He may have been enjoying the privileges open to the covenanted staff but having regard to the established fact that his duties were predominantly clerical the company's plea that he was not a workman cannot prevail. In the case reported in 1953, L.A.C. page 302, an employee designated Assistant Bank Manager had to do work of a clerical nature. He was held to be a workman. My conclusion therefore is that the change-over in designation and provision of more favourable conditions of service did not affect the true status of this employee who by reason of the nature of his duties continued to be a workman entitled to the protection of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Exhibit 1(s) is the order of transfer to the Export Section. It is stated that Shrijut Sanyal would work in place of Shri R. N. Goyal who would replace him in the Jute section of the Jute Department. No evidence has been adduced what was the nature of the work Shri Goyal had been doing which Shrijut Sanyal was expected to take up. When Shrijut Sanyal wrote to the Managing Director the letter Ext. 1(b) that he would be in cramping conditions if he had to do work with which he was not familiar, the Management had asked him to work in the Accounts Department, vide Ext. 1(d). Shrijut Sanyal actually joined in the Accounts Department but the very next day he was placed under suspension. When the management realised that the suspension order was fully unwarranted it was withdrawn and Shrijut Sanyal was asked to report for duty to Mr. Ure, vide Ext. 1(i). He joined the department and worked there till the date he was discharged. It is not stated that during this period his duties were supervisory. The company has not adduced any evidence that at the date of his discharge Shrijut Sanyal was doing duties of a supervisory character.

Even assuming for a moment that Shrijut Sanyal had graduated into an officer and had entirely shed his character as a clerk the contract Ext. 1 empowered the company to terminate or cancel the appointment on one month's notice. When the appointment was terminated by notice Ext. 1(j) there is no reason why Shrijut Sanyal should be treated as having lost his appointment in the clerical grade. The contract had offered him appointment for a period of three years. If the term had run its normal course and the company did not desire to renew it, I think, Shrijut Sanyal would have reverted to his clerical grade. The position would be the same on premature termination by notice. The company did not allege that he was inefficient or guilty of any misconduct. It was not on account of any misdemeanour that his services were brought to an end. The utmost that could be conceded is that on cancellation of his appointment as Junior Grade Assistant Shrijut Sanyal might fall back upon his sobstantive appointment. He could not be thrown out altogether. Since, however, I have held that he answers to the description of a workman even though he was raised to a higher plane and was given the emoluments due to covenanted staff, termination of his services without permission of the Tribunal is a clear contravention of section 33 which the employee must be relieved against. It is awarded that the company has violated section 33 and must therefore reinstate Shrijut K. P. Sanyal in the post he was holding at the date of discharge and paid all his wages up to the date of reinstatement which must be affected within 15 days of publication of this award in the Calcutta Gazette.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. West End Watch Co., 10 Old Court House Street, Calcutta-1, and their employees represented by West End Watch Co. Employees' Union, 39/9A Gopalnagar Road, Calcutta-27.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal

Present for the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

Present for the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate with Shri M. Saha, Advocate.

1. By Government order No. 1250/Dis./D/11L-33/56, dated the 22nd March 1956, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, presided over by me, for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947). The said Fifth Industrial Tribunal was constituted unded section 7 of the Act by the notification No. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1951.

2. The reference was received here on 29th March 1956. The Union filed written statement on 21st April 1956. The Company filed written objection on 21st May 1956. Thereafter an addendum No. 4344Dis./D/11L-33/56, dated the 28th September 1956, was received from Government, and as a result further statements and counter-statements were filed by the parties. The case was taken up for hearing on 3rd May 1957. The evidence was heard on 6th May 1957 and it concluded on that date. The argument was heard on 7th May 1957. The award was reserved.

3. The issues contained in the schedule to the order of reference stand as follows:—

(1) Revision of pay scales for different categories of employees.

(2) Revision of dearness allowance.

(3) Tiffin room for the employees.

(4) Provident Fund facilities for sweepers, dhobi and paniwala.

AWARD

4. Before I deal with the issues specifically, I think it worthwhile to refer to the written statements of the parties.

According to the Union, this Company is a premier watch-making firm with its office at Geneva, Bombay and Calcutta. It makes imports, and deals in clocks, watches and time recorders of different varieties for the last 50 years. In Calcutta it has a building of its own. The grievances of the workmen, who were mostly highly-skilled, had gone unheeded for a long time. It was on 1st October 1954 that the Union submitted its charter of demands to the Company. The Union wants increase in the pay scales, and also increase in dearness allowance along with other amenities.

The Company contends that it does not derive much profit from this business. It states that the Proprietress got very little amount of net profit in 1952-53 which worked out to about 1.77 per cent. of the total turn-over, after payment of custom duties, income-tax, establishment charges and other incidental expenses. In 1953-54 its net profit worked out to 1.58 per cent. of the total turnover, and in 1954-55 it was even less. The Company further states that the employees here are well-paid, and their wages compare favourably with those in similar concerns in Calcutta. The service conditions, as well as the wages, are uniform in Bombay and Calcutta, and this policy of uniformity has been accepted by the employees. The Company adds that the present pay scales were introduced in 1950. Dearness allowance, prior to this, amounted to 110 per cent. A good part of it was commuted to wages, and the balance was retained as dearness allowance. This was further increased by 10 per cent. on the basis of salaries drawn by the employees on the 1st March 1952.

Issue No. 1

Coming to the evidence on this issue, I refer to the charter of demands, as given by the Union on 29th September 1954. It was sought to be placed earlier, but due to the then bad condition of the Company, the Union was prevailed upon by the Company to postpone the submission of demands. I refer to the Ext. F which is the memorandum of settlement entered into on the 4th January 1950 as a result of which new pay scales were fixed, and part of dearness allowance was embodied into the salary. The dearness allowance was, admittedly, at 110 per cent. prior to this settlement. The above settlement was arrived at in Bombay and this settlement governs also the service conditions of employees in Calcutta. I refer to the Ext. F2 which shows the existing pay scales of this Company in Calcutta. The Union claims increase of these pay scales on three grounds, viz.—

(1) that the pay scales in Bombay have since been increased,

(2) that there has been a material change of circumstances since the award of 1950, and

(3) that the pay scales are inadequate as compared to other watch-making concerns of similar status in Calcutta.

But I am afraid, the onus which practically rested on the Union, remains to be discharged by it. Mr. M. Mathey Droet, O. P. W. 1, who is the Manager of the West End Watch Company in Calcutta, and who had worked in Bombay for 20 years, definitely denies that there has been any increase in pay scales in Bombay since 1950. The Union has not led any evidence in support of its contention of alleged increase of pay scales in Bombay. I do not accept this contention of the Union. So this point is disposed of.

Regarding the second contention, it is the established law laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the Howrah Burn's case that the time-scale is a long-term affair. It can only be changed when there is a material change of circumstances. To disturb it arbitrarily and without sufficient evidence would be subversive of industrial peace. Now, where is the material change, as suggested by the Union, in the present case? If there has occurred any change in the trading position of the Company, I should say that it is drifting towards worse. The restriction on import has a great bearing on this trading position. If I refer to the Ext. H, I get that it was 25 per cent. in each half of 1954 with liberal import license towards the latter half of the year. The import license was liberal all through 1955. In 1956 it was liberal in the first half of the year, but it was 50 per cent during the second half. In 1957 it is already 25 per cent. So the Union is misinformed when it contends that the Company is free to import in 1957. The Ext. H makes it clear that the import license is anything but steady, and is gradually being restricted. The Tribunal can take judicial notice of the restriction of imports, particularly of luxury goods, in the year 1957 with an eye to the Second Five-Year Plan. So I can fairly take it that the time is not opportune when the pay scales as prevalent in this concern should be disturbed. Mere passage of time of seven years, as the Union contends, is not very much significant in the present case. If the pay scales were initially bad and proved to be hard to the employees, then the matter could be agitated upon, and it could be reconsidered. But the initial pay scales here were arrived at by a mutual agreement. Even that apart, the pay scales will appear to be fair and reasonable even on a cursory view of the matter.

Regarding the third contention that the pay scales here compare unfavourably with those in similar concerns in Calcutta, the evidence is extremely meagre. All that is given in evidence on behalf of the Union, in support of its contention, is a scrap of paper which shows pay scales of different categories of workmen in the Favre Leuba Company, but it is not even signed by the said Company. The witness who produced this piece of document, says that he has got a true copy of it signed by the Company at home. But this is not placed before the Tribunal. So I cannot attach much importance to this piece of document. Besides, the scales of pay shown there appear to be a sort of incentive, and they are not at all definite and fixed as should have been. So it cannot be taken as an ideal scheme. The scales given there, as per the above document, are a little bit higher than the scales given in the present Company, but they seem to be more or less scrappy. So I cannot disturb the present scales of pay of the Company in the present case on such flimsy evidence. I have compared the present scales of pay with those of Messrs. Charles Abrecht, as given in the award by Shri A. Das Gupta on the 6th October 1948. There does not appear much difference in the scales. The little difference that is there is accounted for here by the incorporation of the bulk of dearness allowance into the body of the pay scales. So, considering all the facts and circumstances of the case, I am clearly of opinion that the pay scales in the present Company are not liable to revision at the present moment.

Issue No. 2.

The Union claims that the workmen should be paid D. A. at the rate of 100 per cent. for the first Rs. 100 of basic pay, and 50 per cent. for subsequent Rs. 100 of basic pay. In the case of manual staff, it should not be less than Rs. 50. If I turn to the Ext. F, which is the memorandum of settlement in Bombay on 4th January 1950, I get that for clerks and technical assistants the minimum D. A. would be Rs. 50 per month. Employees having pay in excess of Rs. 100 per month would get this sum of Rs. 50 per month plus 30 per cent. of excess of salary drawn over Rs. 100 per month. For the peons and watchmen the D. A. is Rs. 40 per month, and for the chokras it is Rs. 20 per month. In this document I get how D. A., which was 110 per cent. of the basic pay, had a portion of it transferred into the body of pay. By this arrangement, even the total emolument inclusive of 110 per cent. D. A. was increased. An example in this respect has been given in the Ext. F. over and above this, 10 per cent. increase in D. A. has been given, as is clear from the Ext. J5. As a result of this the pay, as it now stands inclusive of D. A., is much more than what it was in 1950, calculated on normal pay scale increment. This will appear from the Exts. E, E1 and E2. One or two examples will make it clear. For instance, the employee Shri H. C. Nath was drawing Rs. 69 as basic salary, and Rs. 76 as D. A. calculated at 110 per cent., having a total of Rs. 145 per month. This was on the 31st March 1950. Exhibit E1 shows that this very man is drawing Rs. 120 as basic salary, Rs. 56 as

D. A. and Rs. 9 as special D. A., i.e., a total of Rs. 185 per month on 1st April 1957. Similar is the case of Shri M. M. Dey who is also an employee here. He was drawing Rs. 45 as basic salary, Rs. 50 as D. A. calculated at 110 per cent., together making a total of Rs. 95 per month on 31st March 1950. This man is now drawing Rs. 88 as basic salary, Rs. 50 as D. A. and Rs. 6 as special D. A., i.e., a total sum of Rs. 144 per month on 1st April 1957. I need not multiply instances. Thus the position is perfectly clear that the claim of the Union for increase of D. A. to the extent of 100 per cent. would be, to say the least, extravagant. We cannot forget that though the D. A. as given now does not appear to be much on its face, it is not, in fact, less than 110 per cent. which is latent in the total emolument. We all know that the Unions generally clamour for having a part of D. A. merged into the basic pay, and for obvious reasons. That is for larger contribution to the Provident Fund, Gratuity, etc. But when this is done, as in the present case, the Union wants to use this increase as a stepping stone for further increase. That can never be permitted. Besides, as I have already shown, the trading position of the Company does not appear to be very bright. The Company has placed in a confidential cover its balance sheets for the relevant years. As the Tribunal is pledged to secrecy, it cannot refer to the actual figures in the balance sheets. It is clear that the net profit position is not such as can permit further increase in D. A. by the Company. All that I say is that the special D. A. should be extended to all employees in the manner the Company is giving it at present. So, no further increment in D. A. is allowed.

Issue No. 3.

O. P. W. 1, the Manager of the Company, admits that on the first floor there is a room where the uniforms of the bearers are kept. Previously the Company conceded this claim of the employees for a tiffin room and also undertook to provide for it. Now it has taken the plea that it cannot find out accommodation for the same. I have inspected the premises of the Company along with the representatives of the employer and the employees. I found in the store room meant for keeping uniforms of the subordinate staff that the almirahs containing the said outfittings occupy only a marginal portion of the room which is a pretty big one. The rest of it is, to all intents and purposes, vacant. So I find no point in the resistance offered by the Company against using this room as the tiffin room of the employees. So I give the direction that the Company must make necessary arrangement to provide for the tiffin room of the employees in the said store room either by vacating the entire room for the purpose or in the vacant space left after making accommodation for the almirahs aforesaid.

Issue No. 4

The Union claims provident fund facilities for the sweeper, the dhobi and the paniwala. The Company resists it on the ground that they are part-time workers and, as such, they are not entitled to participate in the provident fund set up by the Company. From the evidence of Kasiram, P. W. 3, I get that he has put in 10 years' service in this Company, and that he works from 8-30 a.m. to 12 noon, and again from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. He does not work elsewhere. He gets Rs. 2 as annual increment and also participates in bonus and leave and holidays as admissible in the Company. So, to all appearances, he is a full-time worker. He contends that he is kept, employed for the remaining hours of the day also. Shri Chintamani Rout, P. W. 4, is the paniwala, and he has put in 12 or 13 years' service under the Company. He also gets annual increment, bonus and leave and holidays. He does not work elsewhere. This being the position, he is to all intents and purposes, a full-time worker. The Manager, O. P. W. 1, could not deny this. All that he says is that he does not get them when he sends for them. This is hardly enough to discredit the positive evidence of the paniwala and the sweeper. So I hold that they are full-time workers of the Company and are entitled to participate in the provident fund scheme. The Company must allow them to so participate.

Regarding the dhobi, the Manager, O. P. W. 1, says that he comes once a week and cleans the uniforms. This dhobi does not come up before the Tribunal to say that he is in the exclusive employ of the Company. That being the position, I cannot say that he is a full-time worker. He is certainly a part-time worker. He is not allowed to participate in the provident fund scheme.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Lakhpat Rai Sampat Rai Sadh, 14 Mullick Street, Calcutta, and one of their workmen, Shri Manick Chand Gupta, represented by National Scientific Glass Works Mazdoor Union, 4 Panchkari Mahato Lane, Salkia, Howrah.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearance:

For the employee: Shri Saroj Ghosal.

For the Company: None.

The above industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication under Government order No. 777-I.R./D/11L-359/56, dated 9th March 1957.

The issue as contained in the schedule to the order of reference stands as follows:—

Is the retrenchment of Shri Manick Chand Gupta justified? To what compensation is he entitled?

AWARD

The Union which took up the cause of Shri Manick Chand Gupta, filed written statement on his behalf. It is the Union's case that on 8th May 1956, all on a sudden Shri Manick Chand Gupta was served with a notice terminating his services. No cause or reason was assigned for such termination of his services. Accordingly, the Union has contended that this retrenchment was illegal and unjustified. So, retrenchment benefit as under law has been claimed on behalf of Shri Manick Chand Gupta.

The Company—Messrs. Lakhpat Rai Sampat Rai Sadh—filed written statement. Its case was that Shri Manick Chand Gupta since 1948 was employed as a Bill Collector at the Head Office, and was drawing Rs. 105 per month. On 7th May 1956, he was sent with money to the Central Bank of India for payments towards some Hundis on the firm, but due to his negligence and carelessness, the Hundis could not be honoured on that date, as there was delay on his part in making the payments. On 8th May 1956, he was interrogated about it by a partner, but at this he became furious and uttered disrespectful language against the firm and also against that partner. On account of such negligence and disobedience which amounted to gross misconduct, his services were dispensed with.

The case was fixed for hearing this day, i.e., 13th June 1957, and the notice of it was duly served upon the Company. But it did not choose to appear before the Tribunal on the date of hearing, although the Union was ready with Shri Manick Chand Gupta, the employee concerned. The Head Office of the Company was rung up, and information was given that the hearing would proceed ex parte, if none turned up to represent the Company. It had no effect. Still the Tribunal waited for the Company till 2 p.m., when the case was taken up for hearing.

Shri Manick Chand Gupta, the employee concerned, has deposed in this case, and he has also proved the letter, which he received from the Company on 8th May 1956, regarding termination of his services from that date. This letter is Ext. 1. On a perusal of that letter, it is abundantly clear that this was a case of retrenchment. The services of Shri Manick Chand Gupta were terminated with effect from 8th May 1956, as his services were no more required by the Company. It is not the case of the Company, as would be evident from that letter, that the termination of services of Shri Gupta was as a result of punishment inflicted by way of disciplinary action. So, there cannot be any room for doubt that the discharge of Shri Manick Chand Gupta did amount to "retrenchment" as defined in section 2(oo) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. In the face of this letter, the Company cannot be heard to say that the services of Shri Gupta were dispensed with for gross misconduct as alleged in paragraph 6 of its written statement. Furthermore, Shri Gupta on oath has categorically denied the incident as stated in that paragraph. He has gone to the length of saying that no such incident as stated in paragraph 6 of the Company's written statement ever took place. On a consideration of the evidence of Shri Manick Chand Gupta and in the absence of any evidence from the side of the Company,

I am of the view that the retrenchment of Shri Manick Chand Gupta was unjustified. The employee, who had been serving the Company since 1948 should not have been removed from service in such a fashion. I do not like to pursue the matter further, as Shri Manick Chand Gupta in his evidence has stated that he has no mind to go back to this Company. Since the employee concerned is not willing to go back to the Company and prays for relief in the shape of compensation for retrenchment, I award him, (i) compensation under section 25F of the Act at the rate of 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service, which is 8 years (that is from March 1948 to 8th May 1956), and (ii) one month's notice pay, as he was not given any notice before his discharge on 8th May 1956.

As his total wage before his discharge was Rs. 105 per month, the total sum payable to him is Rs. 525. The said amount be paid to him within one month from the date of publication of this award in the Calcutta Gazette. As regards his earned wage for 4 months, if due, he may seek his remedy in the appropriate forum.

This is my award.

DECISION.

Hospital Appliances Manufacturing concern manufactures hospital appliances. It has two factories, one at Taltolla and another at Tengra. In the factory at Tengra about 25 workers were employed. Hospital Appliances Manufacturing Company Workers' Union on behalf of the workmen employed in the Company's factory at Tengra, raised the disputes as in Issues 1 to 6. After filing written statement of claim the Union or the workmen conerned ceased to take interest in the matter. On 12th April 1957, when the case was fixed for hearing, the Assistant Secretary of the Union filed a petition for time. On his prayer the case was adjourned to 3rd June 1957. On 3rd June 1957, the Union or the workmen did not take any step. The matter was accordingly proceeded ex parte, under rule 15 of the Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules, 1947. As the Union or the workmen involved did not adduce any evidence or place any materials before the Tribunal in respect of the issues, I find that the reference has become infructuous.

It is awarded accordingly.

AWARD

Decisions

Issue No. 1.—The Unions state in their written statement that "leave and holidays" constituted one of the issues for adjudication before the First Major Jute Textile Tribunal, and this Tribunal by its award in 1948, directed that the number of festival holidays with pay should be 9 in a year in respect of all categories of employees. The same issue was revised by the Second Major Jute Textile Tribunal award in 1951, and the number of festival holidays was increased to 9 with full pay in a year. There was also a direction in the Second Jute Textile Tribunal award that the existing privileges of leave and holidays which were better than the terms of the award should be maintained. The Unions state that the employees of the Union North Jute Mill have been enjoying for the last 30 years 14 days' festival holidays in a year. It is further stated that after the award of the Second Jute Textile Tribunal, the Company allowed 9 days' paid and 5 days' unpaid festival holidays and this was to the prejudice of the employees. It is also stated that the Company now proposes to deny the benefit of 5 unpaid festival holidays to its employees. The Unions, therefore, pray that the Management should allow 5 days' unpaid festival holidays in addition to 9 paid festival holidays without imposing any condition. It is further prayed that the Management should be directed not to require the employees to work extra hours on working days to make up the time lost for grant of the holidays, and the number of unpaid festival holidays should not be curtailed to any extent.

The Company, in its written statement, states as follows: The contentions of the Unions that the employees of the Union North Jute Mill have been enjoying 14 days' festival holidays for the last 30 years is incorrect. Prior to the award of the First Jute Textile Tribunal published in 1948, the workers were allowed 6 festival holidays with pay on the same lines as other Mills in the industry. The Company, due to the representations made by the workers from time to time prior to the commencement of some of these paid festival holidays, by mutual agreement granted, on an ad hoc basis, one day's extra holiday without pay over and above one day's paid holiday during the occasion of some of the important festivals. The maximum number of such unpaid festival holidays granted to the workers never exceeded 5 in any year. Since 5th December 1949, when the Jute Mills, due to restrictions in production, were working 5 days in a week, and remaining closed on Saturdays and Sundays, requests for extra holidays without pay were granted more liberally, because the Company could during that period, sometimes recover the working hours thus lost by working on Saturdays or on a number of occasions these extra holidays fell on Saturdays. The Company further submits that the grant of such unpaid festival holidays was never a condition of service of the workmen, but request for the same was considered favourably as an ex-gratia measure on each occasion by the Company. The First Jute Textile Tribunal awarded 8 festival holidays with pay and the Second Jute Textile Tribunal increased it to 9. Since the publication of these awards, the Company was not in a position to grant any further unpaid festival holidays and endeavoured to follow the award in full. However, on some occasions the workers having agreed to the recovery of the lost working hours by working on a non-working day, the Company granted the request of the workers for extra unpaid festival holidays. On some occasions, however, the workers having promised to work on a non-working day, did not really do so. The Union's contention that the alleged practice of granting 5 unpaid and 8 paid festival holidays existing in the Mill before the operation of the First and the Second Jute Textile Tribunal awards is better than the provision of festival holidays, according to the award, viz., 9 festival holidays with pay, is incorrect. The decision to follow the 9 days standardised festival holidays with pay in the industry as laid down by the Second Jute Textile Tribunal, was in accordance with the policy of the Government of India, that holidays should be standardised and also in accordance with the spirit of the Second Jute Textile Tribunal award. The Company was, however, always willing to grant an unpaid festival holiday to the workers, whenever possible, if they had agreed to recover the lost working hours by working on a non-working day. Prior to October 1952, the workers of this Mill worked on a non-working day in lieu of an unpaid extra festival holiday. But since October 1952, they have been resisting such a recovery of lost working hours. The Company is justified in endeavouring to follow the standardised procedure awarded by the Tribunal in respect of grant of festival holidays with pay. The demand of the Union for 5 unpaid festival holidays in excess of what has been laid down in the award is untenable and the Company is justified in asking the workers to work on a non-working day to recover the working hours lost due to grant of any unpaid extra holiday whenever it is convenient to the Company.

The plea of the Unions is that before the publication of the First Jute Textile Tribunal award in 1948, the workers of the Union North Jute Mill enjoyed 14 days' festival holidays and after the publication of the award of the Second Jute Textile Tribunal in 1951, the Company allowed 9 days' paid festival holidays and 5 days' unpaid festival holidays. The Company now proposes to deny the benefits of the 5 unpaid festival holidays to its employees. The Unions' claim is that the workmen should be entitled to enjoy 5 days' unpaid festival holidays in the year, in addition to 9 days' paid festival holidays and there should be no obligation to recover the lost hours on account of the unpaid festival holidays as the Company wants to insist. The Company's case is that before the award of the First Jute Textile Tribunal in 1948, the Company allowed 6 festival holidays with pay to its workmen on the same lines as the other Mills in the industry in West Bengal. Due to representations made by the workers from time to time, prior to the commencement of some of the paid festival holidays, an extra holiday without pay was granted on some occasion by mutual agreement. The maximum number of these unpaid festival holidays never exceeded 5. Grant of such unpaid holidays was never a condition of service of the workmen. Since the publication of the First and the Second Jute Textile Tribunal awards, the Company followed these awards in full, but at times granted unpaid festival holidays on some occasions to the workers having agreed to recover the lost working hours by working on a non-working day. The workers are not now recovering the lost hours for unpaid festival holidays and they are not entitled to any unpaid festival holidays.

P.W. 1 Chittaranjan Ghosh deposed for the Company and O.P.W. 1 Mr. L. A. Craven, Labour Officer of Bird and Heilgers Group of Jute Mills, deposed for the Company. Documents, Exts. A to C(7) were proved for the Company.

P.W. 1 Chittaranjan Ghosh states that he served in this Mill for 12 years. Before the first award, the workers used to get 3 or 4 paid holidays and the rest were unpaid. After the first award, the workers used to get 8 paid holidays and 6 unpaid holidays and after the second award, the workers used to get 9 paid holidays and 5 unpaid holidays. He also states that this system was stopped in August 1956. It appears that the witness is no longer in the services of the Company, and that he was suspended pending permission of the Tribunal to dismiss him on charges of misconduct, under the Standing Orders. O.P.W. 1 Mr. Craven, states in evidence that before the First Tribunal award, the Company used to give 6 paid holidays according to the recommendations of the Indian Jute Mills Association, and notices were put up to that effect, and that was the condition of service in respect of festival holidays for the workmen of the Mill. The witness also says that no unpaid festival holidays were given as the condition of service by the Mill, but sometimes these holidays were given at the discretion of the Managament. At the request of the workers, the Manager used to grant unpaid festival holidays at times, but that was not a regular practice. The witness further states that after the First Tribunal award, the paid festival holidays were increased from 6 to 8, and after the Second Tribunal award, these holidays were increased to 9 in the year. After the first award when 8 festival holidays were given with pay when the workers wanted extra festival holidays, they were given 4 to 6 unpaid festival holidays on conditions that they would work for the period of unpaid holiday on another day. The witness further states that, if the workers were agreeable to work for the lost hours, the Company could arrange for allowing them unpaid festival holidays for a few days in a year, but they were not agreeable to work for the unpaid festival holidays. It is also stated that the Company is bound by the Working Time Agreement of the Indian Jute Mills Association, according to which the Company has got fixed loom hours and lost loom hours can be recouped only as prescribed by the Indian Jute Mills Association Working Time Agreement, and according to that agreement, working hours lost in a particular week cannot be recovered in a subsequent week and must be recovered in the same week. The documents, Exts. A and A(1), show that the weavers of the Mill having agreed to work on Saturday, 4th October 1952, after the Durga Puja and Moharrum holidays, did not really work on that day and there was a closure of the Mill. At this time, the Mill was working 42½ hours in the week and Saturday was a non-working day. Documents, Exts. B to B(6) show that hours lost by holiday were recovered by working fully on Saturday. These documents relate to the years 1937, 1944, 1945 and 1952. Some of them also show that one of the festival holidays was unpaid and the documents, Exts. B(6) and B(7) for 1952, show that these unpaid holidays were fully recovered by working on Saturdays, which were non-working days at that time. Exhibit C, dated 19th January 1942, shows that the Company notified 6 festival holidays with pay for the year. Documents Ext. D series show that no unpaid festival holidays were given along with the festival holidays of Id-uz-Zuha, Mohurrum and Id-ul-Fitr, as were given in other years. Documents Exts. E, E(1), E(2) and E(3) show that unpaid festival holidays were given in 1949 and 1950, because the Management was approached by the workers for an additional holiday. The documents Exts. E(4) to E(9) also show grant of unpaid festival holiday. Document Ext. G shows the grant of festival holidays of 8 days in the year 1950. Documents Exts. G(3) and G(4) show the grant of 9 days' festival holidays for the year 1954 and 1955.

On a consideration of the evidence as discussed above, it appears that prior to the publication of the First Major Jute Textile Tribunal award in September 1948, the Company granted 6 days' festival holidays with pay to its workers on the same lines as were granted by the other Jute Mills in West Bengal, in accordance with the directions of the Indian Jute Mills Association. It further appears that the Company also granted unpaid festival holidays on an ad hoc basis on some occasions along with the paid festival holidays. According to O.P.W. 1, these extra unpaid holidays numbered 4 to 6 in the year. It appears that after the award of the First Jute Textile Tribunal, 1948, the number of paid festival holidays were increased to 8. By this award, the leave scheme applicable to the workers of the Jute Mills in West Bengal was standardised and all categories of workers in the Jute Mill Industry were granted 8 days' festival holidays with pay. By this award, the following provisions for festival holidays were made:—

> "We direct that all Jute Mills with which we are concerned shall allow the following festival holidays in a year to all categories of employees, viz., two days for Durga Puja, one day for Doljatra or Holi, one day for Kali Puja or Diwali, one day for Id-ul-Fitr, one day for Id-uz-Zoha, one day for Muharram and one day for Fateha Duazdaham".

There was no provision for unpaid festival holidays in this award. It appears that after this award, the Company permitted the workers 8 days' festival holidays with pay in the year and while they allowed also a few days' unpaid festival holidays, they recovered the lost working hours for the unpaid holidays by extra work. The evidence of P.W. 1 Chittaranjan Ghosh is that after the first award, the workers used to get 8 paid holidays and 6 unpaid holidays. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 Mr. Craven is that after the first award, 8 festival holidays with pay was given, and when workers wanted festival holidays, they were given 4 to 6 unpaid holidays in the year on condition that they would work for the period of unpaid holiday on another day. The documents above referred to justify this statement. By the Second Jute Textile Tribunal award, published in November 1951, the festival holidays were increased to 9 in the year. The provision for festival holidays was as follows:—

> "With regard to the subject of festival holidays, therefore, we direct that 9 festival holidays with full pay in a year shall be allowed to all categories of employees, viz., two days for Durga Puja, one day for Doljatra or Holi, one day for Id-ul-Fitr, one day for Id-uz-Zoha, one day for Muharram, one day for Independence Day (15th August), one day for Indian Republican Day (26th January) and one day for Mahatma Gandhi's Birthday, (2nd October)".

In paragraph 9(9), page 1687 of this award, it is stated that if any employee or employees of any particular Jute Mill are enjoying leave or holidays of any character which are better than those that have been provided for in this award, the existing privileges of leave and holidays shall be maintained. The learned Advocates for the Union took their stand on this condition and argued that after the second award, the existing privilege of unpaid festival holidays were curtailed by the employer. The clear meaning of this condition in paragraph 9(9) of page 1689 of the award is that if in any Mill, the existing privileges of festival holidays were better than the festival holidays granted by this award, the existing festival holidays shall be maintained. If the existing festival holidays of 8 paid holidays and 4 to 6 unpaid holidays which were to be recovered by additional work were considered better than 9 clear festival holidays with pay, the workers of the Union North Jute Mill would be entitled to the previous scheme of festival holidays, viz., 8 festival holidays with pay along with 4 to 6 unpaid festival holidays with a condition to recover the lost hours for unpaid festival holidays by additional work instead of 9 festival holidays with pay. It appears that the workers accepted 9 festival holidays with pay, according to the scheme of the Second Jute Textile Tribunal award. They cannot, therefore, in accordance with the condition prescribed in paragraph 9(9) of page 1689 of the second award, claim also 4 to 6 unpaid festival holidays and that without any obligation to recover the lost hours. As a matter of fact, the Company was allowing 4 to 6 unpaid holidays on an ad hoc basis according to the discretion of the Management, only on the assurance that the lost hours in unpaid festival holidays should be recovered by the workers by working on a non-working day. As it appears to me, the workers are at present claiming the benefit of 4 to 6 unpaid holidays without the obligation attached to it. As has been mentioned above, the claim for 9 days of festival holidays with pay as also 4 to 6 days' unpaid holidays with obligation or without obligation of recovering the lost hours, is not justified by the Second Jute Textile Tribunal award, published in November 1951. As the workers have accepted 9 days' festival holidays according to the Second Jute Textile Tribunal award, they cannot claim the previous benefit of 4 to 6 unpaid holidays, which, as I have found on evidence, was attached with the obligation to recover the lost hours. It was also advanced that after the Second Jute Textile Tribunal award, in November 1951, the Company agreed to grant 9 days' festival holidays with pay along with 5 days' unpaid festival holidays, and that the Company was now trying to withdraw that benefit. The Company denies having entered into any such agreement. Its case is that since the publication of the First and the Second Jute Textile Tribunal awards, the Company was not in a position to grant any unpaid festival holidays and followed the awards in full, but they allowed some unpaid holidays on some occasions on the workers having agreed to the recovery of the lost working hours on a non-working day. The evidence on record also justifies the plea of the Company that festival holidays in accordance with the Second Jute Textile Tribunal award was allowed to the workmen, but at times at the request of the workmen, some extra unpaid holidays were granted on condition of recovery of the lost working hours by working on a non-working day. It appears that the Company is not agreeable to follow this procedure. The Company should have adopted the leave schemes of the awards with effect from the dates of their enforcement. The evidence on record shows that the Company in deference to the wishes of the workers, altered the leave schemes of the award at their responsibility and it created some confusion that has resulted in the present proceeding.

Leave facilities were standardised by these two awards. It has been laid down by the Hon'ble High Court, Bombay, in respect of standardisation of wages in the case of Daru (C.T.), reported in 1955(1), L.L.J., 555, that the aim of standardisation of wages is to fix for any one or all of the centres of an industry uniform scales of payment, uniform types of payment for identical types of work, that standardisation involves not only raising of wages but also the lowering of wages, so that all wages should be co-ordinated and should be paid on the same basis and under a scheme of standardisation, no variation in the rates of wages is allowed and all units must pay an uniform wage. The advantages are that it does away with a measure of diversity, which is permissible under minimum wage regulation, and by bringing about a measure of fixity and determinateness in all wage payments. In the same way, facilities for leave, including festival holidays for all units of Jute Textile Industry in West Bengal, were standardised by the two awards and only existing leave facilities which were better than those formulated by the awards were protected. It does not appear that in the Union North Jute Mill, the existing festival holiday facilities were considered to be better than those allowed by the first and the second awards and the provisions of festival holidays as allowed by the first and the second awards were introduced in the Mill and accepted by the workers. The Company at times allowed unpaid festival holidays on condition that the workers would recover the lost hours by extra work. This did not ripen into a condition of service, and depended upon agreements between the parties from time to time. There is evidence on record to justify the conclusion that a condition of service as is claimed by the Union, would be against the interest of the industry and impossible for it to bear. The Mill is bound by the Working Time Agreement of the Indian Jute Mills Association, according to which it has got fixed loom hours and the lost loom hours can be recouped only in the week in which they were lost. If the Mill has to grant extra holidays without recovering the lost hours, it would be in a disadvantageous position than the other Jute Mills, who grant only 9 festival holidays and no more.

In the circumstances, it is awarded that the workers of the Union North Jute Mill are not entitled to unpaid festival holidays in the year without any condition, as claimed. They shall get only 9 festival holidays with pay in the year under the Second Jute Textile Tribunal award as a condition of service. As, however, they were allowed extra unpaid festival holidays to the extent of 5 days in the year on condition of recovering the lost hours, they shall be allowed unpaid festival holidays for a total of 5 days in the year on condition of recovering the lost hours on account of such unpaid holidays, according to the convenience of the Company.

Issue No. 1 is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 2.—There is nothing on record to show that the number of unpaid festival holidays should be curtailed. It is, therefore, awarded that the number of unpaid festival holidays should not be curtailed and should be as allowed in Issue No. 1.

Provided that any such condition may require that the management of an institution shall, wherever practicable, be entrusted to women.

(5) No fee shall be charged for the grant of a licence under this Act.

Licence not transferable.

6. A licence granted under this Act shall not be transferable.

Revocation of licence.

7. Provided that no such order shall be made until an opportunity is given to the holder of the licence to show cause why the licence should not be revoked.

(b) where such appeal has been preferred but the order of revocation has been upheld, from the date of the appellate order.

(3) On the revocation of a licence in respect of an institution, the licensing authority may direct that any woman or child who is an inmate of such institution on the date of such revocation shall be—

(a) restored to the custody of her or his parent, husband or lawful guardian, as the case may be; or

(b) transferred to another institution.

8. (1) Where the licensing authority is other than the State Government, any person aggrieved by an order of the licensing authority refusing to grant a licence or revoking a licence, may within such period as may be prescribed, prefer an appeal to the State Government against such refusal or revocation.

(2) The order of the State Government on such appeal and subject only to such order, the order of the licensing authority shall be final.

Then after adjournments the hearing of the dispute was concluded and award was reserved.

3. The matters of dispute as stated in the schedule to the order of reference are as follows:

(i) Additional bonus for 1954 payable in 1955.

(ii) Pay for the strike period from 10th October 1955 to 12th October 1955.

Decision

For proper appreciation of the case, it is necessary to state certain facts leading to the reference which are as follows:

Hooghly Docking and Engineering Co., Ltd. (hereafter called the Company), is an engineering concern having workshop at 6 Howrah Road, Salkia. The Company which had been previously mainly a ship repairing concern has also been doing new construction work. It employs about 1,400 workmen, of whom 160 are monthly rated clerks and sub-staffs and about 1,240 hourly rated manual workers.

Hooghly Docking and Engineering Workers' Union (hereafter called Workers' Union) represents hourly rated manual workers, while Dock Employees' Union (hereafter called Employees' Union) represents the monthly rated clerks and sub-staffs.

Howrah Iron Works owned by Burn & Co., Ltd., is another engineering concern situated at 8 Nityadhan Mukherji Road, Howrah, at a distance of one mile from the workshop of the Hooghly Docking and Engineering Co., Ltd. Howrah Iron Works employs about 7,000 workmen, of them Burns Employees' Union, represents the monthly paid clerks, the sub-staffs and daily rated Sarkars and Checkers, while Burns Mazdoor Union and Burns Labour Union represent the daily rated manual workers.

Hooghly Docking and Engineering Co., Ltd., as also Burn & Co., Ltd., owning Howrah Iron Works are under the same Managing Agents Messrs. Martin Burn Ltd.

Regarding clerks and sub-staffs represented by Employees' Union.

In the matter of pay, dearness allowance and bonus the clerical and sub-staff of these two concerns were admittedly treated on equal footing. In 1946 Martin Burn Ltd. as Managing Agents of these concerns introduced same scale of pay and dearness allowance according to Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scale for the clerical and sub-staff of these two concerns. They were also being paid same quantum of bonus on the eve of Durga Puja on terms as below:

For Clerical Staff

Service below 1 year	...	Rs. 20 minimum.
Service 1 year up to 4 years	...	½ month's basic pay.
5 years' service	...	5/8 month's basic pay.
6 years' service	...	6/8 month's basic pay.
7 years' service	...	7/8 month's basic pay.
8 years' service and over	...	1 month's basic pay.

Subject to a maximum of Rs. 300 only.

For Subordinate staff

Less than 1 year's service	...	Rs. 10.
1 year's service and over	...	Rs. 10 plus Rs. 1-8 for each completed year of service, subject to a maximum of one month's basic pay.

On 24th July 1953 Shri M. C. Banerji gave award as to bonus on a reference relating to the clerical and subordinate staff of Howrah Iron Works of Burn & Co., Ltd. He directed in replacement of complicated scheme of bonus as aforesaid that bonus should be paid including what had been paid by the Company at one month's basic pay. The Management of Hooghly Docking and Engineering Co., Ltd., extended the benefit of said award to its clerical and subordinate staff and made adjustments accordingly (vide P.W.1). Clerical staff and sub-staff of the Company (Hooghly Docking and Engineering Co., Ltd.) were thus paid bonus at par with the clerical and sub-staff of Howrah Iron Works up to Durga Puja of 1954.

On the eve of Durga Puja in 1955 the clerks and the sub-staff of Hooghly Docking and Engineering Co., Ltd., were paid bonus equivalent to 1½ months wages while and sub-staffs of Howrah Iron Works were paid bonus equivalent to 2 months' wages. Thus for the first time distinction was made in the quantum of bonus between the clerks and sub-staffs of the Company on one hand and clerks and sub-staff of Howrah Iron Works on the other.

Earlier the Employees' Union which represents the clerks and sub-staffs had demanded bonus equivalent to 3 months' basic pay for 1954 to be paid on the eve of Durga Puja in 1955 by their letter, dated 22nd September 1955 (Ext. A). The Company, however, declared bonus equivalent to 1½ months' basic pay by their circular No. 16/55, dated 30th September 1955 (Ext. B). On such declaration of bonus the Employees' Union immediately protested and insisted for additional bonus to make up 3 months' basic pay as previously demanded (vide their letter, dated 3rd October 1955, Ext. 1).

The clerks and sub-staffs of Howrah Iron Works represented by Employees' Union on the other hand had demanded 2 months' bonus to be paid on the eve of Durga Puja of 1955. They resorted to one day's token strike to enforce the said demand. Then on 7th October 1955 through the intervention of the Conciliation Officer there was a settlement between the Management of Howrah Iron Works and the Employees' Union representing the clerical and sub-staff of the said concern whereunder the Management agreed to pay 2 months' basic pay as bonus to the clerical and sub-staff for the year 1953/54 (Ext. 2).

On 9th October 1955 the Employees' Union representing clerical and sub-staff of the Company (Hooghly Docking and Engineering Co., Ltd.) wrote to the Company intimating about the said settlement and saying that as the Management of Howrah Iron Works agreed to pay 2 months' basic pay as bonus to their clerical and sub-staff, the Company should also fall in line as in the past and pay bonus equivalent to 2 months' basic pay to its clerical and sub-staff as in the past the staffs of the two concerns had been equally treated and as no discrimination had been made between them (Ext 1). The Employees' Union requested decision to their demand by 12 noon that day.

There was no response to the said demand and on the contrary a notice was hung up in the early hours on 10th October 1955 informing the clerical and menial staff that there would be no change in the quantum of bonus announced and that the offer of 1½ months' bonus already made should be regarded as final. The clerks and sub-staff were also informed by the notice that payment would be made to the clerical staff on 11th October 1955 and menial staff on 12th October 1955 (vide Ext. B1).

On such rejection of their demand the clerical and sub-staff of the Company resorted to stay-in-strike from 2 p.m. on 10th October 1955. They continued such strike from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. on 10th October 1955 as also throughout working hours on 11th and 12th October 1955.

Regarding manual workers represented by Workers' Union.

Regarding the manual workers of the Company no bonus was paid to them prior to 1948. They were paid bonus out of profit for the first time in 1948 and then in 1949. In 1950 there was loss and consequently no bonus was paid to them. From 1951 to 1954 they were paid bonus on the eve of Durga Puja on the rates as below:

Bonus

Workmen

For the year—

1951	...	...	... 4 weeks' basic pay.
1952	...	...	... 1 month's basic pay.
1953	...	...	... 1 month's basic pay.
1954	...	...	... 6 weeks' basic pay.

The Workers' Union on behalf of the daily-rated manual workers of the Company demanded bonus equivalent to 2 months' basic pay and D.A. for the year 1954 to be paid on the eve of the Durga Puja in 1955 by their letter, dated 30th August 1956 (Annexure A to their written statement). The Company by its letter, dated 1st September 1955, informed the Assistant Labour Commissioner that the matter of bonus for the said year was under consideration and as soon as the final accounts of the said year were published, they would declare the bonus. The Company also informed that the Union which made the demand was not recognised by it (Annexure B to the written statement of the Workers' Union). The Workers' Union again wrote to the Labour Commissioner on 20th September 1955 reiterating the demand and complaining about the delay in the decision about the matter by the Company (Annexure C to the written statement of the Workers' Union). It appears that when the Company instead of discussing the matter with the Workers' Union which it did not recognise, wanted to have the matter discussed in the Works Committee on 26th September 1955, the two members of the Works Committee protested about such discussion in the Works Committee and wanted the matter to the thrashed out directly between the Management and the Workers' Union by their letter, dated 8th September 1955 (Annexure D to the written statement of the Workers' Union). The Workers' Union requested an early conciliation on the matter and as nothing was done, a demonstration of the workers of the Company was taken to the office of the Assistant Labour Commissioner, after which a conciliation meeting was fixed on 30th September 1955. On 30th September 1955 the Company as usual refused to negotiate with the Company.

In the meanwhile on 29th September 1955 the Company announced among others that the permanent workers of the Company having an attendance of 100 days or more during the year ended 31st August 1955, would get 6 weeks' bonus (equivalent to basic wages for 288 hours) and those who had less than 100 days' attendance would get one quarter of the said bonus (Annexure E to the written statement of the Workers' Union). The Workers forthwith made it known to the Company that the said bonus was unacceptable to them.

As the demand of bonus relating to the manual workers was not acceded to by the Company, the manual workers also struck work on 12th October 1955. The Workers' Union also informed on that day the Assistant Labour Commissioner about such cessation of work from 12th October 1955, and the circumstances in which it was done with request for intervention (Annexure F to the written statement of the Workers' Union).

Following strike by the clerical and sub-staff from 10th October 1955 and by the manual workers from 12th October 1955, there was settlement on 12th October 1955 through the intervention of the Conciliation Officer between the Management of the Company and the clerical and menial staff and the manual workers. As none of Employees' Union and Workers' Union was recognised by the Company, two workers on behalf of the clerical and menial staff and two other workers on behalf of the manual workers signed the agreement (Annexure G to the written statement of the Workers' Union and Ext. 3). The terms were as follows:

"(i) It is jointly agreed that all the employees including the staff and the workers will accept the bonus as per notices of the Company, dated 29th September 1955 (No. 15/55) and 30th September 1955 (16/55), on protest and the dispute over 'Additional Bonus for 1954, payable in 1955' will be referred to a Tribunal for adjudication.

(ii) * * *

(iii) The dispute over pay for the period of stoppage of work by the staff and the workers from 10th October 1955 to 12th October 1955 will also be referred to the Tribunal for adjudication, but it is understood that the pay for this period will at present be deducted from the wages of the employees concerned.

(iv) No disciplinary action will be taken by Management against any of the employees for the stoppage of work.

(v) Normal work will be resumed on 13th October 1955."

In pursuance of the agreement the disputes for additional bonus for 1954 payable in 1955 as also wages for the strike period were referred to this Tribunal for adjudication on 2nd May 1956.

Issue No. 1.—Against the aforesaid background the Employees' Union and Workers' Union in their respective written statements of claim filed before this Tribunal, claimed respectively 15 days' wages for monthly-rated clerical and sub-staff and two weeks' wages including D.A. as also D.A. for past 6 weeks (for which only basic wages had been paid) for hourly-rated manual workers, as additional bonus for the year 1954 payable in 1955 to make up two months' wages (which Employees' Union claimed exclusive of D.A. and which Workers' Union claimed as inclusive of D.A.) both as an implied condition of service and out of profit according to Full Bench Formula. During hearing the Employees' Union, however, abandoned the claim for bonus out of profit and restricted it wholly as an implied condition of service.

The case of Employees' Union in this respect shortly is as follows:

As the two concerns—Hooghly Docking and Engineering Co., Ltd. and Howrah Iron Works of Burn & Co. are situated in the same locality and have been under the same Management, the uniformity has been observed in the matter of pay, D.A. and bonus regarding the clerical and sub-staff of the two concerns. The conditions of service and terms of employment of the clerks and sub-staff of the Company (Hooghly Docking and Engineering Co., Ltd.) have been linked with those of clerks and sub-staff of the Howrah Iron Works of Burn & Co., Ltd. Thus, if the clerks and sub-staff of the latter concern obtained any benefit in the matter of pay, D.A. and bonus either by negotiations or as a result of award, such benefits used to be automatically extended by the Company to their clerks and sub-staff without their asking. The clerks and sub-staff of the Company have thus been paid bonus up to Durga Puja of 1954 at par with the clerks and sub-staff of Burn & Co without reference to profit of the Company. It has thus become an implied condition of service of the clerks and sub-staff of the Company to be paid bonus at par with the clerks and sub-staffs of Howrah Iron Works of Burn & Co. As Burn & Co. paid their clerks and sub-staffs of Howrah Iron Works 2 months' wages as bonus, on the eve of Durga Puja in 1955, the Company had no justification to discriminate and refuse same quantum of bonus to their clerks and sub-staffs at the time of the Puja in 1955 as being an implied condition of service. As the clerks and sub-staffs of Burn & Co. were paid 2 months' wages as bonus in 1955, the clerks and sub-staffs of the Company are eligible to get additional 15 days' wages to make up 2 months' wages as had already been paid to clerks and sub-staffs of Howrah Iron Works.

The case of the Workers' Union, on the other hand, is shortly as follows:

Bonus has hitherto been a condition of service of the workmen. Besides, the financial position of the Company during 1954 was very satisfactory. The Company has been extending its production and has made capital expenditure to the tune of Rs. 2,63,833-10 in the year 1954. Along with an improvement in the volume of repair work from last year's account, the volume of new constructions undertaken has shot up tremendously resulting in an advance in the value of the work-in-progress from Rs. 34,18,438 in December 1951 to Rs. 99,36,409 on 31st December 1954. The value of orders in hand on 31st December 1954 for new crafts alone amounted to nearly Rs. 1 crore. Out of a gross profit of Rs. 4,07,263-10-8, only Rs. 2,27,417-0-9 have been declared as net profits. Although the amount of dividend actually distributed out of profit came to Rs. 1,56,250, charges on account of Managing Agency Commission and Allowances amounted to Rs. 1,03,696-4-3 (i.e., about 2/3rds of the former). The financial position of the Company as aforesaid called for a payment of additional bonus to the workers. The Company has been extending its business out of its profits and reserves but has refused to pay a fair share to the workmen in the form of bonus. Then there has been an unfair discrimination in the payment of bonus to workmen and the clerical staff, which is unwarranted.

The Company resisted the claims.

Regarding claim of Employees' Union the Company denied that it was an implied condition of service of its clerical and sub-staff to be paid bonus at the same rate as that of clerks and sub-staff of Burn & Co., Ltd., and pleaded that uniformity, if any, in the matter of pay and D.A. has occurred from its (Company's) endeavour to fix and maintain the scales of pay and D.A. of its workers on an industry-cum-region basis as far as possible and as in that endeavour the Company treated the conditions of service granted by or laid down in the awards of Burn & Co., Ltd., as one of its guides. Regarding bonus, the Company alleged that it had all along in the past paid bonus to the aforesaid staff at the rate of one month's basic salary which had nothing to do with the rate that Burn & Co., Ltd., might have followed in granting bonus to the same category of their workers. The allegation that the payment of bonus to these workers was to be made at the same rate as that of Burn & Co., Ltd., as an implied condition of service is not true. Had there been such service condition the Union would not have laid claim initially for 3 months' basic pay as bonus and reduced it to two months' subsequently.

Regarding claim of workers' Union, the Company denied that the bonus has been a condition of service of the manual workers. It was said that these workers never received any bonus up to 1948. Since 1948 bonus was paid to them only when the Company made profit and in the opinion of the Directors the profits justified such payment. In the year 1950 the Company suffered loss and consequently no bonus was paid to the workers. The Company further denied that its financial position justified payment of additional bonus. It also denied that there has been any unfair discrimination in the matter of payment of bonus between these workers on one hand and clerks and sub-staff on the other. It was said that for the past four years these workmen and clerical and sub-staff were paid bonus at the same rates.

In support of their case the Employees' Union examined its Secretary P.W.1 Shri Bibhuti Bhusan Nandy, an employee of Howrah Iron Works of Burn & Co., and an employee of this Company P.W. 2 Shri Sukesh Chandra Banerji, besides proving documents Exts. 1 to 6. The Company, on the other hand, has examined the Accountant in the Head Office of Martin & Burn in charge of Hooghly Docking and Engineering Co., Ltd., D.W. 1 Shri L. H. Das besides proving documents Exts. A to E1. The Workers' Union has not adduced evidence separately.

The evidence reveals that the clerks and sub-staffs of the Company have been getting same scales of pay and D.A. as those for the clerks and sub-staffs of Howrah Iron Works of the Burn & Co. It also appears that the benefits granted in the matter of pay and D.A. under the award of Shri G. Palit, dated 12th June 1950 and published in the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, dated 12th July 1950, relating to the clerks and sub-staffs of Howrah Iron Works had been extended to the clerks and sub-staff of the Company. Likewise it is not disputed that the clerks and sub-staffs of the Company were given same quantum of bonus as those for clerks and sub-staffs of Howrah Iron Works of Burn & Co., Ltd., and this was so done up to Durga Puja of 1954. The evidence discloses that the benefit of bonus at the uniform rate of one month's wages to all the clerks and sub-staffs of Howrah Iron Works of Burn & Co. as given under the award of Shri M. C. Banerji, dated 25th June 1953 and published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 24th July 1953, was extended to the clerks and sub-staff of the Company without their asking and payments were made to them and accounts were adjusted accordingly. There is also no dispute that these payments of bonus to the clerks and sub-staffs of this Company were so far made without reference to the profit of the Company. In the year 1950 there was loss and D.W. 1 admitted that the clerks and sub-staff received bonus despite the said loss.

From the above facts it has been contended by the learned Advocate on behalf of the Employees' Union that an implied condition of service in favour of clerks and sub-staff of the Company to be paid bonus at the same rate at which the clerks and sub-staffs of Howrah Iron Works of Burn & Co., Ltd., get, irrespective of the question of profit or loss in the trading results of the Company, came into being. The Company, on the other hand, contended from the fact that the Employees' Union initially made demand for bonus of 3 months' wages and persisted for the same on 3rd October 1955 and subsequently reduced the same to two months' only after an agreement had been reached with the Management of Howrah Iron Works, would show that the employees concerned did not themselves treat it as a service condition and even if there had been practice in the past to pay bonus at the same rate, this would not give rise to any implied condition of service which could be enforced. On giving careful consideration to the matter I am unable to uphold the contention of the Employees' Union. It appears that in their first letter it claimed bonus out of profit, and not as a condition of service linked with Burn & Co., Ltd. It further appears that it made demand for 3 months' wages as bonus independently and persisted with such demand till 3rd October 1955, and that even when it demanded same quantum of bonus as was paid to clerical staff and sub-staff of Howrah Iron Works it did not claim it as a condition of service Then regarding uniformity in the matter of pay and D.A. between the clerks and sub-staffs of the two concerns, no special significance can be attached as according to the Company it fixed and maintained scales of pay and D.A. of its workers on an industry-cum-region basis and having regard to the awards of Burn & Co., Ltd. This was in the nature of things not anything unnatural, and would by themselves imply nothing. Wages must be such as those in similar concerns. The employees should also get same D.A. as are in vogue in similar concerns unless the employer has not the capacity to pay. It is, therefore, no wonder that uniformity was maintained in the matter of pay and D.A. in these concerns for clerks and sub-staff.

But the question of bonus stands on different footing and different considerations arise in respect of the same. Bonus in the nature of things cannot be linked or have relation to what prevails in other concerns. This is dependent entirely on the affairs of the Company concerned and of none else. Bonus is payable either out of profit or as a term of employment exclusively with reference to the affairs of the Company concerned. In Muir Mills' case reported in 1955(I) L.L.J., page 1, the Supreme Court held that "claim for bonus can be made by the employees only if as a result of the joint contribution of capital and labour the industrial concern has earned profits. If in any particular year the working of the industrial concern has resulted in loss, there is no basis nor justification for a demand for bonus. Bonus is not a deferred wage". Viewed as such it is obvious that the questions of bonus cannot be linked with any other concern. Bonus as a term of employment or condition of service cannot either be linked with other concern. Viewed as a condition of service or term of employment bonus is practically wages because the employer shall have to give this despite losses. In the case of Maha Luxmi Cotton Mills, Ltd., reported in 1952 L.A.C. 370, the Labour Appellate Tribunal held that "this right is not based on the general principle that labour and capital should share the surplus left after meeting necessary and prior charges, but it rests on agreement between the employer and the workers. That agreement may be either express or implied and where not express past practice may lead to an inference of implied agreement. But for implying an agreement the practice must be in vogue for a sufficiently long period to exclude the hypothesis that payments had been made out of bounty". This too obviously can have reference only to the affairs of the Company concerned. The fact that in the past the clerks and sub-staff of the Company received same quantum of bonus as those of the clerks and sub-staff of Howrah Iron Works of Burn & Co., Ltd., cannot be availed of to raise an inference of its being a condition of service. To raise such an inference the payment must have been made for a long period and continuously despite losses of the Company concerned and not of others. Therefore, even if there was practice of paying the same quontum of bonus, as for clerks and sub-staff of Howrah Iron Works, this cannot give rise to an inference of an implied condition of service in favour of the clerks and sub-staff of the Company. Linking of bonus to other concerns would result in anomalies, as the conditions in the two concerns may not necessarily be identical. If it were to be a service condition, bonus has to be paid continuously despite losses. If it is linked with another concern such payment may not always be maintained. In the present case it appears from different awards relating to clerical staff and sub-staff of Howrah Iron Works of Burn & Co., that bonus is not a condition of service of those employees but is payable to them only out of profit (vide the awards of Shri G. Palit, dated 12th June 1950 and published on 12th July 1950, of Shri M. C. Banerji, dated 26th June 1953 and published on 24th July 1953 and dated 15th September 1953 and published on 8th October 1953 and of this Tribunal, dated 15th April 1957 and published in the Calcutta Gazette, on 9th May 1957). So, if bonus is to be linked with the said concern as claimed, the result will be that the clerks and sub-staff of this Company may not get bonus in the years of loss of Howrah Iron Works. It is, therefore, obvious that bonus as a service condition cannot be linked with other concern. There cannot be a service condition which does not ensure payment of bonus continuously and despite loss. Claim of Employees' Union must, therefore, fail.

Regarding claim of Worker's Union, the evidence shows that manual workers did not receive bonus before 1948. For 1948 and for 1949 the bonus which they received, was out of profit as a result of the awards respectively by Shri P. K. Sarkar and Shri S. C. Chakravarti. Shri S. C. Chakravarti by his award, dated 29th July 1950, found that bonus was not a service condition of the manual workers and that it was payable only out of profit. The evidence discloses, and it is not disputed, that in the year 1950 there was loss and the manual workers did not consequently get bonus for that year. The fact of payment of bonus to them from 1951 onwards cannot be accepted in view of the principles laid down in the case of Maha Luxmi Cotton Mills, Ltd., to be sufficient for raising an inference of its being a service condition, the period of payments being too short and those being all years of profit. The fact of uniformity of pay and D.A. regarding manual workers of the two concerns—Hooghly Docking and Engineering Co., Ltd. and Howrah Iron Works, these being parties to the award of Major Engineering Tribunal in 1948, likewise it could be of no avail in this respect. It has already been noted that bonus to ripen into service condition cannot be linked with other concern. So claim for bonus as a service condition for the manual workers must also fail.

Regarding claim out of profit, it is not disputed in view of the Full Bench Formula approved by the Supreme Court in Muir Mills' case that the claim for bonus by the employees can be sustained if there be available surplus after meeting prior or necessary charges. These charges are: provision for depreciation, provision for rehabilitation, return at 6 per cent. on the paid up capital and return on the working capital at a lesser rate than the return on the paid up capital, besides deduction on account of the income-tax. It has further been found in various decisions that out of the surplus profits obtained, the needs of the employees, the claims of the share-holders and requirements of the industry should be considered in ascertaining what portion should be distributed as bonus. The balance sheet and profit and loss account for the year 1954 out of which bonus is claimed is Ext. E1. It reveals profit of Rs. 1,76,646-6-5 after charging all expenses including depreciation and writing off Rs. 4,500-1 as bad debts. A provision for return at 6 per cent. on the paid up capital of Rs. 12,50,000 would require Rs. 75,000 and provision for return even at 2 per cent. on the reserve of Rs. 21,75,000 would come to Rs. 43,500 making a total of Rs. 1,18,500. After deduction of the amount from the profit, the balance would be roughly Rs. 58,146. From this provision has to be made for taxation as also for rehabilitation. It will thus be seen that there would be no surplus sufficient to grant additional bonus, after meeting all prior charges. The learned representative of the Workers' Union having regard to this did not also seriously maintain that there would be available surplus to justify additional bonus. The picture of the financial position as delineated in the written statement of the Workers' Union, though substantially corresponds to those in the report of the Directors enclosed in the balance sheet of 1954, would, however, be no relevant consideration in the matter—none of the items coming within the scope of the Full Bench Formula. The rate of dividend declared would be of no use. It has been held in the Muir Mills' case that linking of bonus with dividend would create difficulties. It has also been found therein that the workmen have no right or interest in the reserves and the undistributed profits of the previous years. Regarding commission of the Managing Agents about which grievance has also been made, it has been held that this could not be arbitrarily reduced (vide 1952 L.A.C. 148). So, claim for additional bonus out of profit cannot also be sustained.

Regarding charge of discrimination, it appears that bonus at the uniform rate of 1½ months' basic wages without attaching any condition was voluntarily paid by the Company to the clerical and sub-staff, while 6 weeks' basic wages (equivalent to wages for 36 days or 288 hours) were paid to the manual workers having an attendance of 100 days or more and one quarter of the aforesaid bonus to others having attendance of less than 100 days (vide Ext. B and Annexure E to the written statement of the Workers' Union). The aforesaid bonus was paid by the Company both to the clerical and sub-staff and the manual workers having regard to the profits of the year 1954 (vide Company's notices Exts. B1, B2 and B3). In the circumstances, Workers' Union complained, and I think rightly, that there should not have been such discrimination amongst its own employees and that all categories of workmen should have been paid bonus equally and on same conditions. As the clerical staff and subordinate staff were paid 1½ months' basic wages, the Workers' Union claimed that manual workers should be paid additional bonus to make up the said 1½ months' basic wages and without any condition being attached. The claim on this account, it appears, is reasonable and fair. Such invidious distinction, if allowed to continue, it appears, will have serious repercussions on the harmonious relations between the Management and the labour and may affect industrial peace. The Company had no justification to make payments at different rates to the workmen. As the profits out of which bonus was paid were the results of joint efforts of the employees, it is meet and proper that when bonus is voluntarily paid, it should be dsitributed equally, and no discrimination is made amongst the workmen. The fact that the clerical staff and sub-staff are monthly-rated workers while the manual workers are daily-rated would be no ground for unequal payment of bonus to the workmen. Likewise the fact that in the past the monthly-rated clerical and sub-staff were differently paid from the daily-rated manual workers would afford no justification to continue unequal payment. When bonus is paid not as a condition of service but paid voluntarily having regard to the profits as was done by the Company, the Company cannot make payment at different rates and conditions but it has to pay equally and on same conditions to all workmen. To do otherwise, would lead to dissatisfaction among the workers and to industrial disputes. I, therefore, find no justification to refuse same quantum of 1½ months' basic wages as bonus to the manual workers represented by Workers' Union. The Company is accordingly directed to pay additional bonus to the manual workers to make up deficiency of 1½ months' basic wages. The payment is to be made within a month from the date of publication of the award. The issue is decided accordingly.

Regarding clerical staff and sub-staff

Issue No. 2: These workmen resorted to strike from 2 p.m., on 10th October 1955 and continued it up to 4 p.m. on that date and throughout working hours on 11th October 1955 and 12th October 1955, in support of their demand for grant of 15 days' wages as additional bonus in the circumstances already stated at the outset. It has been contended on behalf of these workmen that they had no alternative than to resort to strike and that the strike was justified. The Company, on the other hand, contended that the strike was hasty and unjustified. No doubt right to strike is a fundamental right of the workmen. But then this should not be resorted to without exhausting all means of redress. In the present case when the Company declared bonus of 1½ months' basic wages there was no justification to precipitate a strike on a demand of additional bonus of 15 days without waiting for the results of the conciliation. The Company in its notice, dated 10th October 1955, clearly indicated how it was not possible for it to accede to the demand for additional bonus (Ext. B1). If the workmen were not satisfied they should have moved the Conciliation Officer and waited the results instead of starting strike from 2 p.m. on that date. Merely because the employees of the Burn & Co. struck work and obtained the agreement on 7th October 1955, it would be no precedent to follow. It, therefore, appears that the strike by the clerical staff and sub-staff was unjustified. These employees cannot, therefore, get pay for the strike period.

Regarding manual workers

It appears that they resorted to strike on 12th October 1955 at a time when appeal by them against the award of this Tribunal was pending before the Labour Appellate Tribunal. The appeal, it appears, was filed some time in 1953 and was disposed of on 29th June 1956 (vide Exts. D and D1). Section 24 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, prohibited strike during the pendency of an appeal. Under section 25 of the said Act a strike commenced or continued in contravention of the provisions of section 24 was illegal. The workers also knew that it was an illegal strike. As the strike was illegal, it is obvious that they cannot get pay for the strike period.

This is my award.

BEFORE THE FIRST LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI N. C. CHATTERJEE, Judge.

Appearances:

For the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri S. Sen, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal in the Department of Labour by order No. 1197-I.R./IR/7L-11/57, dated 16th April 1957, referred under sections

7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Luxmi Jute Mills, Ltd., 134 Beliaghata Road, Calcutta (Managing Agents: Messrs. More Brothers, 5 Clive Row, Calcutta), and their workmen, represented by Jute Workers' Federation, 35B Wellington Street, Calcutta, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act to this Court for adjudication.

Schedule.

What relief/compensation the discharged employees are entitled to, due to the closure of the Mill?

The learned Advocate for the Company has raised a preliminary objection that the present reference is incompetent on the ground that the retrenchment due to closure of business is not an industrial dispute and that this Court has no jurisdiction to adjudicate the reference as the subject-matter of dispute falls under item No. 10 of the Third Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act.

The Union opposes the ground.

Now the points for determination are—

(1) Whether retrenchment of workmen due to closure of a business is an industrial dispute?

(2) Has this Court got jurisdiction to adjudicate this dispute?

AWARD

Decision

Point No. 1: In support of this contention reliance is placed upon the ruling reported in 1957 Supreme Court Appeal, page 57 (The Barsi Light Rly. Co., Ltd., vs. K. N. Joglekar and others), wherein it has been held that retrenchment connotes in its ordinary acceptation that the business itself is being continued but that a portion of the staff or labour force is discharged as surplusage. The termination of services of all workmen as a result of the closure of the business cannot, therefore, be described as retrenchment. In that case their Lordships of the Supreme Court disallowed compensation under section 25F to the appellants as they were held not retrenched within the meaning of that expression as defined in section 2(oo) of the Act. Nowhere therein it was held that retrenchment due to closure of a business is not an industrial dispute. Disallowance of compensation to retrenched workmen due to closure of a business necessitated the passing of an Ordinance which has since been enacted as an Act limiting compensation to 3 months' average pay, etc.—

> " 'Industrial dispute' means any dispute or difference between employers and employers, or between employers and workmen, or between workmen and workmen, which is connected with the employment or non-employment or the terms of employment or with the conditions of labour, of any person."

In this case all workmen are said to have been thrown out of employment due to closure of business. This is a dispute connected with the non-employment of the workmen in the Mill, as such it is an industrial dispute, no matter whether the Mill is closed partially or fully. And furthermore, provision has been made by the Legislature for adjudication of such disputes by Tribunals (vide item No. 10 of the third schedule to the Act). Very often questions may arise as to whether closure of an establishment resulting in mass unemployment is a bona fide or mala fide one and these being industrial disputes should be gone into by Tribunals. It is therefore held that the present dispute is an industrial dispute.

Point No. 2: The Labour Court is empowered by section 7 of the Act to try disputes specified in the second schedule to the Act. No dispute arising out of a closure of an establishment is specified under second schedule. Third item of the second schedule relates to discharge or dismissal of workmen including re-instatement of or grant of relief to, workmen wrongfully dismissed. This dispute does not fall under this item. In this connection it is necessary to refer to the proviso to section 10(d) of the Act which lays down as follows:—

> "Provided that where the dispute relates to any matter specified in the Third Schedule and is not likely to affect more than one hundred workmen, the appropriate Government may, if it so thinks fit, make the reference to a Labour Court under clause (c)."

In paragraph 1A of the Company's written statement workmen said to have been thrown off by the closure of the Mill figure as about 1,200. This figure is not challenged by any counter-statement. Thus as the dispute relating to the closure of the Mill specified in the third schedule has affected about 1,200 workmen, the reference cannot legally lie with a Labour Court. This ousts the jurisdiction of the Labour Court. This is a dispute triable by an Industrial Tribunal.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Krudd Industries Ltd., Sodepur, 24-Parganas, and one of their workmen named Shri Shivapada Das, represented by Krudd Industries Workers' Union, Sodepur Station Road, Sodepur, 24-Parganas.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri K. K. Kapani, Industrial Relations Advisor of the Company.

Present for the Union: Shri M. Saha, Advocate.

1. By Government order No. 2250Dis./D/10L-13/56, dated the 28th May 1956, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, presided over by me, for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947). The said Fifth Industrial Tribunal was constituted under section 7 of the Act by notification No. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1951.

2. The reference was received here on 31st May 1956. The Union filed written statement on 28th July 1956. The Company filed written objection on 25th August 1956. After several adjournments the case was taken up for hearing on 4th June 1957 on preliminary legal points. The award was reserved.

3. The issue contained in the schedule to the order of reference stands as follows:

Is the dismissal of Shri Shivapada Das justified? To what relief is he entitled?

AWARD

4. The Company pressed for a hearing of the legal objections raised by it before taking up the case on its merits. As the said objections went to the root of the matter and made the case legally untenable or so, I proceed to consider the matter strictly on legal points of view. If it is found tenable, then the case will he heard on merits. And if it is found otherwise, the case will be rejected.

Two objections have been placed by the Company, viz., (1) that Shivapada Das was a dismissed worker, admittedly. So he is not a "workman" under the definition of "workman" in the Act. As such, the case is not an industrial dispute, and consequently the present Tribunal is not competent to adjudicate upon it, (2) that it is an individual dispute as distinguished from a collective dispute and, as such it is outside the jurisdiction of the Industrial Tribunal to adjudicate upon it because it is not an industrial dispute as defined in the Act. So, in that view also the case is not legally tenable.

Regarding the first point, I do not accept the Company's contention. A dismissed workman, though not discharged during the dispute, can still be a "workman" under the Act. As such, the dispute raised by Shivapada will be an industrial dispute. The learned officer conducting the case of the Company presumably has in view the case decided by Shri P. R. Mookerji, Tribunal, viz., the case of the Caltex (India) Ltd., reported in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 14th April 1949. There it was held "When a dispute starts only after discharge, it cannot be converted into an industrial dispute unless certain special circumstances come into existence". Similar is the observation of Shri Trevor Harries in the case of India Paper Pulp Ltd., reported in the I.F.J.R., Vol. I (1949-50) at page 44. His Lordship observed:

> "The dispute must be between employers and workmen, and not between employers and dismissed workmen, though an exception is made in the definition of 'workmen' in the case of workmen discharged during a dispute. If a dispute has commenced and during such dispute workmen are discharged a dispute between such discharged workmen and their employers would be an industrial dispute.....If the discharge caused the dispute, then obviously the dispute had not arisen until the moment of or after the discharge."

This view did not hold good. As far back as 1949, Their Lordships of the Federal Court of India, in the case of Western India Automobile Association versus Industrial Tribunal, Bombay, and others, decided that a dismissed employee can very well claim relief as a workman under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (vide Indian Factories Journal, 1949-50, Vol. I, page 97). Their Lordships observed:

> "It will be curious result if the view is taken that though a person discharged during a dispute is within the definition of the word 'workman', yet if he raises a dispute about dismissal and reinstatement, it would be outside the words of the definition in connection with employment or non-employment'."

Their Lordships further observed

> "The words are of the widest amplitude and have been put in just a position to make the definition thoroughly comprehensive..... The words 'in connection with' widen the scope of the dispute and do not restrict it by any means."

That a discharged workman can raise a dispute was also the decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of State of Bombay versus D. K. Patkar and others as reported in 1952 L.L.J., Vol. I, page 23. If any doubt remains on the score, that will be dispelled by the recent decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the case of Central Provinces Transport Service, Nagpur, versus Raghunath Gopal Patwardhan, reported in the Factories Journal Reports, December, 1956 at page 298. Their Lordships have held that the definition of "employee" includes an employee who has been dismissed. An application for reinstatement is, therefore, maintainable by a dismissed employee. Though this was the decision under the Central Province and Berar Industrial Disputes Settlement Act of 1947, yet the observation seems to hold good in general to cover the case like the one before me. So, I am unable to uphold the contention raised on behalf of the Company on this head.

The second contention of the Company that the dispute is not an industrial dispute because of not having a collective nature, seems to be fatal to the Union's case. Mr. Justice Mack of the Madras High Court, in the Kandal Mills Ltd. case (I.F.J.R. 1949, page 217) observed "The Industrial Disputes Act was never intended to provide a machinery for redress by a dismissed workman or even a group of workmen who may be simultaneously punished or dismissed. They cannot by joining in a demand for reinstatement create an industrial dispute after their dismissal. If such a dismissal, however, of an individual workman is taken up by the Workers' Union or a substantial body of workmen who continue in employment and espouse his cause, an industrial dispute may arise". The observation of Lord Shaw in Conway versus Wade (1909)A.C. 506 is also pertinent. His Lordship observed "An individual dispute originally may come to be a subject in which sides are taken and may develop into a situation of a general aspect containing the characteristics of a trade dispute, but until it reaches that stage, I cannot hold that a trade dispute necessarily exists". In the case of National Association of Local Government Officers versus Bolton Corporation (1943) (A.C. 166) it was observed that a mere adoption by the Union of an individual dispute will not do. The workmen must back up the Union. There could be an industrial dispute over the retrenchment of a single individual worker, if that dispute had been converted into a collective dispute by the Union acting on bhealf of the workmen in general, and by the workmen backing up the Union by obeying the call to come out or strike. I have referred to these observations just to show that an individual dispute as such is outside the ambit of an industrial dispute which alone can be decided by the Industrial Tribunal. Only when such a dispute has been espoused by the Union, and the workmen have actively joined in such support by the Union, the dispute sheds its "individual" character and becomes a collective dispute. Then it is adjudicated by the Industrial Tribunal because it then becomes an industrial dispute. To this effect is the pronouncement of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the case of Central Provinces Transport Services, Ltd., Nagpur, as already referred to. Their Lordships held:

> "Notwithstanding that the language of section 2(k) is wide enough to cover a dispute between an employer and a single employee, the scheme of the Industrial Disputes Act does appear to contemplate that the machinery provided therein should be set in motion, to settle only disputes which involve the rights of workmen as a class and that a dispute touching the individual rights of a workman was not intended to be the subject of an adjudication under the Act, when the same has not been taken up by the Union or a number of workmen."

So the decisive point would be in this case whether the dispute which was admittedly an individual dispute has been espoused by the Union on behalf of the workmen comprising it, and whether the workmen have overtly signified their active support of such a man. For that I have to turn to the evidence led on the present matter.

Turning to the evidence, I find from the Annexure B to the Company's written statement that on the 10th June 1955, i.e., immediately after the occurrence, Shivapada Das authorised Nripen Dey, the General Secretary of the Murarka Paints Workers' Union, Sodepur, to proceed on legal ways about his case, as stated in his letter to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Barrackpore. This Union is not the Union in the works concerned. So it is not competent to represent Shivapada Das, let alone espouse his cause. The Ext. 2 relates to the letter of Shivapada authorising the Krudd Industries Workers' Union to conduct his case against the Company. This was on 13th February 1956. On 14th February 1956, as per the Ext. 1, I get that Nripen Dey writes to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Barrackpore, that his case has been taken up by the Union for representation. This makes it clear that even up to February 1956 what Shivapada and the Union had in mind was not the case of the dispute being espoused by the Union, but only to represent it before relevant quarters. In the Ext. 3, dated 16th June 1956, we find Nripen Dey writing to the Joint Secretary, Government of West Bengal, that the order of reference might be so construed that the dispute still remained as an individual dispute though, as a matter of fact, it had been pressed and pursued by the workmen of the Company through the Union. So he wanted to have the order of reference corrected. His prayer for correction of the order of referene was rejected by the State Government by its letter, dated 28th June 1956, Ext. 5, on the ground that the Union was already representing him before the Tribunal. All this is subsequent to the order of reference which is dated 28th May 1956. From this it is clear that when the order of reference was made to the Tribunal, legal brains might have been requisitioned, and attempts were made to transform the individual dispute into a real collective dispute. That it is a clear afterthought is transparent enough. The learned Advocate of the Union said that he could adduce oral evidence to show that they approached the Company and made verbal requests on behalf of Shivapada. Had this been a fact, we could have got reference to it in some of the correspondence before us, ranging over a year from the date of the dispute. But this is conspicuous by its absence even in the Ext. 3 which is subsequent to the date of reference. So I cannot attach any importance to such contention of making out a colletive nature of the dispute by oral evidence. This being the position, I find that the dispute in question was out and out an individual dispute right from the beginning up to the end except instances of the Union having stepped in now and then for the purpose of vicarious representation on behalf of Shivapada. That falls short of establishing the collective nature of the dispute which is essential here. So I hold that the order of reference is not tenable, and is liable to be rejected. It is rejected accordingly. I do not go into the merits of the case in this view of the matter.

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal, a complaint was filed before it against the said Company by Shri Tarapada Sircar, a workman of the said Company, alleging that the said Company had altered to the prejudice of the said workman the conditions of service applicable to him immediately before the commencement of the said proceedings;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, filed by Shri Tarapado Sircar, 1/2 Rustomji Parsi Road, Cossipore, Calcutta, an employee of Messrs. National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., 5 Rustomji Parsi Road, Cossipore, Calcutta, against the aforesaid Company (Case No. 37 of 1957, under section 33A) in connexion with the case which was referred to this Tribunal under Government order No. 1691Dis./D/10L-42(A)/56, dated the 25th April 1956.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Assistant Labour Adviser of Messrs. Engineering Association of India.

For the workmen: Shri N. Sengupta.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act by Tarapado Sircar who was placed under suspension by National Carbon Co. (India), Ltd., pending enquiry into the alleged act of theft and permission of the Tribunal to dismiss him. During the period of suspension he was not to receive any wages. The worker has prayed for a direction on the Company to pay his wages.

The application is opposed by the Company.

Suspension pending enquiry and permission of a Tribunal to take punitive action is no punishment. Such suspension cannot be considered to be in contravention of section 33. This view has been held in numerous cases. Reference may be made to the cases reported in 1955, II, L.L.J., page 693, 1955, L.A.C., page 495 and also to a Supreme Court decision reported in 1957, 1, L.L.J., page 17. The worker in this case wants the Tribunal to pass an order for payment of his wages. As section 33 has not been contravened the relief in the form prayed for is not within the scope of this Tribunal. The application is accordingly rejected.

Mitra Bros., 47/2 Gariahata Road, Calcutta-19, and their workman Shri Parimal Kumar Dey, represented by the Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal, 7 Padmapukur Road, Calcutta-20, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order being matters specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the First Labour Court;

And whereas the said First Labour Court has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Mitra Brothers, 47/2 Gariahata Road, Calcutta-19, and their workman Shri Parimal Kumar Dey, represented by the Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal, 1 Padmapukur Road, Calcutta-20, under Government, order No. 1127-I.R./IR/11L-110/57, dated 11th April 1957. (Case No. VIII-C 7/57.)

BEFORE THE FIRST LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI N. C. CHATTERJEE, Judge

Appearances:

For the Union: Shri Nikunja Behari Dutta, General Secretary, Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal.

For the Company: Shri Benoyendra Nath Mitra.

The Government of West Bengal in the Department of Labour by order No. 1127-I.R./IR/11L-110/57, dated 11th April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Mitra Brothers, 47/2 Gariahata Road, Calcutta-19, and their workman Shri Parimal Kumar Dey, representated by the Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal, 1 Padmapukur Road, Calcutta-20, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act to this Court for adjudication:

SCHEDULE:

(1) Whether the Management is justified in discharging Shri Parimal Kumar Dey.

(2) Whether he is entitled to reinstatement.

(3) Whether he is entitled to compensation equivalent to 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service.

(4) Whether he is entitled to privilege leave, casual leave and sick leave.

AWARD

Decision

The case of the Union is that Shri B. N. Mitra is the proprietor of Messrs. Mitra Brothers carrying on jewellery and watch repairing business at 47/2 Gariahata Road, where Shri Parimal Kumar Dey was employed as an assistant watch mechanic from the year 1942 to 10th June 1956 on a pay of Rs. 80 per month. On 10th June 1956 Parimal was discharged all on a sudden without assigning any reason. He was not charge-sheeted nor was any enquiry held. The Union therefore urges that the dismissal of Parimal is quite illegal and unjustified. The Union seeks to recover one month's salary in lieu of notice and salary for 28 days as privilege leave due for the last 2 years and gratuity at the rate of 15 days' wages for each year of completed service from 1942 to 1956. The total claim is thus laid at Rs. 634-8.

The Company has put in a written statement denying the material allegations in the Union's written statement and has affirmed that Parimal worked up to 14th May 1956 when his services were terminated and he was paid his salary up to 10th June 1956 in lieu of one month's notice. It is further stated that he was paid a further sum of Rs. 15 ex gratia. The Company has taken a further plea that the work of Parimal was unsatisfactory and though warned he could not improve his method of work, so his service was dispensed with. The workman is not entitled to any gratuity, nor to any privilege leave as he enjoyed fortnight's leave every year during the Puja holidays and also 17 days' leave with full pay in 1954 and 1956. The claim of the workman is therefore untenable and should be dismissed.

In this case there is practically oath against oath—as the workman's evidence is pitted against that of the Proprietor. It is common ground that Parimal Dey was employed in this shop from 1942 and worked there till about the middle of 1956 at a pay of Rs. 80 per mensem. It is said that he started on a pay of Rs. 18 per month which was gradually enhanced to Rs. 80 per month. There is, however, dispute between the the parties as to the exact date up to which he actually worked. On behalf of the Company, it has been said, supported by a "khatta" account Ext. A, maintained by Parimal himself, that he worked up to 13th May 1956, whereas Parimal says that he worked up to 10th June 1956 and his services were terminated abruptly at 12 noon on 10th June 1956. Parimal, however, could not produce any satisfactory evidence oral or documentary to show that he actually worked up to 10th June 1956. There is nothing beyond his own oral testimony on this score which should be deemed to have been outweighed by the aforesaid "khatta" account showing his attendance up to 13th May 1956. I therefore hold that Parimal really worked up to 13th May 1956.

Now, the point is whether the discharge of Parimal is justified.

The Company seeks to justify his discharge on the ground of his inefficiency, but there is absolutely no evidence beyond the oral testimony of the Proprietor (B. N. Mitra) himself that in spite of warning Parimal did not improve his method of work. No written warning was conveyed to Parimal, nor is there any independent evidence to corroborate this plea of inefficiency on the part of Parimal. Therefore it is incumbent upon me to hold that the plea of inefficiency against Parimal is not proved. That being so, the discharge of Parimal seems to be nothing short of an unfair labour practice and is thus quite unjustified and illegal.

Now comes the question of relief. The workman has claimed gratuity at the rate of 15 days' wages for each year of completed service. The provision in section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act has enumerated the relief admissible to a workman at the time of his retrenchment.

Retrenchment is defined in section 2(00) of the Industrial Disputes Act as follows:—

" 'retrenchment' means the termination by the employer of the service of a workman for any reason whatsoever, otherwise than as a punishment inflicted by way of disciplinary action, but does not include—

(a) voluntary retirement of the workman; or

(b) retirement of the workman on reaching the age of superannuation if the contract of employment between the employer and the workman concerned contains a stipulation in that behalf; or

(c) termination of the service of a workman on the ground of continued ill-health."

The instant discharge of Parimal does not strictly fall within the ambit of the term "retrenchment" as defined in the Act. Therefore Parimal cannot be allowed strictly the retrenchment benefit as laid down in section 25F of the Act. It should be borne in mind that Parimal put in a service of about 12 years under the Company and in all fairness and equity, his discharge being quite unjustified, he deserves some compensation for his loss of service. I think it fit and proper that he should be given compensation equivalent to his 3 months' pay, i.e., Rs. $80 \times 3 =$ Rs. 240 only.

As regards his claim for one month's pay in lieu of notice, it appears that Parimal was paid for the full month of May 1956 in spite of the attendance register showing his attendance up to 13th May 1956. It is also admitted in evidence that he was paid Rs. 15 on 11th June 1956. Parimal says that he was given this sum as his commission for selling one Omega watch No. 13305617 as evidence by the letter of guarantee Ext-1. The Proprietor, on the other hand, contends that this was an ex gratia payment. There is no reliable evidence to establish on which account this sum of Rs. 15 was paid to him. Admittedly no notice for the termination of his service was given; so under law he is entitled to one month's notice in lieu thereof, one month's pay. As he was given full pay for the month of May 1956 though he worked up to 13th May 1956, he was paid 17 days' salary in excess over his dues for his work up to 13th May 1956 and so he becomes entitled to another 13 days' pay which comes up to Rs. 34-10-8 towards which he was paid Rs. 15 on 11th June 1956. So he is still entitled to recover Rs. 19-10-8 being the balance of one month's salary due to him in lieu of one month's notice.

Next, I come to Parimal's claim for salary of 28 days' unenjoyed leave for his last 2 years' service. On behalf of the Company, the Proprietor has deposed that no holiday is due to him as he has enjoyed 17 days on full pay each year during his entire period of service. On the contrary, the workman has said that privilege leave for 28 days for the last 2 years is still due to him under the provision of section 12(a) of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act, 1940. For the last 2 years he has claimed 28 days' pay amounting to 74-8-0 in round figure. Beyond the oral testimony of the workman himself there is no evidence to establish that he did not enjoy the entire leave due to him. His mere oral statement does not inspire confidence in me so his claim on this score is disallowed for want of adequate proof. A word need be said about the workman's claim for reinstatement. Nowhere in the written statement, the workman has claimed reinstatement. Though during his deposition he says that he wants to be reinstated. To the contrary, the Proprietor is not willing to take him in on the ground of his inefficiency. In the interests of the business and for maintenance of harmonius relationship between the employer and the employee, I do not think reinstatement should properly be granted.

To sum up, the workman is found entitled to Rs. 240 as compensation for loss of service + Rs. 19-10-8 being balance due for a month's salary in lieu of notice = Rs. 259-10-8 in all. The Company must pay this sum of Rs. 259-10-8 to the discharged workman within a month of the publication of this award.

This is my award.

AWARD

Issue No. 1.—It relates to the refusal of employment to the nine workmen mentioned in the order of reference. All these nine workmen were charge-sheeted by the Company and after proper enquiry on receipt of their explanation to the charge-sheet, they were dismissed from service on 18th December 1956. The Union's case is that these employees were victimised for their Union activities and the alleged charges were false and fabricated and they were prepared in order to get rid of these men. The defence of the Company, before this Tribunal, is a denial of the above allegations. It contends that the charges, of which due explanations were received from the workmen, had been proved beyond doubt, before an enquiry in which the workmen had full opportunity to defend themselves. This Tribunal, therefore, should not interfere with the decision of the Management who alone is responsible for maintaining internal discipline in its labour force. The workmen examined themselves before this Tribunal, and denied the charges levelled against them. The Company, on the other hand, examined the Proprietor, his son, and the Manager as well as another employee, at present in service, to prove that the charges were true, and proper enquiry was held after obtaining explanations from the workmen concerned. The enquiry proceedings is marked as Ext. A and the replies to the charge-sheets, etc., of the workmen are marked as B to B(8). The photos, Exts. G to G(9), corroborate the evidence of the Proprietor, his son, who is an Engineer, and the Manager. The evidence shows that the charges relate to incidents which had happened before the strike, and also those taken place after the strike had commenced. It shows that the incidents occurring after the strike are confined to (i) obstructing the supervisory staff of the Company, including the Proprietor, from entering into and leaving the factory premises, and (ii) abusing in filthy language the Proprietor and his son, and also the Manager of the factory. The photographs taken by Shri Basak, the Engineer, show that these workmen were actually obstructing the Proprietor's car by surrounding it in front of the factory gate. It further shows that the workmen were squatting and lying down in front of the gate actually obstructing the ingress of the supervisory staff into the factory. A number of G.D. entries at the police-station [Exts. 1 to 1(3)] support this story. Therefore, it is impossible to hold that there is no evidence in support of the finding made by the Management after enquiry into the charges against these workmen. Neither is it possible to say that it was not the possible view on the evidence before the Management. The learned Advocate for the Company invites a reference to a decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Buckingham Carnatic Ltd., reported in 1952, L.A.C., p. 490 and contends that this Tribunal should not interfere with the Management's decision in this matter, and should refrain from substituting its own judgment for the judgment of the Management. I have considered the evidence of both sides on this point, and have considered it in the light of observations made by the learned Labour Appellate Tribunal in the said case. I am satisfied that there was no want of bona fides on the part of the Management in this matter, and that there was no violation of the principles of natural justice. In fact, the relationship between the parties up to the strike was very cordial, and so the question of the victimisation or unfair labour practice does not arise. Neither has it been proved before this Tribunal. Therefore, I would not be justified in entering into detail scrutiny of the evidence on the charges, and to see for myself whether the charges were proved. The strikers are, no doubt, entitled to peaceful picketing during the strike, but they are not entitled to participate in acts of violence of any sort, or resort to disorderly conduct with a view to putting the Management to harassment and loss in the business. There is positive evidence on the side of the Management to show that these nine workmen did, in fact, deliberately cause obstruction to the supervisory staff in the performance of their lawful duties during this strike. They also indulged in violence and disorderly conduct by abusing the supervisory staff. That cannot be condoned. All these workmen had been rightly charged with gross misconduct. The Management, with their knowledge and experience of the problems which confront them in the day-to-day work of the concern, ordinarily ought to have the right to decide what the appropriate punishment should be meted out to the workmen. The Tribunal can interfere with its decision only when it is shown that the punishment is so unjust that a remedy is called for in the interest of justice. No such case has been made out on behalf of the workmen. Accordingly, the Tribunal is of opinion that the refusal of employment to the nine workmen concerned was justified, and they are not entitled to any relief in this case. This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 2.—The workmen went on strike with effect from 13th September 1956, and rejoined their duties on 22nd October 1956. They remained out of work during this period. They now claim suitable compensation from the Company for this period of unemployment. The Union's case is that the workmen were provoked by a highly arbitrary action of the Management to resort to this strike and suffered losses in wages as a result of the stoppage of work. The Management wrongfully kept them out of work from 22nd September 1956, when they called off the strike, and reported themselves for duty. The Management is, therefore, liable in law and equity to compensate them for all losses which they sustained during the entire period of unemployment. The contention of the Company is that this strike was wholly unjustified so much so that it resulted in a pecuniary loss to the Company to the extent of Rs. 48,000. So, the workmen are not entitled to any wages during the strike period and/or any compensation for this stoppage of work.

The period of unemployment in dispute can be divided into two as follows:—

(i) from 13th September 1956 to 21st September 1956,

(ii) from 22nd September 1956 to 21st October 1956.

P.W.9. Shri Ganesh Das, the Vice-man, was suspended without a charge-sheet on 12th September 1956. This led to an agitation by the workers who demanded the withdrawal of the said order. The workers resorted to strike on and from 13th September 1956, when the Management refused to withdraw the said order of suspension. Then both the Union and the Management reported to the Labour Commissioner about this strike. It appears that the Assistant Labour Commissioner, acting as the Conciliation Officer in the dispute, asked for a joint conference on 22nd September 1956, and advised the workers to resume their duties immediately in the interest of industrial peace. The Manager in his letter, dated the 14th September 1956 (Ext. 3), addressed to the Joint Secretary of the Union asked the strikers to stop all the illegal activities and to call off the strike immediately. This was followed by a notice [Ext. E(4)], dated 15th September 1956, in which the Manager directed the workmen to join their duties by 18th September 1956 failing which they should be treated as having abandoned their services without notice. The workmen were further directed to join thir duties by signing a bond of good behaviour in terms of the specimen mentioned in the said notice. The workmen reacted at this and sent a joint representation to the Manager on 19th September 1956 (Ext. 5 in which they reiterated their demand for withdrawal of the aforesaid suspension order and for permission to resume duties with full pay for the period of the strike). In the meantime the workmen, acting on the advice of the Conciliation Officer, reported to duty at the factory gate on the morning of 22nd September 1956. The Company refused them permission to join their duties without signing the bond of good behaviour as demanded in the notice. The workmen declined to execute such a bond, and so they had to go back. It is in the evidence of P.W.1. Shri Tulsi Bose, that on that day they went to the factory gate at 8-45 a.m. but they were not allowed to enter into the factory gate. They reported this fact to the Manicktolla police-station. They brought the police on the same day and the Police Officer contacted the Proprietor over the phone and asked for permission to allow the workers to join their duties. The Proprietor did not deny this in his deposition before this Tribunal. The Union did not give any strike notice to the Management, and the strike was also not called off with notice in writing to the Management. It is further in evidence that from that day onward, the workmen reported to the factory gate every day till they were taken in on 22nd October 1956. The Union's case is that this strike was called off the moment the workmen reported for duty at the factory gate at 8-45 a.m. on 22nd September 1956. The Company's case, on the other hand, is that the strike continued, and it was not called off, for a strike can only be called off in writing by the Union representing the workmen in the dispute. I am unable to accept this contention as correct. There can never be better evidence of intention of the workmen to call off the strike than their joint action in reporting themselves for duty at proper time and at proper place. The Management, for reasons not known, wanted a written information to this effect from the Union, as also demanded a bond of good behaviour from all the strikers as a condition precedent to rejoining their duties. The question now is whether the workmen are entitled to any compensation for the period of strike, viz., 13th September 1956 to 21st September 1956. During this period the workmen remained out of work of their own choice. If in consequence they had suffered any loss in wages, during this period of unemployment, they themselves were clearly responsible for it. They cannot have both ways. The Management cannot be held liable for this loss. This strike cannot be said to be in any way provoked by any high-handed action of the Management, for Shri Ganesh Das was suspended, only when he was said to have insulted the Manager, by insulting remarks and refusing to sign the receipt of charge-sheet. No other demand of the workmen was formally placed before the Management when this incident took place. Both the Manager and Shri Das have deposed on this point. The workmen in a body held a demonstration and meeting, and decided to go on strike unless the Management withdrew the order of suspension on Shri Das. The Union's decision to this effect was not communicated to the Manager before the strike was launched. The workmen did not wait to negotiate for settlement of the dispute with the Management, and took this precipitate step to coerce it to come to terms. The Management is certainly within its right to enforce discipline among its labour force, and can legitimately issue charge-sheet to a workman, when necessary. It is said on behalf of the workmen that the Manager was compelling Shri Das, one of the so-called seven leaders of the Union, to sign a blank paper when he came to know that a demand for Puja bonus was placed before the Management. The Company's witnesses, including the Manager, denied their knowledge either of the formation of the Union, or of the demand of this Puja bonus. In fact, this demand letter was received on 14th September 1956, and not before that. There is nothing in writing to show that the Management had previous notice of the formation of this Union, and of this demand for payment of Puja bonus. In these circumstances, it cannot be presumed that the Management was out to victimise Shri Das for his alleged Union activities for compelling him to sign on a blank paper.

The question now is, whether this strike was justified. It was not illegal, for, it was not launched in violation of the provisions of sections 22, 23 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It appears, however, that this strike was resorted to without any attempt to settle the dispute amicably, or through the machinery set up under the Industrial Disputes Act, for its conciliation. The workmen acted hastily, and their action does not appear to be justified on the facts and in the circumstances of the case. That being so, I am inclined to hold that this strike was unjustified.

The workmen having decided to abstain from work, in their own interest, cannot in fairness or reason ask the Management to pay them any wages for the period of the strike. Ordinarily, there can be no pay for no work unless, of course, there is contract to the contrary. The workmen cannot take any advantage out of their own wrong, and cannot reasonably demand compensation for any loss in wages they suffered. In my view, they are not entitled to any wages or compensation during this period of strike.

Now the question is, whether they are entitled to any compensation for the period commencing from 22nd September 1956 to 21st October 1956 during which time they were kept out of work. The Union demands full compensation for this period contending that the Company had without reasonable grounds kept them out of work in the face of their unconditional offer for service.

The Company denies its liability on facts and in law, and also denies that the Union called off the strike by a notice to the Company and the workmen reporting to it before 22nd October 1956. Shri P. R. Mukherjee's contention is that the strike was not terminated to the knowledge of the Management and, accordingly, the Company was under no obligation to pay any compensation for loss in wages during this period of non-employment. He formulated the following points with reference to section 318 of Ludwig Teller's Labour Dispute and Collective Bargaining, Vol. II, page 849:—

(i) The strikers were liable to be dismissed for the strike was not the result of any unfair labour practice committed by the employer;

(ii) The employer is within his right to refuse them work; his subsequent act of courtesy to take them back in service would not justify the action of the strikers;

(iii) The employer did not allow them to join for justifiable reasons. At best, it was a lock-out for which no compensation was recoverable in law.

The following facts have been established in this case on evidence and on admission of the parties, viz.—

(1) The workmen remained out of work till 21st October 1956;

(2) The factory remained idle during this time;

(3) No new hands were taken in by the employer to carry on the work in the factory;

(4) The workmen reported to duty at the factory gate on the 22nd September 1956, and on the 8th October 1956 pursuant to notice issued by the Company which the Proprietor in his letter, dated 9th October 1956, admitted to the Assistant Labour Commissioner; and

(5) The Company demanded in the notice issued by it that the workers should execute a bond of good behaviour in the form mentioned therein as a condition precedent to their rejoining duties. Exhibits 3(a) and 3(b) are the same as Ext. E(4). Exhibit E(6) is the notice of the Company, dated 2nd October 1956.

Both parties examined witnesses on the above points, and it is clear beyond doubt that the workmen acting on the advice of the Conciliation Officer, reported to duty at the factory gate in the early morning of the 22nd September 1956. They were refused entry into the factory and the police was informed about the matter. The Police Officer contacted the authorities over the phone, when he was told that the workers could only join on signing a bond of good behaviour, a copy of which was available at the factory gate. The workmen, however, did not like the idea of signing a bond, and so they could not join. During the strike period, the Conciliation Officer was trying to resolve the strike by settling it amicably. The Management disregarding his advice insisted on the execution of a bond, till the 9th of October, after which they yielded on this point, on the eve of the reopening of the factory. Now, the question is, whether on these facts and circumstances, the workmen are entitled to get suitable compensation for the loss sustained by them during the period of non-employment between 22nd September 1956 and 21st October 1956. On more than one occasion the workers made it clear to the knowledge of the Proprietor that they had withdrawn the strike, and were willing to rejoin their duties. The Proprietor, however, insisted on the execution of a bond, in form Ext. 3(b), before allowing any worker to return to work. This bond of good behaviour appears to be altogether a new condition of service. The question is, whether on the termination of a strike, in the foregoing circumstances, the employer is entitled to impose a new condition for allowing the strikers to return to work. Shri P. R. Mukherjee's contention throughout is, that the whole body of workers was liable to dismissal, and the employer was under no obligation to reinstate them in service after the termination of the strike.

The employer was within his right to refuse them work, and lock them out, since the strike was not launched in consequence of any unfair labour practice on his part. I have very carefully considered the arguments advanced by the learned lawyer for the Company, and also the reference to paragraph 318, at page 849, of Ludwig Teller's Labour Disputes and Collective Bargaining, Vol. II. The reference to section 318 appears to be beside the point. The issue discussed there was, whether under certain conditions, an employer is under an obligation to reinstate the striking employees, when he had already taken in new hands for carrying on the work of the factory. In the dispute before us, the admitted fact is that the employer kept the factory idle during the whole period of the alleged strike, and did not employ a single new hand in place of a striker. So the point discussed in paragraph 318 is of no help in adjudicating the present issue in this dispute. The legal position has been very clearly stated in a full bench decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal, in the case of Ram Kisna Iron Foundry, reported in 1954 L.A.C., p. 73. The said decision was followed in the Spencer & Co.'s case, reported in 1956 1, L.L.J., p. 714. It is clear from the above that the workmen cannot be dismissed for joining a strike, which is not illegal, but which is simply unjustified, and that the strike does not, by itself, put an end to the relationship of employer and employee, nor can an employer discharge a workman for his mere participation in a strike, which is not illegal, as in this case. The employer, in this particular case, did not dismiss any workman on account of his participation in the strike. On the other hand, he permitted them all to join, except Shri Ganesh Das, on 22nd October 1956. My conclusion on a consideration of the facts and circumstances before me is that the Company did refuse work to the workmen on and from 22nd September 1956. The next point is whether it had any reasonable ground to do so. It was only after the 9th October, prior to which the machineries had remained idle for over two weeks, that the Company asked for a mistry to attend in advance of other workers, in order to bake the machineries, which was necessary for proper functioning, after a period of idleness, in moist weather. This condition was not placed before the workers when they first reported to duty on 22nd September 1956. The contract of service between the employer and employees remained good during the period of the strike. So the employer has no right to inject any new condition, prejudicial to the workers, in the original contract of service. A bond of good behaviour has got a peculiar history behind it. This is usually demanded under certain provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code by Magistrate from persons of bad character and habitual criminals, with a view to prevent commission of crimes. It is always associated with the idea of punishment of habitual criminals and men of dangerous character. Its execution leaves an indelible stigma on the character of its executant. Further, such a bond is never known to be a part of a worker's normal contract of service in any industrial undertaking in this country. Therefore, when a bond of good behaviour was demanded and its execution was insisted upon, disregarding the advice of the Conciliation Officer in this matter, the workers resented and backed out. Good conduct is, no doubt, essential in every sphere of work and factory is no exception. But then, a bond of good behaviour demanded, for the first time, after the strike, as a condition of rejoining duties was not only looked upon with suspicion but with an unknown fear. As already stated, the employer had no reasonable grounds, much less any right, to impose such an objectionable condition of service to the workers. The Company had failed in its endeavour to show any semblance of justification for refusing employment to the strikers when they unconditionally offered their services to it. I am, therefore, unable to accept the contention urged by Shri P. R. Mukherjee in this case.

Now, what is the effect of refusal to accept an offer of performance of work made by the employees in this dispute? Section 38 of Indian Contract Act lays down the following:—

> "Where a promisor has made an offer of performance to the promisee, and the offer has not been accepted, the promisor is not responsible for non-performance, nor does he thereby lose his rights under the contract.
>
> Every such offer must, however, fulfil the following conditions:—
>
> (i) it must be unconditional;
> (ii) it must be made at a proper time and place, etc."

It has been contended, on behalf of the Company, that the strike was not called off by a notice in writing, nor it was duly communicated. As already stated above, the strike was not launched with notice to the Management, but the Management was informed that its action in suspending Shri Das was arbitrary and that the order should be withdrawn. It was not told that the workmen should go on strike in case of non-compliance with the request. Accordingly, there is no point in demanding from the Union a notice in writing calling off the strike. The offer of performance of work was unconditional and made at the proper time and place. The Proprietor had full knowledge of it. He refused the workers' entry into the factory only when they did not agree to execute a bond of good behaviour. No other ground was taken till at a late stage during the period of non-employment refusing the employees to return to work. In my opinion, this action of the Management in refusing permission to the workmen to resume their duties on and from 22nd September 1956 was in the circumstances unjustified. The workers remained out of work on and from 22nd September 1956 primarily due to this unhelpful and unrealistic attitude of the Management. They suffered loss in wages during this entire period. They claimed compensation for the same, and, in my opinion, are rightly entitled to it. This may be considered to be a case of temporary lock-out by the Management, without any justification whatsoever, and the workers, excepting Shri Das who joined duties on 22nd October 1956, are entitled to a compensation equal to 50 per cent. of the total basic wages and dearness allowance. The Company suffered loss in production and, in alleged cancellation of contracts. Considering the fact and circumstances of the case, and the respective losses of both parties, I think, this amount of compensation is adequate. The Company should pay it for the entire period commencing from 22nd September 1956 to 21st October 1956, except for such weekly holidays as may intervene during this time. This payment shall be made within a month from the date of the publication of the award. I answer this issue accordingly.

Issue No. 3.—The workmen, through their Union, demanded by letter, dated 10th September 1956, a Puja bonus at the rate of two months' wages from the Manager of the Company. The demand was not conceded and was followed by a strike from 13th September 1956. The same demand was pressed for adjudication in this case. The contention of the Company is twofold, viz., (i) it never paid any bonus either customary or on profit basis except in 1955, when it was paid more as an incentive for work than on profits; and (ii) it was a year of loss and, as such, the workmen were ill-advised to put in this demand.

The learned Advocate for the Union did not seriously press this claim, and left the matter entirely in the hands of the Tribunal.

The approximate cost of this demand is Rs. 6,460 and odd only. The question is whether the workers are entitled to it. It appears from the evidence of Shri B. Basak that the Company has been suffering losses since 1948 except in one or two years when there were some profits. In 1954, there was a profit of Rs. 2,000, and in 1955, the year in review, the net profit as shown in the Balance Sheet (Ext. D) was Rs. 5,221 and the total of the loss up till now was Rs. 20,000. This is a proprietory concern, and the Proprietor Shri C. L. Basak devotes his whole time in this business. He does not take any remuneration from this business for paucity of funds. But he says that he is entitled to get a remuneration of not less than Rs. 300 per month, i.e., Rs. 3,600 a year from it. The following deductions are to be made from the trading profits, in order to find out, whether there is available surplus profit for payment of this bonus:

(i) Income-tax;

(ii) A fair return on capital actually utilised at 6 per cent.; and

(iii) A fair remuneration to the Proprietor who devotes his whole time to the business.

Rehabilitation charges should also be deducted, where necessary.

The Deductions work out as follows:

Income-tax Rs. 1,795, return on capital Rs. 840, remuneration to the Proprietor Rs. 3,600.

These three items amount to Rs. 5,235. Accordingly, deductions on account of these charges leave no surplus for payment of any bonus to the workers. In fact, the Company did not pay any bonus to its staff except in 1955. In any view of the matter, the workmen are not entitled to any bonus for 1956. This issue is accordingly answered.

This is my award.
